WILDEST DAY IN HISTORY OF STATE SENATE

WIN POINT ON ENEMIES

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Senate Republicans won a tactical victory late today over a compactly organized Democratic majority. Five hours of riotous conduct, an approach to physical violence, and a temporary armistice which extends until next Tuesday, marked the day's proceedings.

The session was declared the wildest in the history of the legislature, not excepting the day John Henry Miller was thrown out of the speaker's chair in the house by the Sherman crowd in 1903.

The big thing achieved by the Republicans was a formal promise made by Senator Kent E. Keller, who was made chairman of the elections committee of seventeen senators to pass upon the Oak Park and Englewood cases, that an effort would be made to begin the actual recount of the ballots in the two districts not later than 10 o'clock Monday morning in Chicago.

Wild Scene in Senate.

This action within the elections committee followed the tumultuous proceedings on the floor, which all but led to the physical overthrow of Lieut. Gov. O'Hara as the presiding officer of the senate.

This was averted only by the lieutenant governor ordering the old time senate messenger, T. B. Scouten, to force Senator John Dailey and twenty fighting Republicans into their seats.

"Sit down, boys, or I will lose my job," was Messenger Scouten's argument and it had immediate effect. Scouten is the only Republican among the senate employés. The sergeant-at-arms did not attempt to enforce O'Hara's order.

Dailey Starts Reading Protest.

Orders had been issued directly to the sergeant at arms to quiet Senator Dailey, who was standing on a desk reading in an angry voice the protest which the rump session of the senate had adopted last night. The rump session was the result of the lieutenant governor's refusal to permit a roll call on a Republican move in the election contest case.

Nearly all of the Republican senators fought their way to the front of the senate and organized a ring around Dailey. O'Hara was pounding his gavel madly, demanding order. The Democrats were standing on their desks and in their chairs shrieking for a roll call on a resolution which had been offered by Senator Gorman of Chicago.

Galleries, jammed to the limit with members of the house, women, and state house attachés, could not keep up with the proceedings. Divided into Republican and Democratic gangs, each of the gallery crowds was shrieking wildly while the senators were giving a correct imitation of the board of trade on a wobbly market day.

Fist Fight Threatened.

Nobody knew what the Gorman resolution was. Nobody could hear it and nobody cared while the battle was on. The Republican senators dared Sergeant at Arms Fahey, Messenger Scouten, or anybody else to touch Dailey. The Democrats started across the middle aisle and there was every probability that there was to be fighting. Women on the senate floor with their husbands ran for the outside aisles.

Scouten finally was ordered by the lieutenant governor to restore order. Then he delivered his ultimatum to the Republicans as Senator Dailey finished crying out the Republican rump session protest.

Senator Dailey fell back in his seat, shoved about by a squad of husky Republicans, and quiet was restored for a second.

Reaction Is Staggering.

Secretary Eden of the senate was forcing the reading of the Gorman resolution. It proved not to be the proposition the Republicans were worried about. Gorman had an earlier resolution, providing for the seating without delay of the two Democrats in the two districts in question. This one was disclosed as a resolution of sympathy in the death of the brother of Senator Daniel Herlihy of Chicago.

The reaction was staggering. A moment earlier the galleries had been

Greiner Sues Thomas Miller for $50,000

Hush! 'Tis a Secret What For—Marital or Business.

RACER DIVORCED

"Art" Greiner has another secret. He has exacted solemn promises from his lawyers and the employés of his lawyers not even to hint the nature of the secret to their own families. Mr. Greiner took such pains to keep his secret a secret that he kept his whereabouts last night a secret from the newspapermen.

This latest and most secret secret of Arthur W. Greiner concerns a suit filed in the Superior court yesterday against Thomas M. Miller for $50,000. Only the præcipe was filed. Whether the suit is the outcome of a business deal or marital events is yet to be learned.

Wed at Crown Point.

Arthur W. Greiner, besides being well known as an automobile racer and dealer, with offices at 122 South Michigan avenue, in January, 1911, married, it is said, Miss Gladys Sykes at Crown Point, Ind.

He denied the rumor and so did Mrs. Gladys Sykes Greiner. "Art" Greiner was able to keep his secret by renting a flat at 4257 Grand boulevard under the name of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Burns.

Then that secret leaked out.

In May, 1912, Mrs. Gladys Sykes Greiner decided to sue for divorce. Instead of their true names appearing in the divorce bill Greiner's name appeared as "William Grener" and his wife as "Madolin Grener." Then in signing the decree the wife signed her real name and the judge discovered it. He scored all concerned and refused to enter the decree until their right names were placed on the bill.

Then around October of the same year Greiner suddenly rushed to New York and remarried his former wife.

Secret Suit for Divorce.

Almost a year later Mrs. Greiner secretly filed a bill in the Circuit court. Since that time Greiner has been seen at his place of business and in his usual haunts daily until the $50,000 suit.

Mrs. Greiner is playing, with her two sisters, at the Amsterdam theater in New York.

"Is the man named in the bill the Thomas H. Miller, secretary of the Eastman Coal company, who lives at the Congress hotel?" Mr. Greiner was asked.

"Well, I'll admit that much," he replied.

WROTE NOTE BRINGING WAR; QUITS OFFICE

HUNGARIAN IN PLACE.

War News of Last 24 Hours

GERMAN official statement says allies were driven from trenches near Nieuport; claim other gains.

RUSSIANS resume advance in East Prussia, aided by frozen lakes; also win in vicinity of Rawa.

ADVANCE force of Turkish army takes Tabriz, Persia, after Russians evacuate city; Persia protests to allies that its neutrality has been violated.

(By Cable to the Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 13.—Count Leopold von Berchtold, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs whose note to Servia precipitated the world war, has resigned.

His resignation has caused a sensation in diplomatic circles, as it was not dreamed he would quit while the war was in progress, for it was considered that such action might suggest that his policy had fallen into disfavor. More significant than his resignation, however, is the announcement that he is succeeded by a Hungarian, Baron Stephan Burian.

Hungary, while at one with Austria in regard to the principle of the war, has shown dissatisfaction with the manner in which it has been prosecuted. While Austro-Hungarian troops have been utilized to prevent a Russian invasion of Germany and even have been employed against France, Hungary has been left open to invasion.

Hungarian Premier Protests.

Count Tisza, the Hungarian premier, on several occasions gave utterance to this dissatisfaction, and finding that his complaints were not heard at Vienna took them to Berlin, where he had an audience with the German emperor.

Although it was said that after this trip the interests of Hungary were given more attention, Count Tisza did not stop his agitation, and in a speech on New Year's day complained that Hungary's position had not been fully recognized.

Insisting upon military and political harmony between Hungary and Austria and Germany, he said pointedly that the Hungarian nation must assume the place it deserved in consequence of its material and moral strength, its active energy, and the fact that all its interests, aspirations, and desires were in complete accord with the true interests of the monarchy.

Rebuked by Vienna Papers.

The Vienna papers took Count Tisza to task for this speech, one of them, Die Zeit, saying it was impossible to reply on account of the censorship. The appointment of Baron Burian suggests, however, that the emperor has decided to give Hungary a greater voice in the government of the country.

Baron Burian was at one time Austro-Hungarian minister of finance, so that he has had some experience in the larger problems of the monarchy and latterly he has been Hungarian minister to the royal court—evidence that he is in royal favor.

Count von Berchtold on a number of occasions, both before and after the Balkan wars, had asked Emperor Francis Joseph to relieve him of office. But the continued unsettled conditions which followed the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina made this impossible.

Statement by Official Paper.

The Vienna Fremdenblatt announces the resignation of Count von Berchtold in the following statement:

"Count von Berchtold, who for a long while desired to retire and who had asked the Emperor to relieve him of his office, renewed the request. The emperor, recognizing the important personal reasons moving the foreign minister to take this step, has granted his request."

Police Watch Fox Trotting at the Blackstone

Gleason May Summon Hotel Managers Where Dancing Is Permitted.

TO TEST LAW IN COURTS

Chief of Police Gleason last night revived the campaign against public dancing in hotels and cafés in the same rooms where liquor is sold by instructing the commanding officers in the second police district to gather evidence of terpsichorean activities taking place after 11 p. m. The purpose of the roundup of forbidden fox trotting, one-stepping, and waltz cantering was to back up summonses which may be issued today against some of the hotel and restaurant proprietors who fall under the ban.

Especially singled out for attention, according to information from police circles, were the Blackstone hotel, the Congress hotel, and the Café du Lac.

Finds Trotting at the Blackstone.

Manager Drake informed a TRIBUNE reporter that dancing would continue unless definitely stopped by the city authorities.

"We saw Mayor Harrison about dancing some time ago and it is understood that the city will hold off action until legal points are decided," said Mr. Drake.

Cafe Du Lac Quiet.

"Of course, if we are summoned to court we will obey. Had the police taken a list of our dancers they might have found quite a distinguished gathering."

At the Café du Lac, Michigan avenue and Eleventh street, no dancing was found in progress, but Assistant Manager Bruder stated that if persons wanted to dance they were at liberty to do so.

At the Congress hotel it was stated that there has been no public dancing for a long time.

Dancing at the States.

The States restaurant at midnight had an illuminated sign in front proclaiming public dancing every afternoon and evening.

Also at the Stratford (which has an amusement license) there were numerous couples trotting in one of the cafés.

The Hotel La Salle abandoned dancing several weeks ago. Vogelsang's announce "dancing from 10:30 to 1," but only one couple was sedately waltz cantering when visited by a reporter.

Several of the smaller outlying cafés have taken advantage of the defy issued to the city by the loop hotel men and have announced dancing. The Woodlawn and Bristol on the south side have cleared spaces for would-be trotters, but last night no one availed themselves of the privilege.

Crowds at the Gardens.

At the Midway, the Green Mill, and Bismarck gardens dancing was in full swing with big crowds present.

So far as was learned last night there is no intention on the part of the police to back up patrol wagons and haul the dancers to the Night court. Whatever procedure is taken will be solely in the way of formal court proceedings against the managements of the respective establishments unless Chief Gleason changes his attitude.

ANONYMOUS YOUNG WOMAN TO GIVE CITY PLAYGROUND.

Offers Park Board Plot Worth $50,000, but Her Identity Is Concealed at Her Request.

Who is the young woman who is going to make Chicago a gift of a $50,000 playground?

Through an intermediary, the prospective donor has made known her intention to Commissioner Bertram M. Winston of the Lincoln park board. It was discussed at a meeting of the board yesterday, and Commissioners Winston, Rehm, and Austrian were named as a committee to arrange for the establishment of the playground under the supervision of the park commissioners.

The young woman desires to make the gift as a memorial to her father.

"I don't know who the young lady is and I wouldn't disclose her name if I did," Mr. Winston said. "Premature publicity might result in the city losing the gift."

DENY ATTACK UPON DOVER.

Port Officials Say Rumor of Sinking of Two German Submarines Was False.

DOVER, Jan. 13.—The port authorities deny the report current today that two German submarines were fired on and sunk by the coast batteries off Dover.

Zone Affected, Damage Done by Great Earthquake in Italy.

AREA OF QUAKE ZONE—The center of the disturbance was between Campobasso and Sarno. It was felt at Naples and as far north as Ferrara. The provinces of Rome and the Abruzzi were severely shaken. Rome and Naples damaged.

DAMAGE IN ROME—Famous column of Marcus Aurelius broken and in danger of falling.
Palazzo Chigi badly damaged.
Farnese palace, occupied by French embassy, and Palazzo del Drago, occupied by American ambassador, further damaged.
Colonnade at St. Peter's square damaged, together with house once occupied by sisters of the late pope.
Facade of Church of St. John Lateran damaged, together with statue of the Savior. Lateran palace, with Profane museum, shaken until walls are cracked.
Churches of St. Charles Catinari, St. Andria Fratte, and St. Agatha of Goths damaged.

DAMAGE IN OTHER PLACES—Avezzano reported almost completely destroyed with loss of 8,000 lives.
Pofi—Half of city destroyed.
Aielli—One thousand persons reported killed when whole town was razed.
Aquila—Hospital collapsed and many persons killed. Total may reach forty.
Aserta—Many houses destroyed.
Among the other places at which loss of life occurred were Monterotondo, Zagarolo, Torre Cajetani, Galiano, Veroli, Tivoli, and Giuliano.

MANY TOWNS ARE IN RUINS; ROME DAMAGED

Injured List May Reach 20,000 in Whole Central District.

NAPLES IS A VICTIM.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Jan. 14, 4:05 a. m.—One thousand persons have been killed and 500 injured by the earthquake which completely destroyed the small town of Aielli to the east of Rome, according to a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. Magliano also was destroyed.

BULLETIN.

NAPLES, Jan. 13.—Father Alfani, director of the Pompeii observatory, says the earthquake appears to have been most disastrous for a radius of more than one hundred miles.

He fixes the center of the disturbance in the province of Potenza.

Communication with the town of Potenza has been interrupted and a great disaster there is feared.

(By Cable to the Chicago Tribune.)

ROME, Jan. 13.—Twelve thousand persons were killed by an earthquake which spread destruction throughout central Italy early this morning. The number injured is estimated at 20,000.

In Rome itself the quake was the most severe in history. There was an immense amount of damage done to many of the most famous structures in the city, but the loss in life was small.

The suburbs suffered severely and it is estimated that at least 100 persons were killed in the immediate vicinity of the capital.

DOZEN TOWNS DESTROYED.

At least a dozen towns scattered over the central provinces are known to have been destroyed or greatly damaged. Many other places have been cut off from communication with the capital, and it is feared the results of the upheaval will grow when they are heard from.

From below Naples in the south to Ferrera in the north, a distance of more than 300 miles, and across almost the entire width of the country the movement continued for a considerable period.

In Rome it was thought at first that two shocks had occurred, but the seismographic instruments in the observatories showed there was only one, which, beginning at 7:55 o'clock in the morning, lasted from twenty-two to thirty seconds.

TOWNS HIT BY DISASTER.

Some of the places in which the disaster had its greatest effect, so far as is known now, follow:

AVEZZANO—The town was almost completely destroyed with the loss of 8,000 lives. One thousand persons escaped from the ruins, but most of them were injured.

SULMONA—Abruzzi barracks broken down, causing death to five soldiers and wounding many others.

VILLALAGO—Twenty persons killed and many injured. Most of town and many surrounding villages razed.

POFI—Town half destroyed.

MONTEROTONDO—Three persons killed and two injured. Property loss reported to have been large.

ZAGAROLO—Dome of the famous church destroyed and many houses thrown down.

TORRE CAJETANI—Village almost wholly destroyed.

VEROLI—Two persons killed and two injured. Property loss large.

TIVOLI—One person killed.

POGGIO NATIVO—One person killed and many injured.

GUILIANO—Two persons killed. Property loss large.

CASERTA—Many houses destroyed.

WILL ADD TO DEATHS.

It is expected that this list will be increased greatly when it is possible to hear from other towns in the great district affected.

As dispatches began to filter into the city it became known that the temblor was strong over the whole of the province of Rome and the Abruzzi and that it was severe around the neighborhood of Naples.

The only definite word received from Aquila, the ancient fortified city in the Abruzzi, is in regard to the collapse of the hospital, and it is feared the damage will be extended.

Potenza, capital of the province of the same name, on the eastern declivity of the Apennines, which has a population of nearly 20,000, has been isolated. In 1857 it was almost destroyed by a quake.

FAMOUS PLACES DAMAGED.

Rome suffered the destruction of many structures and statues famous the world over and many the objects of interest to thousands of American visitors.

The column of Marcus Aurelius is in danger of falling. At a point about half way up it has been broken and twisted until it is at least six inches from its true axis. The immense bronze statue of St. Paul on top of the column also inclines to one side.

The beautiful bas-reliefs have been irreparably damaged and possibly the column will have to be pulled down.

ST. PETER'S OBELISK DAMAGED

The obelisk in St. Peter's square was shaken and badly damaged, and the famous colonnade decorating St. Peter's square was lowered four feet while the walls of the adjacent house, once occupied by the sisters of Pope Pius X., was badly cracked.

The buildings on both sides of the Porta del Popolo, the north entrance to Rome, threatened to fall, and the eagle decorating the gate crashed to the ground.

The Palazzo Chigi, one of the most famous in the city, has been badly damaged.

FARNESE PALACE HIT.

Historic buildings on the Piazza Colonna, in the center of the city, were damaged, as was also the famous Farnese palace, occupied by the French embassy.

The belfry of the Church of St. Andrea is in danger of falling and the building has been surrounded by a cordon of police to prevent the people from approaching it.

The facade of the Church of St. John Lateran was damaged and the statue of the Savior, which is fifty feet high, was twisted out of plumb.

DOME OF CHURCH CRACKED.

In the Lateran palace, especially that part occupied by the Profane museum, the earthquake caused cracks of sufficient size to permit outside light to penetrate.

The dome of the church of St. Charles Catinari was cracked.

A large piece of the cornice of the Jesuit Church of St. Ignatius broke and fell with a crash which added to the fright of the persons in the neighborhood.

At the capitol two magnificent candlesticks fell and were broken.

AMERICAN EMBASSY DAMAGED.

At the Palazzo del Drago, where Thomas Nelson Page, the American ambassador, lives, several cracks in the building which already had existed opened wider and plaster fell in several of the rooms. The glass was broken in the embassy office.

The hall of the chamber of deputies was cracked.

Among other edifices damaged were the Churches of St. Andria Fratte and St. Agatha of the Goths, the latter being the oldest church of Teutonic origin in Rome.

POPE BENEDICT AT MASS.

Pope Benedict was reciting the thanksgiving after the morning mass when the shock occurred. The pontiff retained his composure and gave orders immediately that the damage both inside and outside the vatican be ascertained and requested a report whether assistance was required.

PEOPLE RUSH TO CHURCHES.

When the shock was felt frightened people rushed into the churches, but the police ordered them out of those which were in danger of collapsing.

In all the churches in the city, after the shock had subsided, special prayers were offered for deliverance from disaster.

The telephone girls did their best to meet the emergency. A system of gathering and giving information was hurriedly inaugurated and the girls are taking a leading part in this work.

PANIC AT NAPLES.

It is reported that many houses fell in Caserta, northeast of Naples.

All the glass in the observatory on Mount Vesuvius was broken.

Little is known of the extent of the damage in the towns surrounding this city, but couriers have arrived from several of them asking that doctors and medicines be dispatched to aid the injured.

STOPS PRAYER FOR DEAD.

In the Church of the Divine Providence here sisters were praying around the bier of a dead nun when the first tremor of the earthquake caused one of her arms to move.

The sisters at first cried out that a miracle of resuscitation had taken place, but simultaneously the candlesticks and crucifixes in the chapel began falling. Then they realized what was happening and rushed, terror stricken, to the street.

Great crowds of the city's people also fled into the thoroughfares. They formed into processions, reciting the litany of the saints. Many of the people in their excitement declared the earthquake was a punishment for the sins of men who are fighting against their brothers in the European war.

TOWNS DAMAGED BY QUAKE.

Following is a list of some of the towns and cities in Italy which were more or less damaged by the earthquake:

AQUILA, a city of the Abruzzi, the capital of the province of Aquila and the seat of an archbishop, 2,360 feet above the sea level, fifty miles directly northeast of Rome and 145 miles by rail. Population (1901), town, 18,494; commune, 21,261. It lies on a hill in the wide valley of the Aterno, surrounded by mountains on all sides, the Gran Sasso d'Italia being conspicuous on the northeast. It is a favorite summer resort of the Italians, but is cold and windy in winter.

In the highest part of the town is the massive citadel, erected by the Spanish viceroy, Don Pedro de Toledo, in 1534. The church of St. Bernardino di Siena (1472) has a fine renaissance facade by Nicolo Filotesio (commonly called Cola dell Amatrice), and contains the monumental tomb of the saint, decorated with beautiful sculptures and executed by Silverstro Ariscola in 1480.

The church of St. Maria di Collemaggio, just outside the town, has a very fine Romanesque façade of simple design (1270-1280) in red and white marble, with three finely decorated portals and a rose window above each. The two side doors are also fine. The interior contains the mausoleum of Pope Celestine V. (d. 1296), erected in 1517. The town also contains some fine palaces.

The municipality has a museum with a collection of Roman inscriptions and some illuminated service books. Outside the town is the Fontana delle novantanove cannelle, a fountain with ninety-nine jets distributed along three walls, constructed in 1272.

Aquila has some trade in lace and saffron, and possesses other small industries. Aquila was founded by Conrad, son of the Emperor Frederick II., about 1250, as a bulwark against the power of the papacy. It was destroyed by Manfred in 1259, but soon rebuilt by Charles I. of Anjou. Its walls were completed in 1316, and it maintained itself as an almost independent republic until it was subdued in 1521 by the Spaniards, who had become masters of the kingdom of Naples in 1503. It was twice sacked by the French in 1799.

CAMPOBASSO, a city of Molise, Italy, the capital of the province of Campobasso, 172 miles east and southeast of Rome, situated 2,132 feet above sea level. Population [1901], town, 11,273; commune, 14,491.

No buildings of antiquarian interest. Chief industry is manufacture of arms and cutlery. Date of foundation of Campobasso unknown.

Passed to Neapolitan crown in 739 from feudal rule of counts in consideration of payment of 108,000 ducats.

FERRARA, thirty miles northeast of Bologna. Population [1901], 32,968 [town]; 86,392 [commune]. The town has numerous palaces which date from the sixteenth century, when it was the seat of the court of Este and had, it is said, 100,000 inhabitants.

PERUGIA, province of Perugia, 1,444 feet above sea level. Population [1906], 22,321 [town] and 65,527 [commune]. Built on a group of hills above valley of Tiber. The citadel at Perugia was erected by Pope Paul III. in 1540-1546 and demolished in 1860.

The university dates from 1307 and has faculties of law, science, and medicine; it had 318 students in 1902-3. It contains an important museum of Etruscan and Roman antiquities.

In 1797 Perugia was occupied by the French; in 1832, 1836, and 1854 it was visited by earthquakes.

SARNO, a town of Campania, in province of Sarno, thirty miles east of Naples by the main railway. Population [1901], town, 15,130; commune, 19,192. Chief industries are paper, cotton, silk, linen, and hemp.

TIVOLI is eighteen miles east-northeast of Rome, and has an elevation of 760 feet above sea level. Its population in 1901 was 11,600. Tivoli lies on the west side of the Sabine mountains, where the River Anio issues from them. The town on one side overlooks the Campagna di Roma and Rome itself, on the other the deep gorge of the Anio, with its lofty falls. The municipal archives of Tivoli date from 1450; the castle, now a prison, was erected in 1460. The Anio river, which runs through the town, has a fall of 354 feet at the point where it emerges from two parallel tunnels, constructed to carry off the waters and prevent damage in time of floods. The falls are utilized for the generation of electric power, which is used to drive the street cars in Rome and to furnish power to factories in Tivoli itself. A rich agricultural section surrounds Tivoli.

VEROLI is in the province of Rome, is situated 1,870 feet above sea level, and in 1901 had a population of 2,622. It is situated on a hill on the site of the ancient Hernican town of Verulas, seven miles southeast of Aletrium. It retains remains of its ancient polygonal enceinte, especially near the summit of the hill, later occupied by a medieval castle.

It is hardly mentioned in history; we know that it became a municipium in 90 B. C. Its cathedral treasury contains the beviary of S. Louis of Toulouse, and some interesting reliquaries, one in ivory with bas reliefs, and two in the Gothic style of silver gilt.

POTENZA is in the episcopal see of Basilicata and is the capital of the province of Potenza, 103 miles east by south of Naples. Population (1901), 12,313 (town), 16,163 (commune). It is 2,700 feet above the sea on an isolated hill. One of the coldest places in all Italy (mean temperature 53). Almost entirely rebuilt since earthquake of 1857.

In ancient times its name was Potentia, and its location 470 feet lower than the present town. Abandonment of that site and erection of Potenza on present site thought to date from an earthquake in 1273. Another severe quake occurred in 1694. The one in 1857 was the most destructive. It killed 32,475 people in Basilicata alone and laid most of Potenza in ruins.

ROMA, 13.—Ascendono a quasi 12,000 i morti e a qualche 20,000 i feriti dal terremoto avvenuto questa mattina in diversi punti dell Italia Centrale.

Intieri villaggi sono letteralmente rasi al suolo e numerosi sono gli edifici storici che hanno riportato danni generalmente irreparabili.

Si ritiene dalle autorità che il numero delle vittime sia anche superiore alle cifre annunziate finora, stante il fatto che. Non è possibile per ora alcuna comunicazione con i siti devastati dall'immane catastrofe avvenuta quasi in un batter d'occhio, giacchè un minuto, un sol minuto è durata la violentissima scossa di terremoto.

Gravissimi danni a Roma.

Abbenchè nessuna perdita di vite umane, da quanto risulta finora, si ha a deplorare nella Capitale, nondimeno sono ingenti i danni inflitti a numerosi edifici storici e monumenti d'arte.

I danni piu forti, però, sono avvenuti negli Abruzzi, ove in diversi punti gli abitanti non hanno potuto fuggire in tempo e sono rimasti sepolti sotto le macerie delle case diroccate.

Avezzana Distrutta; 8,000 Morti.

Avezzana, negli Abruzzi, è stata letteralmente distrutta. Di una popolazione di oltre 9,000 persone non si sono salvati che qualche 1,000 abitanti, molti dei quali piu o meno gravemente feriti. Gli altri 8,000 sono miseramente periti tra le maceria.

Tra gli edifici e le opere d'arte danneggiate in Roma, vi sono la statua di San Paolo, la facciata della Chiesa di San Giovanni Laterano, il palazzo del Parlamento, la Chiesa di Sant' Andrea Fratta e la Chiesa di Sant' Agata dei Goti.

E' stato anche danneggiato il Palazzo del Drago, ove risiede Mr. Thomas Nelson Page, Ambasciatore degli Stati Uniti.

Papa Benedetto stava dicendo la Messa allorchè è avvenuto il terremoto. Sua Santità ha serbato la massima calma e ha subito preso le misure necessarie per investigare i danni arrecati alle sacre strutture.

QUAKE WRECKED MESSINA IN 1908; OTHER DISASTERS

Messina, in Italy, suffered one of the most disastrous earthquakes of modern times on the morning of Dec. 28, 1908. The damage at Messina itself was done chiefly by the shock and by the fires which followed.

But at Reggio, Calabria, which was totally destroyed, and at other places along the strait, vast damage was done by the seismic wave which followed the disturbance. Many small towns in Sicily and Calabria suffered heavily. An official estimate placed the loss of life at 100,000. Unofficial estimates placed it as high as 150,000.

The shock which wrought this damage began at 5 o'clock in the morning and lasted just thirty-two seconds, and had its seismic center in the Straits of Messina. The range of the disaster so far as serious damage was concerned was about 200 miles in diameter, the "toe" of the mainland of Italy being affected for 150 miles toward Naples.

Eighty Thousand Killed.

In the commune of Messina alone, comprising about 152,000 inhabitants, it was reported that 80,000 persons lost their lives; the province of Reggio lost 15,000 killed out of a total of 34,000 population.

Various nations gave aid to the stricken section, the United States alone contributing $3,000,000 to the relief work, and a temporary wooden city was built, which now houses some 170,000 population—more people than ever dwelt in the old city.

Visited in 1909 and 1914.

On Jan. 3, 1909, an earthquake did serious damage at Caltagirone, Sicily, with slighter shocks felt at Fano and Pesaro and in the Messina and Reggio areas. Messina and Reggio were shaken again on Dec. 22, 1912. The cities had not been rebuilt permanently, and the damage done was not great.

On the night of May 8-9, 1914, a series of earthquake shocks destroyed a score of villages on the east coast of Sicily, south of Mount Ætna, killing about 200 persons and injuring 1,000.

Heavy Shocks in 1906.

Nineteen hundred and six was the worst period of seismic disturbances. The province of Esmeraldas in Ecuador was shaken in January and a great tidal wave followed, drowning many persons and devastating the city of Esmeraldas. Colombia also suffered in this disturbance, about 300 persons being killed.

A month and a half later, on the island of Formosa, the village of Kagi and three other towns were destroyed with the loss of thousands of lives and material damage estimated at $45,000,000. A month later Kagi again was visited with much loss of life and property damage.

Two Big Cities Destroyed.

Then followed the San Francisco disaster, in which 452 persons were killed and 265,000 made homeless, with a property loss of $350,000,000.

A few months later Valparaiso was destroyed by earth shocks and a conflagration. Fifteen hundred inhabitants were killed and a monetary loss of $100,000,000 resulted.

Within four days from the first earth shock the region for hundreds of miles around Valparaiso was visited by 382 quakes, in which the towns of Los Andes and Melippilla, with an aggregate population of 13,000, were destroyed with their inhabitants.

Santiago, Chile, Hard Hit.

Santiago, Chile, lost 55 persons killed and suffered $1,500,000 damage, while the towns of Vina del Mar, Quirihue, Linache, and Quillota, with a total of 29,000 inhabitants, were completely destroyed.

Later in the same year there were disturbances in Porto Rico, German New Guinea, and again in Chile.

In 1907 came the disaster to Kingston, Jamaica, in which 1,100 lives were lost and $25,000,000 damage was done.

Cartago, Costa Rica, lost 1,500 lives in 1910 from an earthquake, and in Turkey in 1912 3,000 persons perished, while 40,000 were made homeless in a similar disaster.

JAPAN ROCKED IN 1914.

The volcano Sakaurajima, on the little island of Sakura, situated in the Bay of Kagoshima at the southern extremity of Japan, burst into violent eruption on Jan. 12, 1914.

Great quantities of rock, ashes, and lava were thrown out over the surrounding country, which, in addition, was subjected to a series of severe earthquakes.

In the city of Kagoshima, separated from the volcano by a narrow strait, eighteen persons were killed, eighty-seven severely injured, and seventy-one slightly hurt as the result of the earthquakes, the worst of which occurred at 6:35 p. m. on the 12th.

The people of Sakura island were warned by the activity of the volcano on the 11th and most of them were enabled to make their escape to the mainland.

In Kagoshima thirty-five houses collapsed, 118 were partly destroyed, and many others slightly damaged. In Kimotsu and Kira counties the damage caused by falling ashes and pumice stone affected 20,000 persons.

GERMANS REPORT IMPORTANT GAIN NEAR NIEUPORT

Allies Are Said to Have Been Driven from Trenches Along the Coast of Belgium.

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—German victories in several engagements on the western front are announced in today's statement from the war office. It is said that the allies were compelled by German artillery to evacuate trenches near the Belgian coast in the neighborhood of Nieuport and that attacks were repulsed at other points, with the capture of 1,700 French in one instance.

"Fierce artillery duels took place in the neighborhood of Nieuport," the statement says. "They resulted in the evacuation of the enemy's trenches at Palinsburg, a suburb of Nieuport

"The enemy's attacks near the canal of La Bassee have been repulsed.

"Yesterday's unsuccessful attacks by the French on the hills near Crony were followed up by a German counter attack, which ended in the complete defeat of the French and the clearing of the hills northeast of Bussie and north of Crony. Our troops took possession of two French positions and captured 1,700 prisoners, four cannon, and several machine guns."

French Official Statement.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—The French war office this afternoon gave out an official announcement as follows:

"In the region of Nieuport and near Ypres the French artillery directed an effective fire on the earthworks of the enemy.

"On the Aisne, to the northeast of Soissons, the fighting around 'Spur 132' continued with great severity during all the day of Jan. 12. The Germans brought considerable forces into this engagement. We maintained our position on the crest of the hill to the west of 'Spur 132.' To the east our troops were obliged to give up ground. The fighting here continues.

"Between Soissons and Berry-Au-Bac shells from our artillery caused explosions at several different points in the midst of batteries of the enemy.

Cannon Duels Near Reims.

"In Champagne, from Reims to the Argonne, there were yesterday exceedingly violent artillery exchanges.

"In the region of Souain the advance position covering the blockhouse located to the north of the Beausejour farm, is still in our possession, and we have set up a trench distant sixty yards from the German trench.

"In the Argonne there have been rain and wind and storms; no infantry activity has been recorded."

KAISER HALTS RAIL TRAFFIC.

Only Troops and Munitions to Be Handled Over Roads Until Jan. 18, Is Order.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 13.—All ordinary passenger traffic was stopped today over most of the railroads of Germany until Jan. 18. This measure was taken to expedite the movements of troops and munitions of war, to which traffic the railroads will be given over almost entirely.

CZAR PUSHES ON IN EAST PRUSSIA

Army Begins New Advance Over the Hard Frozen Mazurian Lakes.

WINNING NEAR RAWA.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PETROGRAD, Jan. 13.—The Russian army has resumed the offensive in East Prussia, according to advices from the front.

This renewed activity of the czar's forces in this theater of the war indicates that the freezing over of the Mazurian lakes, for which they have been waiting, has at last occurred, for it would be impossible for the troops to advance through the narrow defiles defended by the Germans.

The Russians claim also to have made a further advance to the southwest of Rawa, another indication that they contemplate a repetition of their attempt at an invasion of East Prussia from the east and south, despite the fact that repeated German attacks south of the lower Vistula in Poland are keeping them busy.

German Attacks Repelled.

These attacks are being made at different points and, according to the Russian official statements, are easily repelled.

There is no recent account of the fighting in southern Poland and Galicia, but a Bucharest dispatch says the Russians have begun an attack on the Austrian fortifications in the mountains which divide Bukowina, now in their possession, and Transylvania, an attack on which is considered likely to bring Roumania into the war on the side of the allies.

Big Russ Losses at Przemysl.

BERLIN, Jan. 13, By Wireless to Sayville, L. I.—Included in the news items given out today by the official press bureau were the following:

"Special correspondents with the Austrian army headquarters mention the terrible losses sustained by the Russians around the Austrian fortress of Przemysl.

"The total number of Russians killed in the second siege of Przemysl is estimated to number far above 10,000. Of late the activity of the Russians has subsided, some of the troops having been withdrawn to fight elsewhere."

BOMBARDING DARDANELLES CONTINUES; MANY WOUNDED.

Victims Taken to Constantinople—United States Flag Back on French Hospital.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—Advices from Constantinople by way of Petrograd to the Temps report the arrival at the Turkish capital of many wounded from the Dardanelles, where the bombardment continues.

Some of the wounded came from the French hospital, over which the Turks flew the Turkish flag.

The American ambassador, the dispatch adds, protested against this and insisted that the Turkish flag should be replaced by the American flag, because French interests were in the care of the American embassy. His demand was heeded.

Mine Wrecks Norwegian Ship.

AMSTERDAM, via London, Jan. 13.—The small Norwegian steamer Castor is reported to have struck a mine in the North sea. All the crew were saved with the exception of one and landed at Hamburg.

U. S. NOT TO AID LOCAL PACKERS ON SHIP GRABS

Attorney for Chicagoans on the Way to England for Prize Court Hearing.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—No government aid will be given Chicago packers with referenc[e to] their cargoes detained in British ports since the middle of November until the British prize courts have acted in the matter.

Alfred R. Urion, representing the Chicago packers, is now on his way to London, but before sailing he visited the state department in a last effort to get government assistance and was told that under the circumstances nothing can be done now.

Officials of the department explained today that the British admiralty has acted in strict accordance with the rules of international law in seizing the two Norwegian steamers, Alfred Nobel and Bjornsterne Bjornson, and the Swedish steamer Fridland, laden with packing house products from Chicago, consigned "to order" at Copenhagen and placing them in the custody of the prize court.

Urion Goes to England.

It is understood here that Mr. Urion will represent the Chicago packers before the English prize courts and press for speedy action. The two Norwegian vessels left New York on Oct. 20 and 27, before the British government announced that conditional contraband would be considered absolute contraband unless consigned to individuals or firms in neutral countries instead of "to order."

Question of "Burden of Proof."

The state department holds that it is a well established commercial practice, which should not be interfered with, and that the mere consignment of a cargo "to order" should not carry with it the presumption that it is destined for use of an enemy nation.

Under the British ruling the burden of proof to show that the cargo is not destined for the use of armed forces of an enemy nation is upon the shipper, but the state department holds that such burden of proof should be upon the captor.

Mr. Urion was told that if the decision of the prize court was considered unjust by the packers, then the matter can be taken up through the state department and application can be made to the British admiralty office for a review of the court's finding.

Dacia Sale Is Questioned.

State department officials were greatly exercised today over information received from London, which raises the question of the validity of the sale of the steamer Dacia to an American from the Hamburg-American line.

The dispatches indicate that the British foreign office, after investigation, has decided that the sale is not bona fide and that it is part of a plot on the part of Germany to create still more ill feeling between the United States and Great Britain.

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, discussed at length with Secretary Bryan and Solicitor Cone Johnson questions which have arisen over the transfer of the Dacia. Although no decision will be reached until telegrams have been exchanged with the British foreign office, it became known that the Dacia may be permitted to carry cotton if it sails for Rotterdam instead of Bremen.

YANKEES TO LOAN CZAR $12,000,000

N. Y. Syndicate to Advance Russia Cash to Buy Supplies in U. S.

New York, Jan. 13.—[Special.]—The rapid swing of the international credit pendulum in favor of the United States, resulting from the enormous exports of merchandise, commodities, and munitions of war to Europe, was indicated today by several important banking transactions which represent arrangements for the payment of foreign obligations in this country.

Chief of these was the formation of a syndicate consisting of J. P. Morgan & Co., the Guaranty Trust company, the National City bank, the First National bank, the Chase National bank, and the Mechanics and Metals' National bank for the purpose of buying acceptances drawn by the Russian government to the extent of $12,000,000 approximately.

To Pay for Purchases in U. S.

The credit thus established is to be used to pay for various supplies withdrawn from the United States. The bankers agree to buy the acceptance paper on the basis of 5 per cent interest, with half of 1 per cent additional as a premium.

It was generally understood in Wall street that a substantial part of the funds to be provided will be used in the purchase of automobile trucks and a large amount of powder, which is to be supplied the Russian government by American manufacturers. It also is understood that a portion of the proceeds will be used for the purchase of foodstuffs.

Plan $200,000 Gold Import.

Arrangements were made today by the Guaranty Trust company to import $200,000 in gold direct from London. The gold is to be in French coin and will represent the first shipment of specie from Europe since last spring. It is said that the operation is for the account of Cuban bankers.

It became known today that the Guaranty Trust company recently imported $2,950,000 from China to San Francisco, where it was deposited in the United States subtreasury at that city. It is generally understood that the gold represents the establishment of German credits here through the medium of Chinese banks.

BRITISH PRESS HOLDS U. S. ABANDONS HAGUE TREATIES.

Chronicle Indorses Roosevelt Remarks—Asserts Out Attitude Embarrasses England.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Jan. 14, 3 a. m.—The Daily Chronicle, indorsing Ex-President Roosevelt's utterances in the Independent regarding the Hague conventions, says:

"The consequence of the American attitude is that the Hague conventions not only have been infringed but have been killed beyond visible means of resurrection, let alone extension. No state is going to let itself in for such deception again. It is impossible to deny that the moral position of the United States has been appreciably weakened.

"Those of us on this side who for many years have striven consistently to get a fair hearing given to the United States and fair constructions put on its policy should be no true friends if we concealed from American opinion the new difficulty which their government's abandonment of the Hague conventions has created for us."

Russia Expels Germans.

PETROGRAD, Jan. 13.—German and Austrian subjects between the ages of 16 and 60 have been ordered expelled from Petrograd and its environs and also from those Russian provinces which border on the Gulf of Finland and the Baltic sea, including the Gulf of Riga.

CARDINAL MERCIER FIRM ON HIS PASTORAL LETTER.

Prelate Refuses to Withdraw Statement—Rumored Arrest Is Denied Anew.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Jan. 13.—Cardinal Desideratus Mercier, the primate of Belgium, declines at present to discuss what he defined the "vexatious measures" of the German authorities in Belgium with reference to him and to the pastoral letter written by him on Christmas.

Governor General's Statement.

Gen. von Bissing, governor general of the Belgian territory occupied by the Germans, in reply to a request made by the Associated Press that he forward to Cardinal Mercier a telegram asking him for the exact facts in connection with the incident, today said:

"Cardinal Mercier requests me to forward to you the following dispatch in response to your inquiry:

"'I feel much the sympathy you have shown me and for which I thank you, but I prefer not to dwell for the moment on the vexatious measures to which you allude, and I prefer to continue to shut myself in my episcopal ministry. I wish to declare, however, that I have withdrawn nothing and will withdraw nothing from my pastoral letter.

"'CARDINAL MERCIER,
"'Archbishop of Malines.'"

Says Proofs Were Seized.

Gen. von Bissing adds:

"As this reply of the cardinal might give rise to misunderstanding, I add thereto the following remarks:

"'I certainly caused proofs of the pastoral letter in the printing office to be confiscated and I summoned the priests to give up copies of it in their possession.

"'The cardinal never has been arrested nor has his personal liberty in any way been encroached upon. I have merely, by means of officers of my staff, requested him to give me explanations of the tendencies of the pastoral letter, and besides this, in order to prevent possible manifestations, I asked him to abandon a projected journey to Antwerp.

"'If these measures perhaps appear to the cardinal subjectively vexatious, yet they were objectively absolutely necessary in order to clear up the situation."

NEW GERMAN LIST, 840,343.

Total of Killed, Wounded, and Captured Includes None but Prussians.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 13.—Advices from Berlin say that the one hundred and twenty-first casualty list of the Prussian army published today brings the total killed, wounded, and captured up to 840,343. This is for the Prussian army alone.

TURKISH ADVANCE FORCE CAPTURES TABRIZ, PERSIA.

Russian Garrison Withdraws, Making Entry Comparatively Easy for Sultan's Soldiers.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—A dispatch received by Reuter's Telegram company from Petrograd says an advance detachment of the Turkish army has occupied Tabriz, Persia.

The taking of Tabriz means that the Turks have secured a more or less important base for the projected German-Turkish attack on the Russion positions in the province of Erivan, north of the Persian border and south of Tiflis.

The occupation of Tabriz, which is the capital of the province of Azerbaijan, was made comparatively easy for the Turks by the recent withdrawal of Russian forces to meet the Ottoman advance farther west.

Aims at Weak Russ Line.

Russia's most vulnerable point, at which the Turks are aiming, lies along the undefended Russo-Persian frontier to the north of Tabriz. There never has been any necessity for preparing this portion of the Russian boundary against possible Persian attack.

The opinion is held here that Great Britain and Russia may offer assistance to Persia in the defense of its neutrality as a result of Turkey's dramatic advance. When the Ottoman activities in Persian territory first developed Persia not only announced its neutrality but asked the good offices of Great Britain to prevent violation of its neutrality.

Foothold for the Turks.

Even though Turkey should fail to push further northward it will have gained a basis for negotiations if it is able to retain Tabriz, and will also have obtained a foothold on the territory on the eastern bank of Lake Urumiah, which it long has coveted.

A telegram from Petrograd today says that 1,000 persons of the province of Azerbaijan are fleeing on foot toward the Caucasian frontier before the Turkish advance.

Many of these fugitives, it is said, are dying of hunger and cold.

GERMAN AEROPLANE GETS OVER APPROACH TO LONDON.

Appears at Mouth of the Thames, but Flies Away After Being Within Rays of Searchlights.

SHEERNESS, Jan. 13.—It is reported that a German aeroplane was seen over the Thames, between Southend and Sheerness, shortly before Tuesday midnight, but was out of range of the guns at Sheerness and Shoeburyness, and they did not fire on it. The night was dark, but the aeroplane was clearly discernible by the aid of the powerful searchlights at Sheerness, which burn continuously from dusk to dawn. The aeroplane disappeared seaward.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—A Berlin dispatch received by the Exchange Telegraph company by way of Copenhagen, says a German airman on Sunday dropped bombs on Warsaw. Several buildings in one of the principal streets were set on fire.

TURK AGREEMENT UNKNOWN IN THE CAPITAL OF ITALY.

Report That Ottoman Empire Had Backed Down Before Demands of Rome Fails of Confirmation.

ROME, Jan. 13.—So far as is known here no definite agreement has been reached whereby Turkey assents to the demands of Italy in connection with the forcible removal of British Vice Consul Richardson from the Italian consulate at Hodeida in the Yemen district of Arabia.

On Dec. 16 last Baron Sonnino, the Italian foreign minister, announced in the senate that Turkey had acceded to Italy's demand and had sent through the medium of Italy instructions to the governor of Yemen to give immediate satisfaction.

It is learned that these instructions have reached the governor, but that that official merely has promised to investigate the case.

Special dispatches from Rome yesterday reported that Turkey had ordered the release of Consul Richardson, had promised to punish those responsible for the removal of the consul from the Italian consulate, and to salute the Italian flag when it was again hoisted over the building.

RIBE FOR THE TRIBUNE

WILDEST DAY OF HISTORY IN STATE SENATE

cleared, for the first time since 1887, when the butterine bill, of historic political memory in Springfield, was up. Senators on both sides had fallen back in their seats, exhausted with the bitterness and turmoil of two hours of noise and demonstration.

Republicans who had been shrieking madly to be recorded as voting no were recognised for the only time during the day by the lieutenant governor to change their votes. An apology was offered to Senator Herlihy on behalf of the entire Republican side by Senator Barr, and the only quiet two minutes of the day followed.

New Row Is Started.

The next round was called on the stroke of the bell. Senator Cleary suggested that the Republican protest, which nobody had heard while Senator Dailey was reading it madly from a desk top, might be received, "were it formulated on the constitutional prescription of respectful language."

The Democratic majority permitted the protest to be offered, but refused to let it be read, voting that it be referred to a committee of three, to be named by the lieutenant governor, for investigation in regard to whether it was sufficiently respectful. Republicans fought as hard as ever to prevent their protest from being referred to a committee which should be named by the "protestee."

Democrats Have Their Majority.

"This lets this person pass upon his own case," was the Republican cry. This argument made no difference to the Democrats. They had telephoned to Senator Herlihy, and he had come from the funeral of his own brother to be present. Senator Boehm had arrived on orders from the front, and Senator Woodard got in last night. The Democrats had a physical majority on the floor.

The Democrats then proceeded with the administration of the same dose of medicine that has been administered to Democrats ever since the Democratic majority which obtained in the senate in the first two years of the Altgeld administration passed out of power.

Morning Session Also Turbulent.

All of the real business transacted was the passing of the Keller resolution at the morning session—nearly as belligerent as the afternoon performance—with the proviso added that the lieutenant governor should appoint the elections committee of seventeen. This was adopted by a strict party vote.

The lieutenant governor named all of the nine Democrats who had been named by the Democratic caucus. He refused to take the eight Democrats named by the Republican caucus and agreed to last night by the Democrats. He refused to appoint Senators Cornwell, Ettelson, Dailey, and Barr, elected by the Republicans, and named Senators Harding, Franklin, Curtis, and Bailey.

Curtis and Bailey did not want to serve, and attempted to get recognition to withdraw. The lieutenant governor would not recognise any Republican on a point of order, point of personal privilege, or otherwise, and the parliamentary program was handled entirely by the Democrats. The Republicans voted solidly against confirmation of the committee, but ineffectually.

As it stands, the elections committee consists of Keller, chairman; Cleary, Denvir, Coleman, Herlihy, Piercy, Compton, Haase, and Meeker, Democrats, and Smith, Curtis, Harding, Franklin, Bailey, Roos, Swanson, and Cliffe, Republicans.

Election Committee Meets.

The election committee of seventeen appointed under the gavel of Lieut. Gov. O'Hara held a session after the remarkable afternoon senate proceedings.

Senator Keller insisted that a subcommittee of eleven be appointed which should hear both the election contest cases, that he should be chairman of both committees, and that any instruction should be referred to the full committee of eleven, in which the Democrats were to hold a controlling majority.

He could not hold his Democrats together, however, and after a stiff offensive fight by Senator Curtis and Senator Swanson he was forced to accept the arrangement that there should be a subcommittee for each district, untrammeled except by a vote of the entire committee of seventeen.

Senator Curtis in the committee attempted to force a declaration of intention from the Democratic majority of the committee that the ballots should be counted immediately.

Keller Forced to Agreement.

Chairman Keller declined to permit a motion to go to a vote, offered by Senator Curtis, which would have fixed 10 o'clock Monday morning as the hour for beginning the recount of the ballots. Senator Keller said many details had to be arranged. He was forced to an agreement between himself and Senator Curtis in the presence of the committee, however, that business would begin in Chicago Monday morning. It was all that the Republicans could get and they had to stand for it.

The elections committee of seventeen is on record for the appointment of two subcommittees or five members each, each to consist of three Democrats and two Republicans, and each of which is to report to the full committee of seventeen on any doubtful issue.

Will Seek to Unseat O'Hara.

Lieut. Gov. O'Hara has not named the committee of three which shall pass upon the merits of the protest which the Republicans attempt to have placed in the senate record. It is believed that the Republican attempt will be to obtain the disqualification of the lieutenant governor upon a ground not yet disclosed.

This was intimated by Senator Barr, following the adjournment of the senate under the gavel this afternoon. Senator Barr went to the lieutenant governor's room and served notice that the O'Hara case might be reopened at the point at which it was dropped two years ago.

Wandering Boy's Mother Wants Him.

GERALD WISE BIGELOW

Wandering about somewhere in Chicago is an 18 year old high school boy whose mind is believed to have become clouded from overstudy. He is Jerald Wise Bigelow, captain of the debating team of the high school at Freeport, Ill. He disappeared from his home in that city last Thursday.

His father, William J. Bigelow of W. J. Bigelow & Co., shirt dealers, with offices in the Republic building, has spent several days searching for his son in Chicago. Yesterday he learned from a clerk at the New Southern hotel that Jerald had applied for work there only a few moments before. The boy's mother is prostrate.

Jerald has blonde hair, blue eyes, and is about 5 feet 0 inches in height. He weighs about 145 pounds. When he left home he wore a brown suit, blue chinchilla overcoat, and a blue cap.

GARY LIKELY TO BE MADE CITY OF THE SECOND CLASS

Bill in Indiana Legislature Provides Change—Would Boost the Mayor's Salary $1,500.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—The house today voted 52 to 47 against the acceptance of the amendments made by the senate to the legislative expense appropriation bill, which threw down the bars to unlimited expense and repealed the law of 1895 limiting the number of employés of the senate and the house.

A measure which would provide a salary increase is Senator Kinder's bill to make Gary a city of the second class. The salary of the mayor of Gary would be increased from $1,500 to $3,000 a year should the bill become a law. Senator Kinder says Gary has reached such a size that the mayor should have a larger salary so as to be able to represent the city in better style.

PROVINE STICKS AS DEADLOCK HOLDS UNBROKEN

Scouts Report He Will Quit G. O. P. Race for Speakership; New Members May Bolt.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Walter M. Provine will not withdraw as the regular Republican caucus nominee for speaker in spite of repeated reports current after six ballots of the deadlock today that he had been given his tryout and was ready to quit.

Mr. Provine issued a statement declaring himself in the contest to the finish and issuing a platform on the wet and dry issue.

The Provine statement is accepted by legislators as tantamount to a declaration that the deadlock cannot be broken this week, and all arrangements are being made to carry it over until next Tuesday.

It appears certain that Mr. Provine cannot expect an election until he shall have won over the entire seventeen bolting Republicans. It is pointed out that little can be accomplished by picking off the wets one by one, unless the entire body is absorbed, and the Provine managers admit this is far from accomplishment.

New Members May Act.

The new members are becoming very restless and there is plenty of talk among the fifty-five new men, Republicans and Democrats, that if the old heads cannot reach an agreement it is time for the new members to try the platform of "a new house, a new man, and a new deal."

If the deadlock goes over until next week, steps are likely to be taken for a caucus of new members, with all party lines forgotten.

Lee O'Neil Browne attempted to hold a Democratic caucus tonight. It was preceded by a Democratic conference which directed Mr. Browne to order the caucus tonight.

No material change resulted in the six ballots taken today. Provine maintained his caucus strength of sixty-two. The bolting wets stayed with Lepage of St. Clair county through the day. Browne's vote went to twenty-seven and dropped back to twenty-five. The dry Democrats voted for Kane, then for Kasserman, then for Huston, and finished with Richardson. The third Democratic combination voted for Weber on two ballots, went to Farrell for two ballots, voted for Schuberth on the fifth ballot, and on the last for Purdunn.

Statement Issued by Provine.

Mr. Provine's statement today follows:

"At a caucus of the Republican members of the house it was decided by the sixty-three members who participated therein that no caucus choice would be had until a candidate received at least forty-one votes, being a majority of the whole number of Republicans elected.

"I received the Republican caucus nomination and my name was presented to the house as the Republican candidate for speaker. I have since, on each ballot, received the support of all those who participated in the caucus.

"Seventeen Republicans did not participate in the caucus, stating that in their opinion they would not receive fair treatment upon the "wet" and "dry" question—a question that should not affect party politics."

OLD SWORD UNVEILED AT THOMPSON'S HEADQUARTERS

Opening of Political Campaign Rooms Scene of Much Flag Display and Speechmaking.

The sword which William Hale Thompson's father used as captain of a war vessel under Admiral Farragut was unveiled by Maj. George F. Morgan, a civil war veteran, at the dedication of Mr. Thompson's campaign headquarters in the old Union hotel last night. A battered speaking trumpet belonging to Stephen Gale, Mr. Thompson's grandfather and one of Chicago's early fire marshals, also was placed on exhibition.

Flags of all nations and banners and trophies were unfurled until the walls were covered. The flag of the Associated Yacht and Power Boat Clubs of America, of which Mr. Thompson is commodore, was "dropped" by James A. Pugh.

HARRISON MEN HELP SWEITZER

DUNNE MEN IN REVOLT?

"Each day reveals one or more well known Democrats, former supporters of Mayor Harrison, who have crossed over into the camp of Robert M. Sweitzer and who are enrolled among the workers for the county clerk in his campaign for the mayoralty nomination."

With that comment Chairman Henry Stuckart of the Sweitzer committee picked up a paper which had just been laid on his desk and read that William F. Brennan and Joseph Cepek of the Twelfth ward had joined the Sweitzer organization in that ward.

Brennan Old Harrison Man.

Mr. Brennan for several years represented his ward on the Harrison managing committee, and at one time was deputy commissioner of public works under Mayor Harrison. Mr. Cepek has been one of the Harrison leaders among the Bohemian-American voters on the southwest side.

Mr. Brennan has been made president of the Sweitzer organization in the Twelfth ward and Mr. Cepek financial secretary. They promise to put up a warm contest with Anton J. Cermak, chief bailiff of the Municipal court, for control of the ward.

The regular Democratic organizations of the Sixteenth and Twentieth wards last night indorsed the candidacy of Mr. Sweitzer.

Mayor After Woman Vote.

Registration by women on Feb. 2, ground hog day, is likely to be the shadow which will scare some Democratic mayoralty candidate back into his hole, in the opinion of Mayor Harrison, although this was not exactly the form he used in expressing it.

"If there are 450,000 men voters in Chicago," the mayor said, "it follows there must be approximately that number of woman voters. Then the candidate who gets the largest number of women votes on primary day will win. To vote, the women must register, and that is the problem which the campaign committees have before them. I think it safe to say that the candidate who registers the most of the women voters is likely to be nominated."

Moose and G. O. P. Dicker.

Republicans and Progressives seem to be getting nearer together, and at Republican headquarters during the day the prediction was made that the primary petitions for a mayoralty candidate who will be acceptable to the Progressives will be ready to be put into circulation by Saturday evening.

Well known Progressives, men who have financed to a large degree the past campaigns of the party, and who have been working quietly with the Progressive county committee to persuade it to join with the Republicans in the spring campaign, now are advocating openly such coöperation. Among them are A. H. Revell, F. S. Oliver, LaVerne W. Noyes, Julius Rosenwald, and Dr. Henry B. Favill.

Efforts are being made to have the Progressives who were members of the last general assembly meet here next week to pass formal resolutions calling on their constituents to join with the Republicans.

INVENTOR SAYS U. S. NEGLECTED POWERFUL SHELL

Gathman Asserts Germans Are Using Explosives He Offered to America.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—Louis Gathman, who claims to be the inventor of the high explosive shells Germany is using in its monster guns, told a minority of the senate committee on expenditures in the war department today he had tried to interest the ordnance officials of the American war department in his invention for many years and had made no effort to give his discovery to foreign governments until it had been repeatedly refused by Americans. He charged that the facts had been suppressed by the ordnance bureau.

Tells of Terrific Explosion.

Gathman said that in tests in 1897 before American ordnance officers his shell had blown to pieces six and ten inch armor plates when merely leaned against the steel and exploded.

The whole theory of shell fire has been so changed by the adoption of high explosive shells in place of armor piercing projectiles, he said, that the coast defenses of the United States virtually are useless because they still use the latter type of projectiles.

Piercing Shells No Good.

It has been demonstrated, he said, that armor piercing shells have never sunk a ship. He cited the case of the Maria Theresa, one of the Spanish ships beached when it took fire after its flight from Santiago.

Gathman also attacked the coast defense mortars on which the United States, he said, has expended $100,000,000. These, he said, have a range of only six miles, use only armor piercing shells, and cannot pierce armor at a mile. Equipped with high explosive shells, he said, their fire would be deadly.

APPLAUD OLSON AS NEXT MAYOR

But Judge Makes No Reference to Politics in Engineers' Club Address.

TALKS COURT ISSUES.

Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court was cheered last evening when he was introduced as "the next mayor of Chicago" at the annual banquet of the Western Society of Engineers at the Auditorium hotel.

More than 400 members of the society attended. Douglas Malloch was toastmaster.

Judge Olson accepted the compliment modestly and did not refer to his mayoralty aspirations, if he has any, but confined his speech to a discussion of the work of the Municipal court and the imperative need of electing strong men as judges of "the court of first instance."

"The Municipal court of Chicago is the largest commercial court in the world," he said. "It handles more judgments than the High Court of Justice of England.

"It is also the greatest clinic of abnormal psychology in the world in that it deals with crime and criminals scientifically on the proposition that most crime is committed by defectives. This will mean a revolution in criminal law."

The Rev. R. A. White praised American administrative efficiency in the Philippine islands. E. H. Lee, the retiring president of the society, gave an address, handing over the office to William B. Jackson, the new president. Harry A. Wheeler also spoke.

PROMOTES A NEW HOSPITAL.

Judge Goodnow Wants Institution to Care for Diseased Persons in the Morals Court.

A hospital to be erected in or near the loop to care largely for the men, women, and children found diseased after being taken into the Morals court is the plan on which Judge Charles N. Goodnow is now working in the hope of reclaiming a large number of persons who would otherwise fall victims to the disease or the medicines of "quack doctors."

Indorse Corr for Alderman.

The Thirty-first Ward Regular Democratic club last night indorsed Attorney Frank J. Corr as a candidate for alderman. The club also indorsed Robert M. Sweitzer as mayoralty candidate.

VERBAL VITRIOL IN BORAH REPLY TO PRESIDENT

Senator Calls Mexican Policy No Policy at All; Flailed as "Boss" of Democracy.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Accepting the challenge by President Wilson in his Indianapolis speech, Republican senators who are reputed to be presidential candidates fired the opening guns of the 1916 campaign today.

Senator Borah of Idaho, whose nomination for the presidency is favored by a large element of the Republican party, delivered a comprehensive reply to the Indianapolis speech.

Denunciation of the president's Mexican policy and of Mr. Wilson's view of the blood spilling in the southern republic, the senator ladled out unsparingly, and finally in reply to a Democratic challenge and animadversion upon his reputed ambitions he told how he would handle the vexed question if he were president.

Mexican Policy No Policy.

Senator Borah called the president's Mexican policy no policy at all. Instead of keeping hands off, as he advocated at Indianapolis, Mr. Wilson, Senator Borah said, actually intervened to oust Huerta, sought to reform the Mexican land laws, waged a war at Vera Cruz, played one faction off against the other until the only semblance of government was destroyed and permitted the murder of 250 Americans.

In connection with Mr. Wilson's statement that Mexico should be allowed to spill all the blood it pleases, the senator compared the president to bloody Marat, the French revolutionist.

Mr. Borah said that if he were president he would keep hands off Mexico, but would make it plain that if Americans and their possessions were not respected the United States would march in and protect them.

Puts Wilson in "Boss" Class.

In admonishing Democratic senators to heed the signals of the captain of the administration football team the president, the senator said, had enunciated a principle of corrupt politics and placed himself in the same class as Tom Taggart of Indiana and Boss Murphy of Tammany.

In contravention of the president's assertion that the Republican party has not had a new idea in thirty years Mr. Borah reviewed the progressive legislation enacted over Democratic opposition by Republican majorities in congress.

After touching on the high cost of living and Democratic extravagance in administering the government, upon which has been piled a $100,000,000 war tax, the senator said:

"The cry in the 1916 campaign will not be for more ideas, but for more bread; not for more rhetoric, but for more soup. The termination of the campaign will not be doubtful when that issue is once raised before the American people."

First Skirmish of 1916 Race.

The report that the first skirmish of the battle of 1916 was being fought in the senate ran through the capitol and soon every senator was in his seat, while the galleries filled and members of the house took up the standing room on the floor.

Senator Cummins of Iowa, another progressive Republican who is regarded as a candidate for the presidency, also commented crisply upon the president's attitude. He asserted that congress, not the president, shouldd etermine the disposition of the $1,000,000 of customs revenue collected by Brig. Gen. Funston at Vera Cruz.

Senator Williams of Mississippi, replying, said Mr. Wilson would be reëlected as a majority candidate. He opined that if Roosevelt had been president there would have been stern messages to congress regarding Mexico, and the order, "Come on, boys, charge!"

Hits Wilson Mexican Policy.

Mr. Borah's denunciation of the administration reached its climax in his comment upon the Wilson-Bryan Mexican policy.

"To begin with let it be understood that Mexico is not desired by the American people," the senator said. "Let it be understood that we are to withdraw from all interference in the domestic concerns of all the countries in Central America and that we will leave them should we ever go there with the same integrity of territory which we found in the beginning.

"But we did go to Mexico, Mr. President. What did we go for? What were we at Vera Cruz about? What was the result of the expedition?

"The first result was that we killed 200 Mexicans; the second result was that we lost nineteen of our own men. We were at war with Mexico. Had we killed one British subject or one German subject or one subject of France there would have been no doubt about our being at war with that country.

Was Real Intervention.

"Not only did we intervene when we declared against Huerta, but we were at war when blood was shed upon the soil of Vera Cruz. That was the first result.

"The second result of our going was the destruction of the only semblance of government which they had in Mexico.

"The third thing which we did in connection with it was the one which may have far reaching consequences in the future, and that is we notified foreign nations that they must keep hands off of Mexico.

"The result of it was that we assumed the responsibility morally, if not legally, for the injuries which flowed from that time on to those foreign powers or to their nationals by reason of the acts or of the conduct of the warring factions of Mexico.

"Then we assumed further, Mr. President, at that time to reform the land laws of Mexico. So we did not let Mexico alone.

"The situation in Mexico today is indescribable. We have not any conception of it. We know that over 250 of our own citizens have been murdered; we know that countless others have been injured and have had no apparent remedy or redress."

Criticises Wilson's Reply.

Quoting the president's assertion that Mexico should be allowed to take its time and spill as much blood as it pleases in the achievement of liberty, the senator continued:

"Now, sir, when a condition of affairs exists in Mexico, such as a civilized world never saw, and Republicans rise to express their views as to what shall be done, the answer which we get from the public rostrum of the country by the chief magistrate of the nation is practically in the language of Marat, that the man who questions the course of revolution in Mexico that it shall float in upon seas of blood, is to be suspected before the American people."

What Borah Would Do.

"Of course this is a subject that no senator, whatever his ambition or whatever his motive, would be influenced in discussing by any political consideration," Senator Robinson interrupted. "This is a question which involves patriotic consideration that appeals to every American citizen, and I ask the senator from Idaho this question, while he is attempting to castigate the highest officer of this republic for a failure to discharge the responsible duties devolving upon him as president, will he tell us what he would do now if that duty fell upon him."

"In my judgment," Borah replied, "if we should exert such influence as we had by international law and treaties we could protect the lives of our citizens in Mexico and do so without going to Mexico at all with an army.

"If I were in a position to do so I would say to the Mexican people in no uncertain manner that we want you to settle your own internal affairs, but you will from this hour respect the rights and the honor of American men and American women in your territory or the United States will attend to it itself."

Says Mexicans Would Heed.

"Do you think those warring factions of Mexico would not heed such a statement?

"The president told us himself in his message which he read to us that no other nationals are treated as ours are treated in Mexico. Why? Sir, because it is known or believed in Mexico that we will not protect the rights of our people and protect the honor of our women."

In beginning his remarks Senator Borah thus characterized the Indianapolis speech:

"It is a remarkable address and its purpose and purport cannot be mistaken or misunderstood. It is a virulent attack upon one of the great political parties of the United States by the chief magistrate of the nation; a party in whose traditions millions of his countrymen take great pride and in whose policies and principles they devoutly and patriotically believe. It not only challenges the wisdom of the leaders of that party, but it assails the intelligence and the patriotism of its rank and file."

Had Ring of "Boss."

Referring to the president's prediction that unpleasant consequences will be visited upon Democratic insurgents, Mr. Borah said:

"You will search the history of our country in vain to find any such imputation upon a great coördinate branch of the government as is found in the remarks of the president at Indianapolis. It calls for the serious consideration of every man who is a member of this body.

"The language which fell from the lips of the leader of the Democratic party at Indianapolis was not different from that which Tom Taggart would have issued to the men in Indianapolis, eighty of whom this morning pleaded guilty to the crime of corruption.

"It is not different from the language which would be used by Mr. Murphy of New York to his slavish adherents to follow the dictates of the captain regardless of what your volition, your conscience, or your judgment may suggest."

Father a Martyr; They Need Aid.

MAGGIE AND ANGELINA MACALUSO

When Joe Macaluso died yesterday in the Columbus Extension hospital from tuberculosis contracted while incarcerated in an Italian dungeon for two years for a crime he never committed he left his widow and two little daughters to shift for themselves.

One of these waifs was forced to beg in front of the federal building with tear dimmed eyes for money to bury her father. Angelina, the 14 year old daughter, clad in a flimsy cotton skirt and shawl, pleaded with pedestrians to listen to her pitiful story.

"My papa died today," she cried. "Once he was a rich man, and we lived in a fine home. Then they took him to the old country and threw him in jail. He got sick, and after he was acquitted he came back to us. But our fine home is gone and we live in a shanty. We haven't even the money to bury him."

In a squalid three room loft in the rear of 848 Cambridge avenue neighbors gathered to comfort the widow. In broken English she told them she had nothing to wait for only death. She cried she wanted to be with her dead husband. Maggie, her 3 year old daughter, moaned in a corner.

Several society people have interested themselves in behalf of the destitute family.

SHERMAN FIGHTS TO STOP KILLING DISEASED CATTLE

Offers Resolution for Investigation of the Foot and Mouth Epidemic.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Senator Sherman started a fight in the senate today to prevent further slaughtering of cattle afflicted with the foot and mouth disease until an investigation has been made to determine whether the killing is necessary.

The Illinois senator introduced a resolution directing the senate committee on agriculture to investigate and report to the senate immediately its findings with respect to the necessity for killing all cattle so afflicted. The senate several weeks ago authorized an investigation of the epidemic by the agricultural committee, but the inquiry has been dropped.

"Cattle worth millions of dollars," said Senator Sherman today, "have been ruthlessly slaughtered by representatives of the federal department of agriculture and various state governments.

Charges "Mania for Killing."

"It looks to me as if these men have gone wild with a mania for killing something. Whenever a case appears in a herd the entire herd, regardless of its value, is immediately ordered destroyed.

"I have tried to get some light on the subject, but have failed. If this wholesale slaughter is not stopped the stock breeding and feeding and dairy industries in this country will be destroyed."

Senator Sherman said he had looked into the campaigns against the foot and mouth disease in other countries.

"It is not a necessarily fatal disease," said the senator. "Statistics in Germany show that only about 2 per cent of the cattle afflicted die. No study of the disease ever has been made in this country."

Dunne Urges Wilson to Help.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 13.—Asserting the eradication of hoof and mouth disease is more a national than a state problem, Gov. Dunne in a letter today to President Wilson urged that congress during its present session place the whole responsibility in the hands of the bureau of animal industry and make "adequate appropriations to enable it effectually to exterminate this widespread scourge."

The governor said that, despite the harmony and vigor of federal and state efforts to wipe out the disease in this state, it still existed in about twenty herds.

The governor points out Illinois' exposed situation due to the Chicago and East St. Louis markets, and adds that there is a strong probability that infected cattle from other states will be shipped into this state further endangering its live stock industry.

Slaughter Only Preventive?

"I am advised," he wrote, "by both federal and state veterinarians that to stop this scourge the only effective measure is the absolute extermination of infected herds. This entails enormous losses on the owners. As such drastic measures are adopted, not only for the protection of the live stock industry of Illinois but of the whole United States, it follows inevitably that the federal government should assume the whole responsibility for carrying on the defensive war against this contagion.

"I respectfully suggest that steps be taken at the present session of congress to place the whole matter in the hands of the bureau of animal industry and that adequate appropriations be made to enable it to effectually exterminate this widespread scourge."

Plague Spreads Near Dixon.

Dixon, Ill., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—With five state inspectors working in this district the hoof and mouth disease continues to spread. The dairy herds of Fred L. Lord in Palmyra township and of Mike Conroy of South Dixon were found infected today, making twelve now under quarantine. Although the trench has been dug, the infected cattle on the L. W. Mitchell and the G. W. Smith farms have not as yet been killed.

BILL INCREASES NAVAL PROGRAM

House Committee Provides Two Battleships for Coming Year.

MORE AUXILIARY SHIPS.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—Provision for the construction of two great dreadnaughts, six torpedo boat destroyers, sixteen coast defense submarines, a seagoing submarine, a hospital ship, a transport, and a fuel ship, at an aggregate cost of $53,168,828, is made in the naval appropriation bill as agreed on today by the house naval committee. All told the bill carries $145,500,000, of which $22,903,998 is directly appropriated for new construction.

While the construction program falls far below the plans urged by Representative Hobson and other advocates of a larger navy, it includes the two battleships asked for by Secretary Daniels, and provides for more auxiliaries than the secretary had contemplated. Chairman Padgett protested that the committee was "running wild" with appropriations.

Details of the Program.

The program proposes the building of:

Two battleships to cost not more than $7,800,000 each, exclusive of armor and armament.

Six torpedo boat destroyers to cost not more than $925,000 each, exclusive of armament.

One seagoing submarine at not more than $1,400,000, exclusive of armament.

Sixteen submarines at not more than $550,000 each, half to be built on the Pacific coast if difference in cost does not exceed cost of transportation from Atlantic coast.

One hospital ship at not more than $2,250,000.

Hobson to Continue Fight.

Representative Hobson gave notice that he would carry to the floor of the house his fight for three battleships, two battle cruisers, and additional destroyers and submarines.

The total appropriations in the bill exceed the estimates of the navy department by $3,000,000, but it was pointed out that this was occasioned by appropriations for a battleship being built from the proceeds of the sale to Greece of the battleships Mississippi and Idaho.

MUCKLE SHIELDS, LABORITE, AT IT AGAIN, PEOPLE SAY.

A white aproned bartender last night rushed from Simon & Johnson's saloon at 333 West Madison street calling for help. Police Sergeants Haley and Monroe followed him back into the barroom.

Arthur ("Muckle") Shields ruled inside. Simon & Johnson and fifteen customers stood about in strained attitudes with their hands elevated. Something clanked behind a radiator as the police entered. It was a revolver. Shields had thrown it there, witnesses say.

According to Simon the trouble started when Shields, who has been mixed up in several labor shootings, entered the place and the bartender refused to serve him, acting on orders. Whereupon Shields, it is said, whipped out his gun. Shields lives at 6332 North Laflin street. He is charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

3 COUNTIES QUARANTINED.

Whiteside, Kane, and Carroll Affected by Order Against Shipping of Cattle.

An order was issued yesterday by State Veterinarian O. E. Dyson placing Whiteside, Kane, and Carroll counties under strict quarantine to prevent the spread of the foot and mouth disease. The order becomes effective today. It is to remain in force until revoked by the state board of live stock commissioners.

ILLINOIS BALLOT INQUIRY BY U. S. ABOUT TO BEGIN

District Attorney Karch of Danville, Here, Says Quiz Is Warranted.

That a full investigation into the election fraud charges in the eastern judicial district of Illinois will be made by the federal government was practically admitted by United States District Attorney Charles A. Karch of Danville, here last night. Mr. Karch talked to a reporter for THE TRIBUNE at the Hotel Sherman.

"It is true that I expect orders in the morning to the effect that I am to go ahead with a wholesale investigation of the recent election in 'Uncle Joe' Cannon's district," he said. "The charges made warrant an investigation, and it is probable special investigators will be employed.

"It is also possible the investigation may jeopardize the seats won at the recent election, but it would not be fitting or proper at the present time to say that 'Uncle Joe' Cannon or any one else would be named. I advised the department of justice at Washington that rumors were current that a slush fund had been used at the last election in Vermillion county and principally at Danville. I expect a comprehensive letter from the department some time tomorrow.

"Slush Fund" to Be Bared.

"I will proceed along the lines outlined by the heads of the department. We will take up the reports that more than 1,200 votes were bought up in the city of Danville alone. We will go into the slush fund rumor, and if there is anything to warrant indictments then it is possible that indictments will be returned against all persons named.

"For years there have been rumors that the elections were conducted along fraudulent lines, but from what little I have been able to gather we have a better opportunity to get evidence this time than at any time in the past."

Denies Order to Investigate.

Danville, Ill., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Assistant District Attorney A. B. Dennis of this city said tonight that no orders have come from Washington to push a federal investigation. Asked whether he believed such an investigation would materialize Mr. Dennis said:

"We can do nothing until authority has been given us from Washington and such authority would be kept secret were it received until all local plans for the investigation were complete in every detail."

Moose Leader Predicts Quiz.

State Committeeman W. H. Stephens, Progressive leader in the Eighteenth district, has stated repeatedly that he is confident federal investigation into alleged election irregularities will be made, although he has refused to give his authority for such a statement.

Excitement in Paris, thirty miles south of here, is intense. It is alleged that Terre Haute floaters were smuggled across the state line after voting in the Indiana town and took part in the recent election in Paris, Congressman O'Hair's home town, and where his majority in 1914 was 50 per cent smaller over Cannon than in 1912.

Strong denials of the proposed investigation are being made by local Democratic and Republican leaders, while Progressive partisans, notably Committeeman Stephens, are equally confident that an investigation will result.

FOOD PRICE INQUIRY HALTS

Prospect of Long Task Causes Hopkins to Await Clyne's Return.

U. S. AGENTS AT WORK.

The government's investigation of war time prices of wheat, flour, and the threatened boost in the price of bread was halted temporarily yesterday on account of the absence of District Attorney Charles F. Clyne.

The inquiry probably will be resumed today or tomorrow, when Mr. Clyne is expected to return. Assistant District Attorney Albert L. Hopkins, who is in charge of the work, found it necessary to confer with his chief before proceeding further with the inquiry, as it is considered doubtful that a sufficient amount of evidence can be obtained, if federal grand jury action is contemplated, without spending many weeks, if not months, on the proposition.

Resembles Beef Inquiry.

Mr. Hopkins' experience with the beef and sugar investigation last summer and the present food price inquiry has led him to the conclusion that the subject of high prices and price boosting of food products is so vast and intricate that only the patient labor of many government experts devoting their entire time to the subject would throw light on the matter of value to a grand jury and the public.

Mr. Hopkins said he was glad to see the National Association of Retail Grocers take the advanced stand they did in demanding that Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce start a wheat and flour price inquiry on a national scale.

Agents Now at Work.

The department of agriculture is likely to aid District Attorney Clyne in the government's price investigation in Chicago. Agents of the department of agriculture are now at work on the books of the stockyards packers in an endeavor to ascertain the profits on meat products.

It is understood the calculations begin with the animal on the hoof and end with the meat on the dinner plate.

SAYS SURGEONS OPERATE IN UNNECESSARY CASES.

Dr. Bevan Tells Medical Society a Large Number of Kidney Troubles Do Not Need Knife.

Dr. Arthur Dean Bevan at the meeting of the Chicago Medical society last night charged that a large number of kidney operations are unnecessary. Surgeons who perform these operations do it for the remuneration only in many cases, Dr. Bevan said.

"I find the specialists in particular are in many cases too eager to perform operations on the kidneys," Dr. Bevan said. "I venture to say 30 per cent of women have movable kidneys. There isn't any reason for operating in most of those cases, however.

"These specialists take advantage of such cases merely to make money on the operations and the patients might be better off if they had not been operated on."

HOW SHE ENDED TEN YEARS OF SKIN-TORTURE
Oct. 28, 1914.—"I had eczema on my face for ten years. Little red pimples formed in a small spot on my chin and then spread all over my face. They itched and burned me awfully. It was certainly embarrassing to me, and I would not go amongst people. I tried almost every remedy and treatment that could be used for this trouble, but nothing did me any good. I used Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, and was relieved in a day or two. In one month I was cured. This was six months ago and the trouble has never returned."—[Signed] Mrs. C. C. MR. WILSON'S CONSTRUCTIVE PROPOSAL.

It is to be hoped that the president will follow up his advocacy of a "great federal employment bureau" which should utilize various federal agencies throughout the country to direct unemployed men where labor is needed.

A national labor exchange is urged by the leading students of unemployment and a bill creating a federal system is, we believe, already drafted by the Society for Labor Legislation. The president's indorsement of the idea is the first from a high, authoritative source and if Mr. Wilson will use his influence on its behalf he will be credited with a valuable piece of constructive social reform. Unemployment is bound up with interstate conditions, as we have pointed out repeatedly, and cannot be dealt with efficiently by local or state agencies merely. The seasonal fluctuations are continental in their effects and must be met by a continental system. Only the nation can mobilize labor in such a country as ours.

This by no means implies that local and state agencies are negligible. On the contrary, a national bureau should find one of its first and chief duties in the coördination of local agencies with its own work.

If the president will advocate the immediate creation of a national employment bureau he will receive the hearty support, we are confident, of the press and public opinion, and in congress a proper measure will be favored regardless of party.

OFFICIAL LAWLESSNESS.

A lawless act has led to lawless consequences. The state canvassing board did what the state Supreme court had pronounced unlawful. It set aside the certificates of election in two Cook county senatorial districts, and the Democrats in the senate endeavored to seat two Democrats not entitled to seats in place of two Republicans entitled to them.

That attempt to steal control of the senate has found its sequence in disorder. The responsibility goes back to a lawless state board.

QUIET FOR THE SICK.

From two hundred thousand to a quarter of a million people pass annually through the hospitals of Chicago. From the poorest to the richest, men, women, and children of all races, religions, and conditions of life belong to this great democracy of pain.

Do these sufferers deserve special consideration, or do they not?

That is the question before the council committee on health and before the whole council. It cannot be shirked by passing a resolution to enforce the zone of quiet ordinance, because, first, the zone of quiet will not be a zone of quiet when the order is obeyed, and, second, because the order will be obeyed, if at all, only for a time. Then the conditions will relapse into their present barbarous state.

Hospitals in a great city have to put up with many hostile conditions, among them noises and vibrations. But in the name of humanity these should be kept at a minimum.

The zone of quiet plan does not reach this minimum. A truck loaded with structural steel may not be driven at a trot, a heavy motor may not cut out its muffler, blast its horn, or otherwise do its worst, within the zone of quiet, provided the zone is respected, which it is not at present and will not be for long after the council order.

But heavy traffic, even if it were to respect the zone, causes noise and vibration which is always hurtful and often dangerous to the sick, and it is the purpose of the ordinance now before the committee wholly to prohibit this traffic near hospitals. It is objected that this is impracticable in some cases owing to the location of the hospital. But this objection should be met by amendment, not by the defeat of the whole ordinance. A routing plan should be devised to take care of every hospital that can be protected, and in the case of those which cannot be protected in this way the strictest possible enforcement of noise regulations should be maintained.

FINES AS A SOURCE OF VICE AND CRIME.

There are several excellent suggestions in the latest report of the chief probation officer, Mr. Houston, but perhaps the most timely and important—timely because of the creation and appointment of a so-called morals commission in this city—is that which relates to the treatment of the unfortunate, degraded women who are arrested and punished for soliciting or living lives of shame. Such women and girls are fined, as a rule, and, in accordance with the humane tendencies of the time, not infrequently placed under probation. Mr. Houston, who ably defends the probation system against certain ignorant attacks, recognizes that in this case probation is often a mistake and snare under existing arrangements.

To fine a woman of the class in question is simply to send her back to the street to earn the fine. Thus the law blindly and stupidly breeds the very vice it professes to restrain or punish. On the other hand, if the woman, by a few tears and protestations of bad fortune and repentance, obtains the benefit of probation, she too often makes sport of the court and brings probation into disrepute.

The practice of fining such women should be abandoned entirely, Mr. Houston recommends, and rightly so. Probation should be extended only to such offenders as investigation might prove to be worthy of it and sincerely desirous of reclamation and improvement. Punishment where it is called for should take the form of imprisonment—but imprisonment in a truly correctional institution, a farm or other establishment where outcast women who have no training and no definite vocation might be taught some dependable means of earning a living.

These are common sense proposals that our new morals commission cannot too soon take up for serious consideration. If the commission wishes to be useful it will be wholly constructive and will try first of all to provide a place, or several places, for the housing, training, and reclamation of unfortunate and sinned against or sinning women and girls who at present have no earthly "chance" and whom our penal methods drive back into deeper degradation and corruption.

MID-WINTER MADNESS.

It's an interesting idea to relieve congestion by increasing it. We are told that street cars have to be filled down to the last toehold on the platform steps because not enough cars can be put on the tracks. We are told that one reason is there are not enough tracks, and another reason is there is too much vehicular traffic interfering with the operation of cars.

Therefore it is proposed by ardent workers of good in the city hall that motor bus lines shall be established to tag along with street cars and pick up the nickels of folk who cannot get more than a toehold on a street car platform. It might result in giving an overhead route along the main thoroughfares. People of only ordinary agility might, with little difficulty, leap from car roof to bus roof and so home.

This idea is further enriched by the suggestion that the city take its traction fund, divert it from the subway purpose and use it to purchase motor busses. Our ardent workers of good seem to be groping about in a mid-winter madness. Motor bus lines have been operated satisfactorily in other cities, and they might be here, but in Chicago certain restrictions must be recognized. What is needed in the loop district is not a greater jam in the streets, but a means of travel under them, and any suggestion which contemplates not only the substitution of another surface service for underground but the use of the city's traction fund to accomplish that substitution is lunatic.

THE SUFFRAGE VOTE.

The vote on the Mondell amendment to enfranchise women was, from the standpoint of reasonable expectation, a triumph for the advocates of woman suffrage. That the question in a most radical form and upon its first hearing before the whole house should receive 174 votes to 204 against it indicates the force developed by the "cause" throughout the country.

To what exact extent the vote shows the strength of woman suffrage in congress it is less easy to say. If the zeal of some Illinois representatives who voted yea has its source in a discreet sense of the direct "influence" of Illinois women since their partial enfranchisement rather than in independent conviction, it is none the less dependable. Perhaps a few of the 174 voted yea for policy's sake and would have voted nay if the amendment had had a better chance of winning. A "practical" man realizing that his security might be endangered by the acquisition of the franchise might deem it worth his while to acquire a little merit if it were not too hazardous.

But such Machiavellians must be very few, if, indeed, there are any, while on the other hand a number of pro-suffrage votes must have been denied the Mondell amendment because of a conscientious belief that enfranchisement should come state by state.

It may be many years before some states grant the franchise to their women citizens, but it certainly appears that the movement has the force of American social and political tendency behind it.

STATE LAW FOR CLEAN SIDEWALKS?

The corporation counsel's office recommends a state act rather than an ordinance to deal with the nuisance of icy and slippery sidewalks. The matter seems to have been carefully considered, and the recommendation is made with one eye, at least, on our Supreme court.

As THE TRIBUNE has explained to the bewildered native or visitor who, in just wrath at a dangerous and disgraceful condition, blames the wrong parties, the reason Chicago has slippery sidewalks most of the winter and early spring is found in the position repeatedly taken by the Supreme court—namely, that the sidewalks do not belong to the abutting property owners and can't be regarded as theirs for one purpose when they are not so regarded for other purposes. Few states follow us in this view, but our highest tribunal has refused to budge and thinks its position impregnable.

Now, the idea behind the recommended state law is that the court may be mollified and wheedled into sanctioning a mild and reasonable act requiring property owners to remove snow and ice from "a path of limited width" instead of from the entire sidewalk. Such a requirement might be approved as imposing a slight burden, a burden warranted by the benefit to the property owners as well as by that to the pedestrians. The experiment is worth trying. If the courts are afforded another opportunity, at this time, of passing on the question they may subordinate strict legal logic to sense, safety, and expediency. Public sentiment favors regulation, and that's half the battle. To leave the matter to the city is to leave the ice and snow on 90 per cent of the sidewalks.

PLUCKERS LIKELY TO BE PLUCKED.

[From the New York Evening Sun.]

When the board created for the plucking of naval plumes began to operate on men manifestly superior in naval experience and ability to the average of that board's own members it forfeited confidence and lost even the toleration of those who had been willing to wait and see how the thing would go. It takes little consideration to realize that men are poor judges of technical attainments in others which exceed what they themselves possess.

The measure now in congress to pluck the plucking board has good prospects of passage. Whether it passes or not, the activities of this board are probably in any case terminated. To allow the discredited body to live would amount chiefly to extending the tenure of its members to a position in which their thorough discredit will prevent their continuing to be of any use whatever.

Opinion in many quarters agrees that the navy would derive some benefits from a judicious thinning of its officers. Since our naval system precludes the holding of sufficient personal authority by any single naval insider, a special board to accomplish the desirable removals was the obvious expedient to try. Such a board has been tried and found thoroughly wanting. The navy may now have to go back to the old system of no removals save on charges and of slow promotions.

That system, imperfect as it was, had certain advantages, of which one was the sense of security given to the man engaged in a naval career as a life work. Perhaps it made the officer somewhat more wholly mindful of his duties and less apt to follow department politics as a matter of self-preservation.

LADIES, contemplate the legislature at Springfield! Do you really believe that you could ever become so wise in governmental affairs as that incomparable bunch?

DESPERATE diseases, etc. A Chicago lady, who had never worried about equal suffrage, slipped and fell into a puddle on Broadway as deep as the one Dr. Foster encountered on the road to Gloster. Straps!

They cling to straps, the foolish chaps who land in laps and spoil their maps! They hang on straps when if perhaps they weren't yaps they could disturb and promptly curb the street car trust whose aim is just the selfish ends of dividends. The men who pay by night and day all pave the way with hard earned fares for millionaires with "secretaires" who put on airs and flout the cares of those who pay and pave the way. And yet the yaps still cling to straps! They pay the tax and get the ax. Are they not jacks whose braindome lacks the matter gray which sees a way? We have a mayor, who if he'd care to do and dare could soon prepare a way to scare the traction bear who takes our fare and lets us swear! But it's a fact that he won't act. To be exact he's made a pact by platform backed which plainly states that if the fates will still be kind and get behind to reelect, he'll interject moves circumspect and so correct the bad effect. Shall we await the moves of fate? I really hate my views to state. At any rate the same old bait has served a great novitiate! Let us awake and movements make to cause a quake and bring an ache to those who fake with views opaque. Our cause is just and we can bust the traction trust; but first we must stir up the chaps who hang on straps. C. S. A.

THE THOUSAND AND ONE AFTERNOONS

IF MY brother (continued the fair Saidee) had been unaccustomed to the flattery of the so-called fair sex, if he had been homely as Ichabod Crane, instead of handsome as St. Elmo, he might have credited the pink shirt with the magic claimed for it by the Persian shopkeeper, but he was as skeptical as his English friend had been, and he laughed as he thrust the garment into the laundry bag and took another look at himself in the mirror. Narcissus had nothing on my brother.

The following evening Valentine made his toilet with more than usual care, as the novelist says. He was lit up to the last volt. Before heading for the opera he took a turn up and down the avenue, rehearsing the clever speeches he should make to the victim of his irresistible good looks. It had rained within the hour, and a thin fog had drifted in from the lake, and through this veil the white and red lights of the avenue shone mistily. Turbulent streams of automobiles swirled through the fog, and a great crowd was pouring into the opera house. It was a night suited to adventure, and Valentine was in high spirits when he took his seat and began discreetly to inspect the brilliant audience. She was there, in one of the lower boxes. He had thought her handsome the evening before; he thought her ravishingly beautiful now, and he surveyed her companions in cold disapproval, wondering which of the men was the unworthy consort of so radiant a queen. Why do women throw themselves away on commonplace men? And why are composers of opera so long winded. The second act of 'Louise' dragged frightfully.

At intermission the foyer on the box tier was jammed with promenaders, and it was several minutes before Valentine located the radiant lady. She was chatting with friends who came and went, and, although she glanced once or twice in Valentine's direction, he was unable to catch her eye. Presently the gong sounded and she moved toward her box, and Valentine, intercepting her, announced his presence with an elaborate bow. 'Oh!' said the lady. 'Then you really exist!'

Her surprise seemed unaffected, and Valentine's heart began to beat less regularly. He was conscious that one or two cylinders were missing.

WHOOPING COUGH.

WHOOPING cough, according to a number of investigators, is caused by a germ. Sill says: "The germ grows by choice low in the lung and rarely above the larynx. During the early stages of the disease it is found abundantly, but becomes more scanty as the disease progresses."

To know that whooping cough is of germ origin is important. To know how to make an anti-body that will destroy the germ, once it has infected the system, is also of importance. It is of still more importance to have a serum which, like typhoid vaccine, when given to a person will immunize him against the disease. Sill says the present vaccine diminishes markedly the number and severity of the paroxysms and the amount of vomiting.

Whooping cough attacks the young especially. It is not a highly contagious disease and is probably spread by direct contact only, as by kissing or by inhaling the breath of the afflicted during coughing. One attack confers almost absolute immunity. The disease is composed of two elements: One, inflammation of the bronchial tubes, and the other, nervous, the coughing fit.

Of all contagious diseases incident to child life, whooping cough is the most fatal. It is responsible for the death of thousands of babies under 1 year of age each year. Yet little effort is taken to protect children against this disease, which kills över one-fourth of the babies born before they are 1 year old.

Whooping cough develops gradually. It may be mistaken for a bad cold. For this reason it is a safe rule to get the advice of the family physican when the child is suffering from a simple but persistent cold. It is a poor rule to wait until the child is feverish, restless, has watery eyes, swollen lids, does not sleep well, and begins to cough. When in this condition the whoop may begin any moment without apparent reason.

The chief thing in whooping cough is to control the spread of the disease.

The Virginia health bulletin proposes the following rules for the guidance of parents in whose house the disease appears:

"1. Notify all the friends of the family that your child has whooping cough.

"2. Instruct the nurse, or whoever is in charge of the child, not to mingle with other children or to go near any children in any home, park, or public place.

"3. Until the cough has entirely disappeared keep the child from Sunday school and from day school, from the street cars, from stores, and from all contact with children.

"4. If the child is by accident in the company of other children and has a whooping spell cover his mouth and nose with a paper napkin or handkerchief and burn this as soon as possible.

"5. Do to other mothers' children as you would those children's mothers would do unto you."

The best way to keep your child from having whooping cough in the late winter or early spring months is to keep him from colds and away from schools, churches, and other public assemblies where he is likely to come in contact with the infection.

People who are recovering from the disease should be regarded as dangerous and should not be permitted to associate with other people until a health officer says he can do so without endangering others.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE DIETS.

C. R. writes: "Will you kindly let me know what to eat? I have Bright's disease. Will Hot Springs, Ark., cure me?"

REPLY.

I wish I could answer your question in detail and not mislead you a bit. I am afraid to try.

Bright's disease is of several varieties, and the diet good for one is not good for another. If you have acute Bright's disease you should go on a very limited diet. The skim milk cure has helped some. If you have a form of chronic Bright's you must eat more in order to nourish your body, but still you must eat much less than does the average well man. Van Noorden has a valuable little book on diet in Bright's disease. Suppose you get that.

No spring water will cure you. The waters of some springs are of great service in the treatment of certain forms of Bright's, particularly the cases that have a good deal of albumin in the urine. Mountain Valley and Potash-Alum springs, near Hot Springs, are good.

WINTER USE FOR ELECTRIC FAN.

D. B. C. writes: "Your scheme of using an electric fan to force air into a steam radiator and thus improve the room heating is great. I hope you will repeat the suggestion often enough for everybody to learn the trick."

REPLY.

The method is simple. Place an electric fan where it will drive air against the radiators. The purpose is to force the warm air from the radiators to the cold portions of the room. It is especially serviceable under such circumstances as the following:

If when the thermometer registers high the occupants complain of having cold feet, or "of being cold," or if some of the occupants are too cold and some too warm.

SHOULD SEE PHYSICIAN.

F. J. S. writes: "Will home made bran bread be injurious to a man having ulcers of the stomach? I am constantly constipated. Will bran bread or fruit correct this?"

REPLY.

Bran bread, fruit in abundance, and an abundance of water will cure most cases of constipation. Eat all kinds of fruit. A person with stomach ulcer should be under the close control of his physician, obeying his instructions.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1915: By the Brentwood Co.]

ITALY'S principal order of knighthood, that of the Annunciation, has so few members outside the princes of the reigning house and a certain number of foreign sovereigns that its bestowal upon Onorevole Salandra, the prime minister of the kingdom, calls for passing mention.

There are not more than eight nonroyal Italian knights of this order all told, and as a member thereof Prof. Salandra becomes, ipso facto, a titular cousin of his sovereign and outranks the greatest nobles of the realm, coming immediately after the princes of the reigning house.

Moreover, whether in or out of cabinet office, he is, as a knight of the Annunciation, exempt from the jurisdiction of the ordinary tribunals of the land and may be tried only by the senate, sitting as a special court of justice.

Prof. Salandra is above everything else a knight of the pen. Until he became prime minister he earned his living partly as a professor of public law of the university at Rome, but more especially by the remarkable articles which he was wont to contribute to the leading newspapers and reviews.

Few men in public life are more generally respected by political friends and foes alike than Prof. Salandra, who without being a reactionary has always been one of the conservative forces of the Liberal party, a Liberal, indeed, of the type of his old time friend and associate, ex-Premier Sonnino, now serving under him as minister of foreign affairs.

He is a man of the most broad minded views, extremely level headed, and averse to any action that has not received due and full consideration.

While opposed to the demand of the extremists of the Liberal party for the enactment of laws of divorce which do not now exist in Italy, and although he has voted on several occasions against the measure, he has notified the members of his cabinet that they are free to vote, each of them according to his own conscience about the matter.

The order of the Annunciation was bestowed upon Premier Salandra on the occasion of the christening of the little girl who was born to the king and queen of Italy the other day, and who received her grandmother's name of Margherita, also that of Maria.

The prime minister always acts on such occasions as the grand registrar of the birth and baptism of the children of the sovereign and as grand notary of the realm, and Victor Emmanuel III. has made it a habit of presenting the collar of the order to the premier for the time being as a memento of his services.

The insignia of the order consist of a badge, upon which is represented a picture of the annunciation to the Virgin by the Angel Gabriel, and is worn suspended to the neck, not by a ribbon but by a small chain of gold.

The badge and the star which is worn in connection therewith on the left breast bear on them the curious word "Fert," the meaning and origin of which were a matter of no end of speculation even to the most learned antiquarians and historians until the mystery was set at rest a few years ago by King Victor Emmanuel, who in the course of his numismatic studies and collections came across a medal issued to commemorate the marriage of Duke Charles Emmanuel of Savoy to Princess Catherine of Spain in 1580.

The medal, which is now comprised in the king's collection and is unique of its kind, bears on one side the effigies of the royal couple and on the reverse their arms with the words "Fert Refertque" (Take and Retake), which is nothing more than the beginning of the well known verse of Virgil on the episode of Dido.

This is, I believe, the only case on record where for several hundred years a reigning house has used on its armorial bearings as its heraldic motto and as the device of its principal order of knighthood a word of the exact meaning of which it was ignorant.

Every smoker of tobacco is affected by the emancipation of Egypt from the suzerainty of the Turkish empire. Egypt has been so celebrated for its cigarets in all portions of the world that a widespread impression has prevailed to the effect that they were made of Egyptian tobacco. This is not the case.

Owing to the Ottoman government having converted the cultivation and production of tobacco into a state monopoly, Egypt, as a dependency of the Ottoman empire, has been strictly precluded from growing tobacco, for which its soil and its climate are particularly well suited. Indeed, years ago the cultivation of tobacco was one of the chief industries of the land of the Nile.

If the English authorities in Egypt and likewise other foreign officials of the khedivial government were so extraordinarily strict in the enforcement of the Turkish laws against the cultivation of tobacco in the land of the Nile it was because the revenues of the Turkish state tobacco monopoly were hypothecated to the foreign holders of Turkish government bonds.

All the cigarets made in Egypt and all the tobacco sold there for chibouk or hookah purposes have had to be imported either from the Ottoman state plantations of tobacco in Turkey in Europe and in Asia Minor or else from Greece. More than this, the importers had to pay duty thereon.

Under the new régime, with the land of the Nile freed from every vestige of Turkish suzerainty and existing as an independent state under the protectorate of Great Britain, land owners in Egypt will now be free to grow all the tobacco that they wish without let or hindrance by the government.

Egypt will once more become a tobacco growing country, and, what is more important to us all here, Egyptian cigarets will become cheaper.

In connection with Egypt, a curious question is raised by Lord Cromer, who for more than two decades figured as British plenipotentiary there. It is in connection with the annual tribute of some $4,000,000 which has hitherto constituted a first charge on the revenues of Egypt.

It was an expenditure for which the Egyptian nation received no return, and which had been raised to that large amount by old Khedive Ismail in return for certain favors of a personal character which he had secured by this means from the sublime porte.

Since Egypt has ceased to be a tributary dependency of the Ottoman empire there is no reason why it should continue to pay its annual tribute into the Ottoman treasury.

Lord Cromer seems to think that Egypt should continue indefinitely this tribute, because Turkey has hypothecated it to the holders of Turkish government bonds. This is an untenable contention. Turkey, if it remains in existence after the present war is over, must make some other arrangement for its foreign bondholders and not at the expense of Egypt.

Lord Cromer finds it difficult to forget that he first went to Egypt as the representative of foreign bondholders and that he is a member of the great financial dynasty of Baring.

ASSESSMENTS IN MORGAN PARK

Chicago, Jan. 10.—[To the Friend of the People.]—There is delinquency somewhere in regard to letting the taxpayers know how much their assessment is for street paving done in Morgan Park during the summer and fall of 1914. Meantime interest is accruing for me to pay. I want to pay at once and stop the interest. Why cannot it be told right now how much my assessment is? Can I stop the interest accruing by depositing in bank enough to cover an approximate amount of my assessment? The officials have had over two months to figure out the assessment in detail and it is time they were awakened to the fact that some taxpayers at least are alert. L. M. FOOTE.

The work was completed last month, and the assessment will be in collection some time next month, after which bills may be had from the city collector. There are certain requirements of the law that must be complied with after an improvement is completed, before the assessment is ready for payment, all of which takes time. You may rest assured that there is no more delay in the handling of this matter than is absolutely necessary in order to carry out all the legal requirements.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly inform me when Howard street, near Western avenue, will be paved. JOHN JAEGER.

Press Comment on Wilson Speech

HOW HE DISPOSED OF TARIFF.

[From the Philadelphia North American.]

The most characteristic passage in the address is that in which the president announces that he has settled the tariff controversy. The genius of the Democracy, he intimates, works while we sleep, and has disposed of this perplexing problem without even arousing suspicion of its purpose.

How? Why, by some language, to be sure. Where? In a bill dealing with an entirely different matter. What bill? That creating a trade commission. Without the knowledge of the public or of congress, we are informed, the law was so phrased as to endow that body with the functions of a tariff commission, and it will perform them as mere incidents to its routine work of revolutionizing the biggest business processes of the country.

Although the trade commission has not yet been organized and will be of doubtful efficacy when it is; although its rules of procedure have not been formulated nor its powers defined, Mr. Wilson blandly declares that "business is emancipated" and every man knows exactly what he may and may not do.

And, now, by another wave of his hand, he confers on this body what he imagines to be the powers of a tariff commission, and is prepared to rebuke any one who dares henceforth to question that the entire tariff issue has been solved scientifically, completely, and irrevocably.

WHERE HE RANG THE BELL.

[From the Toledo Blade.]

But the president is absolutely right when he says: "The Democratic party is still on trial." That was horse sense. It was no more debatable than the morning announcement of the alarm clock. The Democratic party still has to prove that its fiscal policy is not synonymous with industrial depression, unemployment, and soup kitchens. It still has to prove that spending many millions of dollars more than Uncle Sam has in his box is the same thing as economy. It still has to show the country that in framing the biggest "pork barrel" ever written it had the country's welfare in mind.

The president has been charged with substituting rhetoric for statesmanship. Yet to say that "the Democratic party is still on trial" was not all rhetorical. It was plain, everyday, conspicuous truth.

HIS ASPIRATIONS.

[From the Anaconda (Mont.) Standard.]

In his speech at Indianapolis the other day President Wilson did not say positively that he is going to be a candidate for another term as president, but he did make a very strong presentation of the accomplishments of the Democratic administration, and he gave the best of reasons why the Democratic party should be given a continued lease of power.

DEMOCRATIC DISAPPOINTMENT.

[From the Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier.]

President Wilson's Indianapolis address was especially disappointing in what it did not say with reference to the pending ship purchase bill. He was exceedingly scornful of those who have declared themselves in opposition to the measure. But the only thing which he himself said in its favor was to point to the soaring ocean freight rates.

THE ROLE WAS TOO MUCH FOR HIM.

[From the New York Post.]

If the president's admirers feel any disappointment in his first political speech, after so long a silence, it is mainly because Woodrow Wilson essayed for a day to be Andrew Jackson. That is a rôle which he is not well fitted to play. Its temper is not congenial to him. And the effect upon the national audience of his attempting to assume the part is plainly surprise mixed with irritation.

PHRASE MAKING VS. STATESMANSHIP.

[From the New York Tribune.]

The deeper one goes into Mr. Wilson's utterances the more his dependence upon the mere phrase becomes apparent. Phrases are easily manipulated in the hands of a master. But in the long run a statesman must deal not with words but with facts. Phrases must be squared with facts, since facts cannot be subdued, except for the moment, by the felicities of the stylist. Even the president's friendliest critics are beginning to realize that his accomplishments as a phrase maker are more gilt edged than his accomplishments as a statesman.

DIDN'T MAKE FRIENDS.

[From the Troy (N. Y.) Times.]

The president did not increase the number of his friends or his admirers by his speech in Indianapolis. The partisanship of the address did not add to the dignity of the presidential office, and there was not much outside of the always felicitous diction—and even that was not at its best—to distinguish it from the ordinary spellbinder's appeal.

HIS MISJUDGMENT.

[From the Minneapolis Journal.]

No matter whether Mr. Wilson spoke as "a politician" or as "a historian," or as both, he spoke with narrowness, partiality and fatuous blindness. To declare that the Republican party has not had a new idea in thirty years is the same as saying that the United States has been backward, lagging in progress, and without development for the greater portion of that period, during which it was under the guiding policies of the Republican party.

MR. WILSON AS STUMPER.

[From the Washington Star.]

Take the question of the tariff. Mr. Wilson spoke incautiously as to that. Does he really feel that the country is to come into possession for the first time of adequate information for revising the tariff through the labors of the federal trade commission? Magnifying the opportunity of the federal trade commission at the expense of the present tariff law is a strange proceeding for those responsible for the law.

He pats on the back the Republican showing independence of that party's organization, but warns the Democrat showing any signs of a mind of his own.

ON THE DEFENSIVE.

[From the Philadelphia Telegraph.]

There was a tone of partisan bitterness about it, and traces of disappointment, clearly due to the fact that he finds himself the subject of criticism within his own party as well as being confronted by a now practically united opposition.

With pretty much every policy, in fact, which is distinctively a policy of the administration it is on the defensive. Damaging policies have damaged the administration, and there is not enough good which the president can offer the country through the Democratic party to repair the damage.

A DEMOCRATIC VIEW.

[From the Peoria Journal.]

The fact of the matter is, however, that no public proclamation was necessary to inform the intelligent public that Mr. Wilson is the only Democrat in the country—according to the present outlook—who could logically be expected to carry the party banner in 1916. The president has played less politics and paid less heed to his own strategical opportunities than any man who has occupied the executive chair for many years. He doubtless aimed to "stir up the animals" a little—and he has succeeded admirably, as the squealing shows.

WIFE PAYS LIFE FOR KINDNESS DOSE TO LUNATIC

He Uses a Dunning Permit to Leave the Hospital to Kill Her.

The "kindness treatment" for insanity, favored by scientists of the modern school, claimed another victim in Chicago yesterday.

Robert Thomas, a "trusty" in the Chicago state hospital for the insane at Dunning, got permission to spend the day with his wife in the city and took advantage of the opportunity by killing her. Then, lest he be charged with violating the trust under which he enjoyed so many liberties, he hurried back to Dunning. Detectives were waiting at the hospital gate to arrest the murderer, but he would not accompany them until he had been permitted to explain that the circumstances which had made him late in "reporting in" were extraordinary.

Landlady Not Surprised.

Mrs. Ida Thomas, the "trusty's" wife, occupied a room in the third floor flat at 2007 North Robey street. Mrs. Belle Damrosch, from whom she rented the room, was not surprised when Thomas presented himself at the front door shortly before noon and asked for his wife. He had been there several times before on visits sanctioned by the hospital authorities.

Mrs. Damrosch, a widow well along in years and almost deaf, knew the story, too. Mrs. Thomas had told how her husband, a stage hand, had drunk himself out of his mind, had tried to cut his throat while crazy with whisky, and had been committed to the hospital at Dunning.

Had Been Drinking.

"It is a pleasant day," said Mrs. Damrosch, to make conversation while waiting for Mrs. Thomas to come from her room.

"So pleasant," said the man from Dunning, smiling, "that I thought I'd run up to town to see my wife. I do pretty well as I please, you know."

As he spoke Mrs. Damrosch noticed Thomas had been drinking. She had been told at such times he might become dangerous. But he had been in the same condition on his previous visits and nothing had happened, so she was not afraid.

Thomas sat looking on and chatting while his wife and Mrs. Damrosch ate luncheon. He was not hungry, he explained. He suggested he might take Mrs. Thomas for a walk.

Policeman at Door.

About 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon Mrs. Damrosch heard a noise in the dining room—the first unusual sound that had carried to her ears. She found a policeman standing in the dining room door.

"What's the trouble here?" asked the policeman.

"No trouble. Why?"

"A Main 13 call was relayed on to the town hall station," explained the policeman. "There was a man on the wire. He said some one was fighting in this house here. There's nothing wrong in any other flat, so this must be the one."

Mrs. Damrosch, suddenly apprehensive, walked to the door of Mrs. Thomas' room. She screamed and the policeman jumped to her side. On the floor lay Mrs. Thomas with her throat slashed. She was dead. Thomas had gone.

Woman Below Heard Screams.

Mrs. Damrosch's police caller—Patrolman Charles Hepp of the Town Hall station—found out where the alarm had come from. Miss Lottie Heatherington, who lives in the flat beneath that of Mrs. Damrosch, had heard screams from above. She had opened her door just in time to see a big man in a blue suit coming down the stairs. When he had gone she had run into the tailor shop downstairs, and E. G. Lindstrand, the tailor, had called the police.

When Lieut. John Damman heard Mrs. Damrosch's story he hurried detectives to Dunning equipped with a description of Thomas and orders to fetch him back to the station. The detectives had not been waiting long when Thomas arrived. The man was first taken to the office of Dr. C. F. Read, assistant superintendent of the hospital.

"Don't blame me for being late, doctor," Thomas pleaded. "There was something that kept me and got my mind off the time. Yes, I've been drinking a little. I guess that was wrong."

At the station Thomas confessed to the murder. A confession was hardly necessary, for his clothing was stained with blood.

"She told me she was in love with another man," said Thomas. "I told her I wouldn't let any one else have her, and then I killed her with my jackknife. I'm that way when I drink."

Hospital's Side of Case.

Thomas' attempted suicide occurred on May 14 and a week later he was committed to Dunning by a jury which found he suffered from "alcoholic hallucinations."

"Thomas was what we call a chronic alcoholic," said Dr. Read. "When the alcohol was out of his system he was to all purposes sane, but a few drinks acted as a poison.

"The modern theory of treating insanity cases is to give them as much liberty as possible. You know we have no walls at Dunning and we are liberal with our paroles. Under this system we have perhaps one escape a day—but that is a burden society must bear."

"What efforts are made to recapture those who escape?"

"We generally let them go unless we regard them as dangerous."

Harmless—Yes. Let 'Em Murder.

A little more than a year ago "Crazy Peter" Welter, a "harmless" lunatic permitted to roam at large, visited two houses on the west side and left a murdered woman behind in each.

Last February Richard Schulz, "a little bit off, but harmless," killed Mrs. Elizabeth Healy in her home at 2424 Lincoln avenue because she refused to prepare a free meal for him.

Last spring Harley Beard, a farmer's boy with a kink in his brain, came to Chicago with the blood of the three members of his employer's family on his hands.

Last July Boswell C. F. Smith, another mental defective, dragged 4 year old Hazel Weinstein into an alley and choked her to death.

Yesterday Robert Thomas, a "trusty" at the Chicago State Hospital for the insane at Dunning, walked away with the permission of his keepers and killed his wife in her Chicago home. Then, to prove the confidence which made him a "trusty" had not been displaced, he went back to Dunning and apologized for being away an extra hour.

William B. Crawford Identified by Girl Whose Braid Was Snipped Off.

William B. Crawford is under arrest at the Fiftieth street station, where he was identified last night by Florentine Severa, 14 years old, of 4128 Calumet avenue, as the man who cut off a braid of her hair.

Crawford lives with his mother, a widow, at 4217 St. Lawrence avenue. Detectives went to his home and, after gaining entrance, found that Crawford had attached a padlock to his bedroom door. They broke this off and entering found a pair of shears.

PANAMA PARADE BY WAR VESSELS OF FIVE NATIONS

Change Made in Program for Formal Opening of the Great Channel.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Secretary Daniels of the navy today announced the program for the visit of the international fleet to the Panama canal for the official opening of the great channel.

Besides the great American battleship fleet vessels representing at least four foreign nations will take part. They are Argentina, Cuba, Portugal, and Spain.

The rendezvous of the fleets at Hampton Roads will be abandoned and the ships will gather at Cristobal at the Atlantic end of the canal instead.

Statement Made by Daniels.

The program was outlined in the following statement by Secretary Daniels:

"The following named foreign vessels are expected to take part in the celebration incident to the opening of the Panama canal:

"Argentina will send the battleship Moreno, flying the flag of Vice Admiral Onofre Betbeder; Cuba will send the cruiser Cuba; Portugal will send the cruiser Almirante Reis and the dispatch boat Cinco de Outubro; Spain will send the battleship España.

"The battleships of the Atlantic fleet and the destroyer flotilla will proceed to Guantanamo and Guacanayabo bay on Jan. 17 for extended fleet exercises and target practices, seventeen battleships taking part in the maneuvers. The Georgia, Texas, South Carolina, and Minnesota will remain at their home yards undergoing overhaul until Feb. 15. These vessels will proceed to southern waters the latter part of February.

President on the New York.

"The Texas will remain at Hampton Roads to escort the president to Panama on the New York; the New York proceeding to Hampton Roads from Cuban waters about Feb. 15, prepared to receive the president on March 5.

"It is intended that the Washington relieve the Delaware in Mexican waters as soon as practicable, and that the Delaware and Rhode Island will join the fleet in Cuban waters. The Rhode Island has been ordered from New Orleans to Norfolk for docking, and on the completion of docking, about Jan. 22, will proceed to Guantanamo to join the fleet.

"The battleships and the destroyers of the active flotilla (about 23) will remain in Cuban waters, carrying on drills and exercises, until Feb. 25, and will then proceed to Panama, all 21 battleships going through the canal to San Francisco.

Cannot All Pass at Once.

"There can, of course, be no parade of the fleet as a whole through the canal. This would result in congestion in Colon and in the canal, with serious delay.

"The Oregon and Olympic will take part, to be in Colon prior to March 5, filled with coal and ready to proceed.

"Besides the twenty-one battleships of the Atlantic all vessels of the Atlantic torpedo boat flotilla, including the Birmingham, Dixie, and Arethusa will accompany the fleet to San Francisco. The reserve torpedo flotilla, Atlantic fleet, will not proceed to San Francisco."

BIDS U. S. WOMEN HELP IN BELGIUM

Dr. Hedger Writes Chicago Club to Organize for Constructive Work There.

NEED OF REBUILDING.

Dr. Caroline Hedger in her first letter to the Chicago Woman's club from the European continent recommends an American woman's rehabilitation committee for Belgium as the greatest possibility for constructive work in that country. Dr. Hedger was sent to Belgium by the Woman's club. She wrote from Rotterdam on Christmas day, and the letter was read yesterday at the meeting of the club in the Fine Arts building.

Part of Letter.

Part of the leteтr follows:

"We arrived here after a rather hard trip of twenty-four hours, leaving London at 9:30 p. m. We got through the customs at Tilbury without any difficulty, thanks to our two weeks' work in London. All the other people we saw were searched, but we were courteously escorted out by a Scotland Yards detective. About midnight we were put on a tender in the Thames, where 150 of us were packed sardinewise in a small cabin. We shivered through until 6 in the morning, when we were put on the ship, which just then steamed up. We steamed steadily from morning till 10 at night. Heaven and the pilot only know where we went, for the normal sailing time from Tilbury to Rotterdam is only seven hours.

Details of Plan.

"The possibility for constructive work as I see it is in an American women's rehabilitation committee for Belgium. Its object should be as far as possible from relief, though of course the coöperation would have to be perfect between all relief bodies and this committee. So far as I can see at the present time it should:

"Provide material to work upon, as I understand the relief commission has no freedom under its agreement with Germany to furnish clothing. Payment for work could or should be made in clothing or in food.

"Establish industries in Belgium, for instance: Lacemaking, chicken farming, knitting, pottery.

"Market lace and other products outside of Belgium. A market for lace made by Belgians has already been partially established in England. The difficulty here comes in the question, will the Germans permit the exportation of the lace?

"This is a huge proposition—big enough, in fact, for the General Federation of Women's clubs—and the more powerful the organization that can take hold of it the better, for if it is done it must be recognized as constructive work.

"Will you organize for reconstructive work of this kind? If it appeals to you it should be done promptly and on a broad basis.

Belgians in London.

"While in London we went to one of the headquarters for Belgian refugees and were greatly impressed with the fine management of an immense problem, started by private funds and management, and getting so large that the government has taken a hand.

"At the receiving headquarters we visited there had already been 85,000 handled, and Miss Bruce, head of the Red Cross workers there, told us that every Belgian baby was fitted out with large numbers of adult relatives, that not one without relatives had been through their hands, and that if one should turn up there would be twenty English homes pen for it at once."

A CHANCE TO GIVE HELP.

Readers of THE TRIBUNE who wish to help the suffering people of Belgium may do so by sending checks to W. J. Chalmers, treasurer of the Belgian food relief committee, 72 West Adams street, Chicago, with the assurance that the money will be wisely spent for food, shipped free of cost by the railways to the seaboard and across the ocean by the Rockefeller foundation, and distributed to the noncombatant women and children.

PENSIONS FOR HELP LAST ACT OF A. A. SPRAGUE

Ordered Into Effect on Last Saturday Benefit Plan for Aged Employes.

The last official act of the late Albert Arnold Sprague took place on Saturday—the day before his death. He ordered into effect a pension plan for Sprague, Warner & Co. and selected three persons who have been in his employ more than thirty years to be the first beneficiaries.

Those first to go on the pension list are Miss Hattie Wolgemuth, a clerk in the employ of Mr. Sprague thirty-three years; Hans Amundson, clerk in tobacco department thirty-eight years; Frank Liebrich, porter, thirty years.

Sprague Originates Idea.

More than two years ago a committee was appointed by the directors to work out a pension plan to embody Mr. Sprague's idea of no assessment on the employés. A fund was set aside on Jan. 1, 1914. The board of directors met Jan. 6. The pension plan was approved on Saturday, and Mr. Sprague picked the three persons who were the first to retire.

A. A. Sprague II. announced the plan of the pension yesterday. The fund was supplied by the corporation and was not provided for in the will of Mr. Sprague. Participation of the employés in the fund lies somewhat in the discretion of the management, but the general plan divides the employés into three classes.

Provisions of System.

Employés who have been with the firm from twenty to twenty-four years receive 50 per cent of the average salary for the five years preceding participation in the pension. Employés from twenty-five to twenty-nine years will receive 55 per cent, and those who have been connected with the firm for thirty years or more will receive 60 per cent.

Except in cases of ill health or injury, the employés are not eligible to participate in the pension unless they are 60 years old. The total amount is also subject to a maximum, so the high salaried employés do not draw the bulk of the pension fund to the detriment of the lower salaried employés.

Employés of the first class cannot receive more than $1,040 a year; second class, $1,144 a year, and the third class, $1,248 a year.

The will of the late Mr. Sprague probably will not be probated for some time.

OF NEW YORK

During 1914 The Evening Sun gained 324,601 lines more advertising than the gain of all the other New York newspapers combined. For this there is a real reason.

The Evening Sun's cleverness and good discretion in the general news handling—the common touch of its featured columns (Sun Dial, for instance)—the expert and complete sporting department—the authenticity and fairness of its war news—

the penetration and neutrality of its famous war editorials, and—its advanced and reasonable woman's page, and—

withal, its clean and handsome make-up, have so commanded public interest and favor and created such confidence in it as a newspaper personality that the public and advertisers believe in its advertising columns as they believe in its news columns.

Add to this that the net paid circulation has increased over 30,000 in the same time and the statement that The Evening Sun is really the best advertising medium in New York is incontrovertible.

TEN BOND ISSUES MAY BE PUT UP TO APRIL VOTERS

Improvement Propositions Calling for $8,000,000 Slated by Aldermen.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Will the voters approve of all or any of ten city bond issue propositions submitted simultaneously for a total of more than $8,000,000?

The city council faces the question. The finance committee in its budget work has voted to submit nine of the propositions at the April election and the recommendation for the tenth will be presented formally tomorrow. That is the plea of the Association of Commerce in favor of a $1,250,000 municipal convention hall on the lake shore adjoining the municipal pier.

Never in the history of Chicago have so many bond propositions been placed on the little ballot, although the total of five issues asked in 1912 approached the $10,000,000 mark, and two of the largest three of the five were defeated. Last year three out of five city bond issues and the one bond issue submitted by the county were defeated. Three of the now proposed issues have been defeated twice in the past.

These Bond Issues Sought.

The list of the ten issues follows:

Bridges	$2,205,000
Municipal convention hall	1,250,000
Central police and court building	1,340,000
New police stations and repairs	1,199,000
New fire stations and repairs	575,000
Garbage reduction works	700,000
Bathing beaches and small parks	600,000
Industrial farm colony for women	200,000
John Worthy school dormitory	60,000
House of Shelter for women offenders	50,000
Total	$8,179,000

Here's Fate in Past Elections.

Here is the record of the fate of city bond issues submitted to the voters in the last four years:

1911.

$4,655,000 in bridge construction bonds approved by majority of 146,333.

$5,000,000 in harbor construction bonds approved by majority of 42,639.

$250,000 in bathing beach bonds approved by majority of 3,697.

$380,000 in contagious disease hospital bonds approved by majority of 30,653.

Two million two hundred and forty-five thousand dollars for police department buildings defeated by majority of 26,486.

One million eight hundred and fourteen thousand dollars for fire department buildings defeated by majority of 4,927.

Two million eight hundred and eighty thousand dollars for corporate purposes because of Juul law decision loss, approved by majority of 4,885.

1914.

One million dollars for fire department buildings defeated by majority of 116,345.

Two million, five hundred thousand dollars for police department buildings defeated by majority of 156,250.

Four hundred and seventy thousand dollars for contagious disease hospital approved by majority of 59,374.

Support Bridge Bonds.

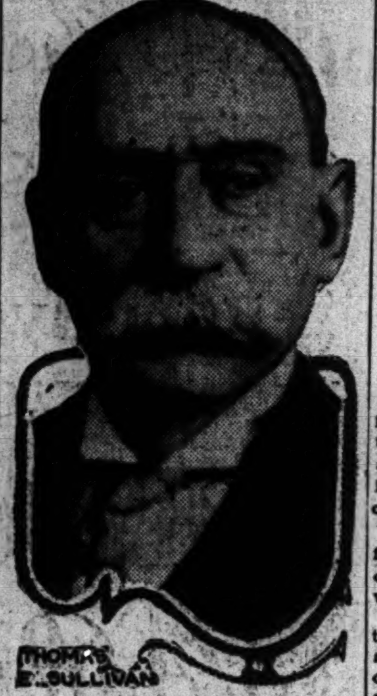
Each of the ten issues now under consideration has its enthusiastic advocates. The largest of all—the $2,205,000 for new bridges—will have hearty support from a number of sources. It includes $900,000 as the city's share for the new bridge to become a part of the new Twelfth street when that thoroughfare is widened and there is in it also the city's share of $505,000 in the new double decked Lake street bridge.

MAYOR ASKS COURT BUILDING

Aroused by Yesterday's Escapes from the City Hall "Bull Pen."

A plea for a specially designed building to house the Municipal courts was made by Mayor Harrison yesterday following the escape of two prisoners from a "bull pen" on the ninth floor of the city hall. The escape was the third or fourth of the same kind within a year. The men who escaped are John Malone and Harry McCarthy, both held on robbery charges.

Head of Old Time Printers' Body.



"Women and War" will be the topic on which Miss Jane Addams will address the Old Time Printers' association at its thirtieth annual banquet at the Hotel La Salle Saturday evening. The Rev. Dr. Francis Clement Kelley, editor of the Extension Magazine, will speak on the situation in Mexico. Motion pictures will be shown of the unveiling of the printers' memorial window in the Henry O. Shepard public school and of other affairs relating to the printing industry.

Thomas E. Sullivan is president of the association. William H. French will act as toastmaster. Miss Margarete Madden, soloist in St. Ita's church, will sing, and dancing will follow the speechmaking.

CALLS MEETING ON TAX REFORM

Chicago Realty Board Asks Civic Bodies to Conference Wednesday.

Delegates from civic organizations will be invited today to attend a conference at the Chicago real estate board rooms in the Press Club building next Wednesday afternoon to consider the best methods to obtain reforms in Illinois revenue laws.

The invitations will be sent out by the legislative committee of the Chicago real estate board as a result of a plan adopted at its meeting yesterday.

Two Delegates from These.

Among the organizations to be invited to send two delegates are:

Chicago Association of Commerce.
Commercial club.
Industrial club.
City club.
Civic Federation of Chicago.
Citizens' association.
Illinois Manufacturers' association.
Traffic association.
Constitutional Convention league.
Building Managers' association.
Chicago Architects' association.
West Side Improvement association.
Lake View Improvement association.
South Side Improvement association.

Co-operation Chief Aim.

Henry G. Zander, chairman of the legislative committee, said his organization has not discussed the best method of getting tax reform for Illinois.

"It is the desire of the committee to take up plans for procuring relief with representatives of all of the leading civic bodies in Cook county," Mr. Zander said. "It seems to be generally agreed present revenue laws should be revised. The question to be settled is how best to obtain such relief. It is our desire to get the coöperation of all of the organizations for one plan to be adopted after thrashing out the merits of all proposed methods and then present a united front in the legislature."

Berger "Receives" Sixty.

Assistant State's Attorney Harry Berber "received" sixty-one citizens yesterday who had received from the state's attorney's office notices to "come in and talk over your personal property tax schedule." Mr. Berger declined to give out the names of any of his callers. He said in most instances arrangements were made.

DERING URGES CONVENTION ON NEW BASIC LAW

Commerce President for 1915 Asks Backing for State Constitution.

Charles L. Dering pointed out the imperative necessity for a new state constitution in his inaugural address yesterday at a luncheon in the Hotel La Salle as the incoming president of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Mr. Dering could see no adequate relief from the taxation difficulties of the state, county, and city without a convention to write a new basic law for the state.

"Most important problems relating to the proposed changes in our state constitution," Mr. Dering said, "should receive immediate and most careful consideration. The best opinion is that adequate relief from our pernicious system of taxation can be secured only through constitutional changes.

"Consolidation of the various taxing bodies in Chicago and Cook county is recognized as one of Chicago's most pressing problems. Changes in the constitution, however, will have to be made before such consolidation can be accomplished. Other important modifications in the constitution also will be urged at the present session of the legislature.

Wants United Action.

"This association is on record strongly in favor of the tax amendment proposed at the last two sessions of the legislature, but the association has not as yet taken action favoring the calling of a constitutional convention. I feel that this question, which may appear to be one of method only, is one of great importance for the reason that unless there is united and energetic support in favor of one plan the result will be the same as in the preceding sessions of the legislature, and no relief at all will be secured.

"Consolidation of the many taxing bodies within Chicago is not bound up by like complications. A bill similar to the one which, after being passed by the last legislature, failed of executive approval, doubtless will be offered at this session of the legislature and should receive our earnest support. Until this vitally constructive legislation for Chicago is secured the duty of concentrating upon it by all actively interested in our city's welfare seems clear."

Attacks City Policy.

Mr. Dering condemned the system of city government which requires private organizations of citizens to do much work which the city should do.

Mr. Dering urged the support of the members of the association in pushing to completion the "Town Hall of the Nation" and saw for the business men of the city an era of prosperity.

"We have passed safely through the valley of business depression," Mr. Dering said. "There is confidence today where yesterday there were misgivings."

The need of a new city charter, Mr. Dering believes, is imperative. He predicted unusual activity in foreign trade.

With Mr. Dering the other officers of the association for the year were installed as follows: Lucius Teter, treasurer; Frederick L. Brown, secretary; J. P. Nickerson, vice president and chairman of the foreign trade committee; Fred L. Rossback, vice president and chairman of the local division; John W. O'Leary, vice president and chairman of the civic industrial division; James W. Morrisson, vice president and chairman of the interstate division.

In his retiring address Joseph H. De Frees, president for 1914, recalled the constructive work of the association in the affairs of the city, state, and nation.

MAY ASK $1,000,000 BONDS FOR NORTH SHORE PLAN.

Lincoln Park Board Orders Estimates on Cost of Extensions Along Lake.

Voters at the spring election probably will be asked to approve a bond issue of approximately $1,000,000 for the purpose of continuing the improvement of the north shore from Cornelia street to Byron street, a distance of half a mile.

The Lincoln park commissioners yesterday ordered the preparation of estimates on the cost of the proposed extension, together with data on the work already done.

GUTIERREZ WINS AS PRESIDENT

Renamed by Mexicans to Fill Out Porfirio Diaz's Term; Villa O. K.'s.

FEAR BALK BY ZAPATA.

Mexico City, Jan. 13.—It was reported that the national convention has renamed Gen. Eulalio Gutierrez as provisional president of Mexico.

Gen. Gutierrez will serve out the unexpired term of Gen. Porfirio Diaz, which would terminate in November, 1916.

Villa Approves Appointment.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 13.—The reappointment of Gen. Gutierrez as provisional president of Mexico by the national convention is understood to have the full support of Gen. Francisco Villa and his northern troops.

Its acceptance, however, by the followers of Gen. Zapata, the southern chieftain, was held in doubt by well informed officials here.

Would Finish Diaz Term.

Gutierrez, it was understood, would serve out the unexpired term of President Diaz, which had been interrupted by the Madero revolution.

President Madero began to serve out the Diaz term when his death occurred incidental to the Felix Diaz-Huerta uprising. Gutierrez thus would become the third president to attempt to complete a single six year term of office.

MILWAUKEE'S PRIZE PUPIL FINDS HERSELF NEGRO GIRL.

Believed She Was White for Eleven Years—Colored Father Claims Her from Foster Parents.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 13.—Courts, police, district attorney, and probation officers have passed decision in the strange case of Rosie Jones, 11 years old, known for six years as Rosie Williams, and for three years foster-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Heck, 743 Second street.

Rosie, prize pupil of the Fourth street school, and who always has believed herself to be a white girl, must leave the home of her Milwaukee foster-parents and in future make her home in Minneapolis with her real father, who is a colored man.

The remarkable story of the little girl was revealed when Charles Jones, 38 years old, colored, Minneapolis railroad man, presented undeniable proof that Rosie is his daughter.

When Rosie was born in Chicago, her mother, who was white, died. Her grandmother and aunts took the child and went to live in Iron Mountain. When Rosie was 4 years old the father applied to the courts for her custody and was successful, he says. The grandmother, however, brought the child to Milwaukee, and, it is said, assumed the name of Williams.

RIVAL BASEBALL LEADERS EXPECT SPEEDY ACTION.

BOTH FACTIONS HOPE TO CLOSE CASE IN HURRY

O. B. Forces Hold All Day Session Here Framing Their Defense.

ROGER SIGNS M'LARRY.

BY SAM WELLER.

Speedy action is looked for by both the Federal league and organized baseball in the injunction proceedings which will be in Judge Landis' federal court next Wednesday. Leaders for both sides yesterday expressed the opinion that the case will be decided in ample time to allow the clubs of the three leagues to hie southward to prepare for active pastime without any danger that a court verdict may throw a monkey wrench into the baseball machinery before the championship season opens.

Attorneys for O. B. continued their work of framing a defense for the charges brought by the Feds. Garry Herrmann, chairman of the national commission, and John A. Heydler, secretary of the National league, arrived early in the day and immediately went into secret conference with the legal lights retained to handle their case. Before the session started the legal trenches of O. B. were strengthened by the addition of John J. Healy, former state's attorney, to the firm of Kincaid & Galvin of Cincinnati, which is handling the commission's end of the suit.

Works on Testimony.

"We are merely preparing our testimony in the form of affidavits," said Herrmann. "There is nothing new in our end of the matter. While I do not like to venture an opinion as to the probable outcome of this tangle, I cannot see where we have a chance to lose. But we are content to wait until Judge Landis reaches a decision. His verdict will justify the methods employed by organized baseball, I am sure. We have tried to keep the game clean, and I do not think the judge will need much evidence to persuade him that we are operating on a perfectly legitimate basis."

Herrmann plans to return to Cincinnati today or tomorrow. He will be back again next Monday, when President Tener of the National league also is expected here. Then the finishing touches to O. B.'s case will be arranged. Heydler returned east last night.

President Gilmore of the Federal league also thinks the case will be decided in a short time, and Ban Johnson is of the same opinion. "As far as I can see there is nothing which might drag matters over any extended period," said Gilmore. "We are ready now, and there is no reason why the other side should want any delay. The sooner this fight is over the better it will be for the game."

McLarry Signed for Cubs.

While the magnates were preparing for legal conflict Manager Bresnahan gathered up a likely candidate for the second base job on the Cub team. Roger made his way to Louisville, Ky., and closed for the purchase of "Polly" McLarry, a big second sacker who was a member of the White Sox for a brief moment two years ago.

McLarry is a 6 footer. He made a record as a slugger in the American association last season, swatting the pill for an average of .316. He poked out thirty-six doubles, nine triples, and eleven home runs in 157 games. That he is fairly fast is shown by the fact that he got away with twenty-one stolen bases. President Thomas said he was purchased outright.

Ervin Lange, the spitball hurler, appeared at the Federal league headquarters and affixed his signature to a one year contract. Manager Tinker also announced that he may add a college star to the Tinx roster. Walter Roesinger, handy man of the Michigan university team last year, has applied by letter for a berth with the Tinx, and Manager Joe answered asking for further details concerning his ability.

Roesinger Swats Ball Hard.

According to Roesinger's letter he batted 381 last season while playing with the Wolverines. He has an offer from the Los Angeles Coast league club, but would prefer to break in with the Federals. He is recommended by Charley Carr, the first sacker of the Indianapolis Feds.

Secretary Williams received a telegram from Shreveport stating that the southern city had secured the Austin, Tex., franchise in the Texas league, and asking whether its admission to organized baseball would make the Chi[illegible] city an undesirable training camp for the Chi[illegible]. Williams sent back word that the local team will train there any way. Manager Tinker added a postscript announcing that the Tinx would be glad to play a series of games with the Texas leaguers if O. B. could be induced to O. K. such a proceeding.

Mike Doolan of the Baltimore Feds showed up at President Gilmore's office, presumably to prepare an affidavit to be used in the injunction suit. Roy Marshall, pitcher for the Phillies, from which club Doolan jumped to the Feds, also appeared, so it looked as if Doolan had come on to help induce the big right hander to jump to the independents.

Marshall Gets "Cold Feet."

Marshall pulled one of the queerest stunts yet recorded in the fight between the rival baseball powers for talent. He stated his terms, and they were immediately accepted. Then the Federal "prexy" secured a certified check for the advance money demanded by Marshall. The pitcher took the check, picked up a pen to sign a contract, then got "cold feet" at the last second, and refused to sign. Gilmore lost no time and tore up both contract and check, remarking that the Federal league didn't want players like Marshall.

The identity of the latest jumper signed by the Feds was revealed by President Johnson of the American league. The Feds announced recently the acquisition of two infielders, one from the National and another from the International league, but refused to give the players' names. Johnson said that the International leaguer is "Roxey" Roach, who played shortstop with Buffalo last season. He goes to the Buffalo Feds.

James Tilden Sheckard, one of the bright lights on Frank Chance's famous old Cub machine, has been ousted from the managership of the Cleveland American association team. Sheckard took charge of the Naplets last season and despite a bad start he put up a strenuous bid for the pennant. Owner Charles Somers, in the letter which notified Sheckard of his release declared hard times made it necessary to dispense with the old Cub star. Sheckard now is a free agent.

MAY WRECK PARK AT CAMP OF SOX

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Unless there is a sudden change in plans the Chicago White Sox may discover themselves unable to go to Paso Robles as usual to do their training. Danny Long, who went to the springs resort for the purpose of looking over the situation, returned today with the news that the owners of the ball grounds have advertised for bids for the removal of the grandstand and fences, with the idea of cutting the property up into city lots.

Up to Paso Robles.

To land a team at Paso Robles without grounds on which to play would be as senseless as sending coals to Newcastle. Long took the matter up with the Paso Robles chamber of commerce and that organization promised to see what could be done to retain the park.

The chief owner of the grounds is in the east and has been wired for his consent to allow the park to remain as it is. Long will be advised tomorrow as to the situation.

If Paso Robles is not available the White Sox, according to Long, can train in the San Joaquin valley, although Danny says that it is up to Comiskey.

Comiskey Not Worried.

"We don't really need a ball park at Paso Robles," said President Comiskey last night when told the owners are planning to cut up the grounds at the Sox camp into city lots. "Still, I know they will not cut up the park until we get through there.

"As for removing the fences and stand, that wouldn't worry me in the least. We go there for the water and climate, and all the boys really need is plenty of space in which to move around fast enough to get them down to playing weight. There will be no change in our plans. The Sox will train at Paso Robles, regardless of what happens to the park there."

TAKE IN FEDS, SAYS LYNCH.

New Britain, Conn., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Thomas J. Lynch, former president of the National league, believes it will be financial suicide for the warring baseball interests to continue their fight. Ex-President Lynch is in favor of admitting the Federal league to the national agreement. In this way, he says, salaries will be brought to reasonable figures. "Grabbing players and paying them princely salaries will spell ruin for all those interested," he says. The millions behind the Federal league insures the success of the Gilmore circuit, he believes.

GIANTS MAY PLAY NAP TEAM.

New York, Jan. 13.—The New York Giants and the Cleveland Naps may play exhibition games at El Paso, across the river from Juarez, on the two days preceding the Johnson-Willard fight, March 6. Manager McGraw today acknowledged he had the plan under consideration and would probably put it up to officials of the Cleveland club. The Giants' training camp is at Marlin, Tex., and the Naps at San Antonio. Should the Naps turn down the proposal it is likely two picked teams from the Giant squad will stage the exhibition games.

De La Salle institute went into the lead of the Catholic High School Indoor Baseball league yesterday by defeating St. Patrick's, 11 to 10, in the victors' gymnasium. The contest, which was a free hitting affair, was featured by the stick work of Swenie and Birkmeyer, who poled four bingles each. Lavinge and Ryan each clouted safely three times. Score:

Chalmers Bowlers Close to Record.

CHALMERS bowlers came near setting a new season's record for the bowlers last night when they gathered an average of 1,033 1-3 in the City league, only "Chuck" Collier's low average stopping them from assuming the lead for the year's high mark. Three of the Chalmers men beat a 600 average, Jimmy Blouin posting 225, Bob Rolfe getting 217 2-3, and Harry Steers marking up 216 2-3. Fred Thoma drew 199 flat, while Collier landed only 175 1-3. The Heinlys lost three games, although averaging 961, with Otto Kupfer averaging 201 2-3.

C. MORIN BEATS M'COURT, 50 TO 24

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Charley Morin gained a slight percentage in the Interstate Three Cushion league race by defeating Charles McCourt of Pittsburgh, 50 to 24, at Weeghman's room last night. Morin went out in seventy-one innings with high run of four. McCourt had one inning less with a double as his best effort.

The Pittsburgh expert, who is one of the most dashing players on the circuit, never was able to get going, and Morin, getting off to a good start, had the game well in hand most of the way. At the end of the tenth inning Morin led, 12 to 1, and ten innings later was in front, 17 to 8. McCourt then began to gain a little, but after the thirtieth inning he scored only a few scattered points and apparently grew discouraged.

Morin counted consistently, the strongest feature of his game being his bank shots. Morin scored twenty-three points in his last twenty-four innings.

Kling is leading the race with nine wins and five losses. He will play McCourt tonight. Score:

AT THE BILLIARD ROOMS.

Robert Lord defeated Aug. Bloese, 300 to 271, in their 18-2 match at Bensinger's Madison street rooms last night, averaging 8 28-34, with high run of 64.

Twenty-four players competed in the rapid fire three cushion tournament at Bensinger's Monroe street rooms, Petsche winning first prize, Jones second, Noble third, and Van De Mark fourth.

CHECKER MATCH TO JORDAN.

The victory of Alfred Jordan, world's champion, over Nelson with the black side of a double corner playing to a position similar to the Glasgow with colors reversed, featured the play of the knockout round in the major division of the American checker tournament at the Sportsmen's club yesterday. In the minor group the victory of Cooper of Detroit over Brooking of Funk, Neb., was the surprise. In the major division the matches between Hanson and Tanner, Reynolds and Harrigan, and Hill and Liberman were unfinished and will be completed this morning. Scores:

MAROONS READY FOR TANK MEET

Open Dual Swimming Season Against the Hamilton Club Tonight.

BY MAROON.

University of Chicago swimmers will get their first workout of the season in a dual meet against the Hamilton club natators tonight in the Bartlett gymnasium tank. The meet will open the Maroons' swimming schedule. Later in the year a return meet will be held in the club tank.

Coach White's Maroon plungers and swimmers have been practicing diligently for their opening meet, and expect to put up a hard fight against the Hamilton club aggregation, which is composed of more experienced men. Redmon, the giant Maroon football player, will plunge for Chicago, and Capt. Lloyd Neff and Charles Pavlicek, the two Maroon stars, will be entered in three events apiece. Julius Meine, a sophomore star, will swim his first varsity races for the Maroons tonight.

After the swimming events are run off squads from the two teams will play a water basketball game. While the collegians feel that they will have an uphill fight against a stronger aggregation in the swimming events, with Hansen, Brown, Princell, Seidel, and Coxe entered for the Hamiltonians, they expect to win by scrappiness and team work in the water basketball. The Chicago players spent all of the fall quarter of the school year drilling at the new tank game, and will have one of the best aggregations in the conference this year.

William Shirley, a breast and back stroke swimmer, was elected captain of the varsity water basketball team by his teammates yesterday afternoon. He is a junior and will have an additional year of competition.

A. A. F. AWARDS TANK DATES.

Amateur Athletic federation swimming championships have been awarded to three organizations. The first batch will be decided at Sinai Social Center club on Feb. 2, the second at Sears-Roebuck Y. M. C. A. on Feb. 24, and the third at the Central Y. M. C. A. on March 18. R. V. Western, chairman of the swimming committee, will send out entry blanks in a few days. The team winning the most points in the three meets will be awarded the championship shield.

START WORK ON SPEEDWAY.

Formal inauguration of work on the new speedway near Maywood began yesterday with the raising of an American flag on a center pole by Hannah Reid, daughter of President David F. Speid of the Speedway Park association. Directors of the club and about 100 motor enthusiasts from the city attended the ceremonies.

From now the work will be pushed more rapidly, in order to have work on the track sufficiently advanced to allow Clifford Ireland of the contest board of the American Automobile association a chance to inspect the course with a view toward granting a sanction for the race of June 19. More than 200 men are at work on the drainage system.

Sale of seats for the 500 mile race at Indianapolis on May 30 will begin Monday. In general seat tariffs remain the same as last year, the only change being in the gate admission, which is now $2 to all parts of the grounds. The management expects a record breaking crowd of more than 110,000 persons this year.

BOWLER CYCLE RACE JUDGE.

James Bowler, alderman from the Nineteenth ward and candidate for city treasurer, will be the referee of the six day bicycle race at the International amphitheater, starting Jan. 28. Bowler has also been appointed a member of the racing board of the National Cycling Association of America and official representative in the division of the middle west.

Bowler was formerly a professional cyclist and has competed in a number of six day races in New York. His last appearance in a six day race was in Madison Square garden in 1905 and his winnings in that race, contributed to the Democratic campaign fund, started Bowler's political career.

Floyd MacFarland, who will manage the riders, arrived yesterday with the signed contracts of twenty riders. Ten more riders are to be secured when MacFarland returns to New York next week.

WANT ALL BOATS IN RACES.

Uniform schedules which will permit all fleets to enter in the annual racing regattas of the Chicago fleets were advocated by speakers at a dinner of the Boat Owners association of Chicago in the Hotel La Salle last night. "The idea," said Edward Rosing, chairman of the association and toastmaster at the dinner, "is to have the racing dates so arranged that all fleets of this port may participate." Outer harbor plans were discussed. The annual dinner will be held at the Hotel La Salle on Feb. 10.

VENNETTA WINS ICE PACE.

Despite the soft going on the speedway at Garfield park yesterday the ice races were held as scheduled. The feature event of the program, the 2:20 pace, went to Vennetta in straight heats, Herbert H. and King Woodlands trailing. Famous Nutwood had a walkover in the green trot, as did Lucile Togo in the 2:30 trot. A meeting of the Garfield Park Winter Driving club will be held at the Argyle club rooms, 3770 West Harrison street, tonight.

CARRANZA EDICT TO BAR JOHNSON OUT OF MEXICO

Consul Garcia Predicts Negro Will Not Be Allowed to Fight Willard.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 13.—The Carranza government will oppose the entry into Mexico of Jack Johnson, the American negro prize fighter, who is booked to fight Jess Willard in Juarez on March 6, according to predictions made today by Andres Garcia, the Carranza consul here.

Garcia today telegraphed to the "first chief" that Johnson was a fugitive from justice in the United States and suggested that he must present recently issued American passports before he be allowed to pass through any port held by the Carranza forces.

Must Pass Carranza Lines.

Johnson at present is at Buenos Aires, Argentina, on his way north. He naturally would attempt to enter Mexico through the east coast ports of Tampico or Vera Cruz, both of which are held by Carranza troops. The trip from some Central American border port would be as difficult as any entry from the west coast. The latter would require a hard ride over the mountains which might affect the condition of the negro.

Garcia's objections were based on his assertion that the Johnson-Willard match would increase the war chest of Villa, who is combatting Carranza in the present Mexican controversy.

"Gunboat" as Willard's Understudy

New York, Jan. 13.—Should Jess Willard meet with an accident before his fight with Jack Johnson, his place will be taken by "Gunboat" Smith. Jack Curley, manager of the big mill, arranged today to have Smith on hand ready to jump in at a moment's notice if Willard is unable to fight. A substitute also will be hunted up for Johnson, although his name has not yet been announced.

"Win or Quit," Says Jess.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 13.—"No more fighting game for me if I don't whip the negro," declared Jess Willard when he arrived from Chicago today to start light training for the Juarez fight. Willard says he has a better punch than Johnson, a longer reach, is stronger physically, and younger, which he thinks will offset Johnson's advantage in science.

SHUGRUE EASILY DEFEATS CROSS IN NEW YORK BOUT.

New York, Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Joe Shugrue had a picnic with Leach Cross at Madison Square garden tonight. The Jersey boy outpointed Leach so far that there wasn't any question at the end. Only once was Joe in danger from the dentist's hard knocks. In the second round Leach caught Joe with a brace of lefts and rights, and just when it looked as if Shugrue was going to go down for a little count Cross rushed into a clinch. Shugrue held on when he got the chance, and by the time Cross had broken away Joe's head was clear again.

Cross went into the ring with one idea. He wanted to put out Shugrue with a single punch. He spent three-fourths of his valuable fighting time trying to reach Joe's chin, but Shugrue never was in better form, and he played with the hard hitting Hebrew much as a cat would with a mouse.

BOXING BILL PRESENTED IN OKLAHOMA HOUSE.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—To repeal the present ambiguous and elastic statute prohibiting "prize fighting," which fails to differentiate between fighting and boxing, and to place boxing in the hands of a state athletic commission, as it is in New York and Wisconsin, Representative James Sykes of Tulsa today introduced in the Oklahoma legislature a bill modeled after the Frawley law of New York. Absolute authority to govern boxing in the state is vested in the athletic commission, to be appointed by the governor, to serve four years. Even the number of rounds may be decided by the commission. The same bill will be introduced in the senate Thursday. Advocates of the measure claim to have assurances that the bill will pass the house without trouble, and that a majority can be secured in the senate.

MANDOT TO FIGHT SHUGRUE.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Joe Mandot and Joe Shugrue will meet at the West Side Athletic club here on Feb. 14, according to announcement made by Dominick Tortorick and T. J. McCarey today. Shugrue has accepted terms for the match, and both promoters say that they are sure Mandot will come to terms.

Atwell Beats Terry Nelson.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Cleve Atwell of Brooklyn beat Terry Nelson of Chattanooga tonight in a rough eight round mill. Atwell had every round by a wide margin, and Nelson tried for a knockout after the fourth round. Atwell's right cross brought him the decision. Atwell weighed 132 and Nelson 142.

Beecher to Box Saylor.

New York, Jan. 13.—Willie Beecher, New York lightweight, will meet "Young" Saylor of Indianapolis at Columbus, O., in a ten round bout Jan. 25. Both fighters are to weigh in at 135 pounds.

Flynn to Fight "Gunboat" Smith.

New York, Jan. 13.—Jim Flynn, who all but put away Al Reich, former amateur heavyweight champion, last night, will fight "Gunboat" Smith at the National O. C., Cincinnati, O., Feb. 1. The bout was arranged today.

GRAPPLERS ENTER TOURNEY.

Twenty-five more entries were received yesterday by Athletic Director Wilson of the Illinois A. C. for the Central A. A. U. wrestling championships to be held in the tri-color club's gymnasium on Saturday night. Wilson expects to receive more nominations in today's mail; as any entries mailed yesterday will be accepted, although the lists closed last night at midnight. Seventy-two entries have been received and an interesting tourney is expected. The official list of nominations will be announced today.

ON BASKETBALL FLOORS.

Holstein Park Monarchs defeated the Chicago Hebrew institute five, 29 to 12, in the former's gymnasium last night.

The Chicago Veterinary college basketball team swamped the Trinity church five in the church gymnasium last night, 72 to 4.

Maywood Circles took a tight game from the Proviso High school basketball team, 19 to 10, in the Oak Park Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night. Jacobi featured with two baskets from the center of the floor.

Eckhardt Park's 115 pound basketball team won its tenth consecutive game last night by defeating the Holstein Park 125 pound quintet, 20 to 18, in the former's gymnasium. For games address W. Carpenter, 3573 Armitage avenue.

Seward Park Meteors defeated the Edgewater Presbyterian five, 46 to 21, in the former's gymnasium last night. Johnsen led the attack with twelve baskets. In the curtain raiser Swara Keystones won from the Murrayets, 13 to 10.

In the Wake of the News

By RING W. LARDNER

A NOVEL IDEA.

ONCE on a time a ball player was traded by the Fanburg Tigers to the Bugville Bears. The ball player was of a strikingly original turn of mind. So, during the winter in which the trade was made, he conceived the idea of writing a letter to the manager of the Bears. He therefore went down to the principal hotel at Salt Creek, his home town, asked the clerk for some stationery and wrote as follows:

"Mr. Joseph Carter, Mgr. the Bugville B. C., Dear Mr. Carter: Just a line to let you know that I am still on earth and tickled to death that I got traded to your club. I always wanted to play in Bugville and it now looks like my wishes was to be realized. I did not get along very good with some of the boys in Fanburg and maybe that effected my work tho I always try and give a club my best services no matter how I feel. But a man naturally can play better where he is satisfied and everything is running smooth than where there is friction like there was at Fanburg. So you can count on me giving you the best I got in me and I will try and show you that you did not make no mistake in getting me.

"The fans in Fanburg is another thing that I am glad to get away from as the minute a man makes a mistake they begin to ride you no matter what kind of work you been doing and tho I dont care what they think of me and dont let them effect my work a man dont feel like playing where your not appreciated. The fans in Bugville are about the fairest in the country and I will be tickled to death to play for them because they always showed appreciation of my work even when I was doing my best to beat their club.

"Another thing about Bugville it is the best place in the country to live in my opinion and I have seen them all or that is the most of them. So all together I am tickled to death that the trade was pulled off and will try and give you the best I got.

"I see in the papers where we are going to start south the 23 of Feb. and I will be in Bugville about the 21 so as to look around a day or two and pick out a place to live this coming summer. I always thought Hot City was the ideal place to train and I am glad we are going there. Seaview where the Tigers been training for the last few years is unhealthy and I believe the trouble I had with my legs last year was on account of the dampness down at Seaview.

"My legs are O. K. now and I dont believe I will have any trouble with them this year. In fact I am in the pink of condition and never felt better in my life. I wont have to take off a pound of weight as I only weigh 163 lbs. right now and that is just what I weighed last August. I been outdoors pretty near all the time since the season closed hunting, fishing, etc. and that the kind of life that keeps you in grand shape. But I guess you know that I was never the kind of fellow to dissipate or let myself get out of condition.

"I think you got a great club to work with this coming season and tho of course its too early to tell much about it I dont see how they can keep us from winning the penant baring accidents. I know we will all fight hard for you that is I will.

"I dont know how many shortstops you got in your squad but I know one thing sure they will have to go some to beat me out of the regular job if I dont break a leg or something. I will be right on the job when the season opens hussling every minute and playing my hardest to win.

"Well Mr. Carter enough for this time and you can expect to see me around Feb. 21 and if you got too many men on your squad you may as well leave the young shortstops go because I will handle that part of it O. K.

"With best regards I am
"Yours truly
"HARRY THOMPSON.

"P. S. I cant hardly wait for the season to open."

"A great letter," remarked Manager Carter, when he had read it. "That's the kind of spirit I like to see in the boys. George," he was addressing the secretary, "I may not be here when the newspaper boys come this afternoon. If not, will you tell them I had a letter from Harry Thompson? Tell them he's tickled to death to be with us and says he can hardly wait for the season to open. Tell them that, will you?"

"All right," said George.

REST FOR CLABBY BEFORE BATTLE

Will Quit Hard Training Lest He Go "Stale" Before Bout with Gibbons.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

As a week still remains before he will step into the ring to battle Mike Gibbons at Milwaukee, Jimmy Clabby, claimant of the title, is going to ease up in his training for the next few days for fear of going "stale." At the end of a strenuous workout yesterday at Bernstein's gymnasium, Clabby stepped on the scales and tipped the beam at 152 pounds. His manager, Larney Lichtenstein, is of the opinion the boxer is being drawn too fine. Clabby stepped eight rounds with four different sparring partners.

For the first time since the match was closed, wagers were made on the result of the contest. Even money is being offered, and there is plenty to be had on either fighter. Clabby's father and a delegation of Hammond fans came to Chicago yesterday to see Jimmy work. Clabby senior said the fans from his town have $25,000 to bet on Jimmy at even money.

Big Demand for Tickets.

Because of the early demand for tickets, a capacity house is assured. It was announced yesterday that the local sale already exceeds $5,000, and with the mill a week off it is certain the allotment of tickets sent to Chicago will be disposed of.

The report from Milwaukee that Clabby would not agree on Harry Stout as referee was denied by the Hammond fighter. Stout is satisfactory to Clabby and as he has been appointed by the commission he will be the third man in the ring next Thursday.

Manager Lichtenstein has received an offer from Australian promoters for Clabby to meet Mick King, the fighter who beat Jeff Smith recently in the antipodes. Larney said he would not accept the offer if he can keep Jimmy busy in this country.

Charley White, Chicago's crack lightweight, who will meet Champion Freddie Welsh in a ten round contest in New York on Jan. 26, will start active training today at Bernstein's. White is in fair condition and will step a few rounds with any of the boys of his weight who care to spar with him. The fighter, Manager Nate Lewis, and Trainer Ike Bernstein will leave for the battleground on Saturday.

Duffy Fails to Arrive.

Jimmy Duffy, the Buffalo lightweight, who is matched to box ten rounds with Johnny Dundee in Milwaukee tomorrow night, failed to put in an appearance at O'Connell's. Even Frank Mulkern, promoter of the National A. C., which will stage the contest, was unable to account for the New Yorker's failure to appear. Duffy is expected to pass through the city today on his way to the Cream city.

Tommy Gary, the Chicago Heights lightweight, started training at the Forbes gymnasium to get into shape for a ten round bout with Ad Wolgast in Grand Rapids the first week in February. Gary has been promised matches with some of the good lightweights by the Milwaukee promoters if he beats the former champion.

NOTRE DAME FIVE ON TOP.

Notre Dame, Ind., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Notre Dame put an end to Northwestern college's winning streak today by defeating the visiting five, 24 to 21. BY PURPLE.

Northwestern defeated Iowa last night, 26 to 15, in a rough and exciting contest in Patten gymnasium. Von Lackum of the Hawkeyes left the game after four personal fouls and Parsons was ejected by Umpire Schommer for "deliberate tripping."

Until the last half of the final period Iowa held the Purple even and at one time during the second half the Hawkeyes led, 18 to 11. Capt. Whittle's men got going then and scored almost at will.

Iowa showed much better than in previous years and displayed good teamwork. A tendency toward roughness marred the scoring efficiency of the visitors. The Purple played a greatly improved game over its exhibition against the Maroons.

Von Lackum starred for the Hawkeyes with three baskets and also handled the ball well. Whittle registered four ringers for Northwestern. The Purple led at the end of the first half, 11 to 7. Lineup:

TOM MIX
SELIG

It is never so easy to poke fun at oneself as it is to, say, eat a box of chocolates, and most especially difficult must it be to crawl out from the entrenchments of the reputation of husky cowboy heroship, for that purpose. It isn't often done. But Tom Mix shows effectively that it can be done, and judging by the general spirit of levity aroused through his efforts, it is worth the sacrifice. And, anyway, if there is anything in a name, he must have found the praenomen Harold a great little assistor.

He stirs up a gay burlesque on the west as she is filmed, putting a final finish of ridicule to cowboys and sheriffs and bad men of the variety celluloidian. Likewise, extricated from his customary cowboy costume he looks like himself, which is quite a good looking thing to resemble.

When Harold's sweetheart returned to her ranch home from college he was just naturally so lonesome that he had to follow her. So he did, arriving when her father had been newly crowned with the western triumph of movieism, sheriffship, a decoration that trembled on his manly breast as anticipatory shudders at the prospect of chasing a bold bandit coursed uncomfortably through his nervous system.

The sheriff not being long on sheriffing was inclined to halt along behind while his posse followed the trail of the person, who for plot purposes had robbed the stage coach. Harold, wishing to make a mark on the landscape, noted the reward offered and set out on a little expedition of his own, in which he encountered father at a distance, and pursued him, thereby exceedingly terrifying the representative of the law.

And Harold did more than that. In fact, Harold treed father in an old log shack, and there was considerable excitement before all parties were happily extricated.

Father didn't regard that as making the right kind of a mark, so he looked unkindly upon Harold's suit for Esther's hand. But some more things happened, very amusingly and excitingly, too, involving father, and Harold, and Esther, and the bad man in a manner that compelled the trembling parent in order to preserve his sheriffical self-respect to come to Cupid's terms. All of which resulted in the ultimate cinemac hug and happiness.

Celluloid Shavings.

Ruth Stonehouse, Essanay actress by profession, and danseuse for recreation, recently gave for charity at the Green Mill gardens her "storm" dance, a matter of her own invention. In it she represents the spirit of an electric storm with its lightning, thunder, and wind, emphasizing it by a costume of combined electric blue and silver.

Howard Estabrook, the festive juggler with identities in Kleine's celluloid version of "Officer 666," is announced as a recruit to the World company, for the purpose of playing opposite Barbara Tennant in "The Butterfly."

It took over 500 turkeys, according to holiday custom, to communicate Christmas cheer to the Vitagraphers at Brooklyn, every one from actors to janitors being remembered.

Lillian Russell and her aids in "Wildfire" went down to Charleston to get some good local color on the race track there for the World film production.

The American company has secured the film rights to "Infatuation," written by Lloyd Osborne, son-in-law of Stevenson. Harry Pollard will direct and act in it, with Margarita Fischer appearing as Phyllis Lane.

Fritzi Scheff is soon to be a Bosworthian and enlist actively in the celluloidization of her recent New York vehicle, "Pretty Mrs. Smith." It is announced as visible probably about the middle of March, the Bosworth company expecting to devote eight weeks to its proper production.

Elsie Janis' "Nearly a Lady" is promised for observation in the near future. Just at present "Captain Courtesy" is in process of creation, with Dustin Farnum working hard (?) in the foothills of the San Bernardo under Lois Weber's direction.

Baked Potato Problems.

A GOOD baked potato is one of the favorites among foods, but for people in general it is one of the very hardest things to get. With just salt and cream, or even milk, it is one of the prime delicacies among vegetables.

In a certain man's club the problem of having baked potatoes always ready is a great one. To solve this some potatoes are put in the oven every few minutes, each wrapped in greased paper. Some people merely oil the skin of a potato when putting it in the oven to bake.

A great many people like the skin of a baked potato if it is not too brown or black, and when a new potato is not too watery to bake the skin is the most delicious part.

Baked Boiled Potato.

One way to secure baked potatoes the skin of which is attractive and good to eat is to boil the potatoes for fifteen minutes, then bake them until done. The boiling heats them through quickly, and a six or seven ounce potato will then bake in half an hour in a moderately hot oven. When it pinches up soft cut a two inch long gash lengthwise and another at right angles to it across the top, pinch twice diagonally across the top if you wish to serve it hotel style. After it is cut open in this way it can be left in the oven, with the door open, for five or ten minutes without great harm. The boiling of the potato changes the flavor slightly, but only the very critical would notice it. When potatoes are put straight into the oven to bake it is a good plan to prick them first a few times with a two tined steel fork. The finest baked potato is one baked in hot ashes.

Leftover Baked Potato.

Break open or prick potatoes when they are just baked, otherwise they are likely to be soggy. Peel and cut up baked potatoes in good sized dice and heat up in hot cream with a little seasoning. This might be called "bachelor's favorite," for it is a bachelor's recipe and praised to the skies by him.

LOVE LETTERS

"Lad of mine: Your little sunshine chap—how happy I am that I mean that to you!—is so all bubbly over this very minute, dear my man, that she must stop long enough in her busy day to ease her heart of its surfeit of joy, and to click off on her typewriter keys, right under the austere eyes of Friend Boss, that she loves you—loves you—loves you!

"That dear old Boss man sits there behind his mahogany desk and listens to the clatter of my machine, patting himself on the back the while that he has such a jewel of a private secretary, and all the time he is hearing 'I-l-o-v-e y-o-u,' clickety-click, and doesn't know it! True, the letters he signs at the close of the day are concerned with sealing wax and strings, manufacturings and things, but I know what was set down with each impression of the keys, if he doesn't!

"O man of mine, how truly wonderful it all is! I love those dear, grave eyes, but more than all of everything do I love the heart of you.

"I'm saving up some nice somethings to tell to the bestest lad I know—it's so long a time until you come again!

"By-by, dear man. Boss he comes with august step!

"That little sunshine chap."

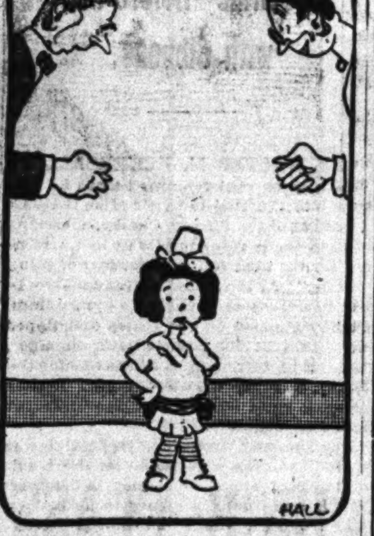
Holding up a penny temptingly, little Mary's Uncle Bob said to her one day, "Whose sweetheart are you?" Right behind Bob, with a bright new nickel between his fingers, stood her Uncle Billy, smiling at her ingratiatingly. Mary looked from one to the other, then said, "I dess don't 'emember." M. C.



After visiting me for several days a friend of mine asked my little boy if he liked her and he answered, "Maybe I do and maybe I doesn't, I can't tell yet."

Russell's grandpa bought a new automobile, and while his two aunties were learning to run the car Russell was frequently taken with them. One evening recently the 4 year old lad was dashing wildly through the room, emitting all kinds of whoops, when I said to him: "Dear boy, can't you slow down and make less noise?" "No, papa," he said, "I am afraid I'd kill the engine."

Home Made Bluing.

"I have received so much help through your Corner, I feel I must help where I can do so, although I am the busy mother of three children, and do all my own work, including sewing. I also bake bread for four neighbors and do plain sewing for others. I read where A. T. W. asks for a recipe for home made bluing. Here is my recipe; I have used it for twelve years: Get 10 cents' worth of Prussian blue and 5 cents' worth of [illegible] acid. [Copyright: 1915: By Lillian Russell.]

ALL nature develops through activity not through passivity. It is through exercising the primary endowment of strength that additional powers are generated. Strength and vigor mean beauty. The woman who expects to develop beauty and health or to retain what she has by lolling in the arms of luxury is doomed to disappointment. She likely will lose both beauty and health by a course of living that eventually will make life a bore. By systematically exercising the brain your mental qualifications are promoted. By active open air exercise of the muscles the physical powers are developed. There is no other way to develop your powers than through exercise. The beauty of the body and mind are proportionate to their development. Remember, as soon as you cease to grow you begin to die.

Have you reduced your flesh? If so, write and tell me how you reduced and how many pounds you lost. "The Tribune" will pay $1 for every letter published. Address Lillian Russell, "Chicago Tribune," Chicago.

I reduced my weight from 165 to 140 pounds in six weeks by jumping off a ladder. I placed the ladder against the back of the house and I would jump off the first step ten times, then jump off the second one ten times, and so on as high up as I dared. I did this morning and evening, and every time I got a chance to jump over a ditch or fence or off a step or porch I did so. I ate most everything I wanted but meat and pastry, and now I am my normal size. Mrs. F. D.

Packed When Tender and Fat

Razor clams are always good, always more delicate and flavory than other clams. But there is a certain time in the year when they are extra tender, extra fat, extra delicate of flavor.

It is then that we gather and pack—

Minced Clams A'la Villeroi
1 Can of "Pioneer" Minced Sea Clams (medium).
1 Cup of cream.
3 Eggs.
2 Tablespoonfuls of flour.
1 Tablespoonful of butter.
¼ Cupful of crackers or dry bread crumbs.
Salt and Pepper.

Put the cream into a stew pan and let come to a boil. Then add the butter, salt, pepper, cayenne, two of the eggs (well beaten) and flour enough to make a very thick batter. When this is cooked sufficient to become very thick add the clam meat (previously drained from the juice) and let cook two minutes. Set aside to cool. When cool take large tablespoonfuls of the batter, dip in beaten egg, then in bread or cracker crumbs and in egg again and fry in deep, hot fat. A sprinkling of chopped parsley also a garnish of parsley adds very much to the flavor and appearance of this dish. Serve hot.

Pioneer MINCED SEA Clams

Our exclusive process captures the sea freshness. Doubtless the first thing you will say when you try them is that they taste like they had that hour been taken from ocean sands. Their dainty fragrance would indicate this also.

Order several cans. Your family is going to like them. Serve them many ways as shown in the recipe booklet, a free copy of which may be had by writing

Put 'Bible in Schools' Up to All Churches.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

THE question of the reading of the Bible in the public schools and of the recognition of the academic value of religious education outside of school hours is to be put squarely up to all of the large denominations of the United States by the action taken yesterday by the educational congress in session in the Hotel Sherman.

The action was taken at the special session of the council of church boards of education.

It is the first time that the question has been presented in such a form that it is sure to reach the highest judicatories of every denomination.

The resolutions were passed after a debate which occupied most of the morning and afternoon sessions.

They were presented by the Rev. J. W. Cochran, secretary of the board of education of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America and were as follows:

It is recommended:

That in view of the great importance of Bible instruction as related to public education, this council recommends to the church boards composing this body that they bring before their supreme judicatories a full statement of the situation looking toward action in the following particulars:

1. The favoring of legislation calculated to safeguard the right to have the Bible read in the public schools.
2. The favoring of academic recognition by public school authorities for academic work done in Bible study outside of school hours.
3. Requests to standardizing bodies in public instruction that they define the conditions under which academic recognition may be given for academic work done in Bible study.
4. The encouraging of churches and Sunday schools to provide for such Bible instruction and allied work as will prepare them to bear their part in the movements looking toward the proper functioning of the church and the public school in religious education.

A volume entitled "Bible Stories and Poems," compiled by the Rev. W. F. Crafts of Washington, D. C., assisted by representatives of many denominations and prepared at the suggestion of the council of church boards, was commended. The volume is composed entirely of selections from the Old Testament, without comment, but illustrated with pictures, and is intended for supplementary reading in the public schools.

Dr. Crafts read letters of approval of the book from Cardinal Gibbons of the Roman Catholic church, from Jewish rabbis, and from representatives of several forms of religious belief.

The educational congress is composed of the council of church boards of education, church workers in state universities, and of American college presidents.

Citizens' League Elects Directors.

The annual meeting of the Citizens' league of Chicago was held in connection with a luncheon in the Hotel La Salle yesterday.

The following directors were elected: The Rev. John Timothy Stone, D. D.; Richmond Dean, A. Stamford White, Dr. Rufus A. White, Wallace D. Rumsey, the Rev. P. J. O'Callaghan, and Day McBirney.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: The Rev. P. J. O'Callaghan, president; A. Stamford White, vice president; Frank S. Baker, secretary, and William A. Tilden, treasurer.

The superintendent of the league, H. K. Grose, began the annual report by saying that not only had the league received the hearty coöperation of all civic and philanthropic organizations of the city but the Cook County Liquor Dealers' association had gone on record as opposed to the sale of liquor to minors and drunkards, and that cases of violation of the anti-can rushing ordinance were constantly being referred by them to the Citizens' league.

The report concluded by saying that perhaps the best results of the work were shown in the fact that families who came to the league for assistance in the year just closed received no less than $10,000 per month in wages from husbands and fathers which formerly went for liquor.

It was unanimously decided by the board of directors that a publicity committee be appointed in order that the public might be informed more fully in regard to the work being carried on not only that the league might receive the necessary financial support but that those who need such help might know where the same could be obtained.

A vote of thanks was extended to the Chicago newspapers for their coöperation in placing before the public the objects of the organization.

"Profs." Barred by Students.

Professors at Northwestern university are barred from attending chapel tomorrow, according to flaring placards posted about the campus yesterday. At that time the student council will vote on the question of adopting the honor system.

Prof. Walter Dill Scott, professor of psychology, published a letter in the university paper advocating the honor system as an aid to students and faculty alike. He said students are not inherently dishonest, but that when some students see others "cribbing" they follow suit and think nothing of it.

The meeting will be addressed by Wilbur Hightower, captain of the football team; Glenn Whittle, captain of the basketball team, and Coach Fred J. Murphy.

Club Posts List of Jobless Women.

MEMBERS of the Chicago Woman's club wanting to employ household help will find a list of women ready to accept the jobs on the bulletin board of the club. wanting to employ household help will find a list of women ready to accept the jobs on the bulletin board of the club. The committee of the club in charge of the bureau has inaugurated this plan with the hope of placing more applicants.

No names will be mentioned in the list placed upon the board, but there will be a means of identification, a statement to the general character and ability of the person, and the kind of work desired.

Mrs. Floyd Frazier outlined the plan at the meeting of the club yesterday in the Fine Arts building. She told also about the work of the center.

"The first on the list," said Mrs. Frazier, "is an Irish-American cook, 55 years old, who has excellent references and at one time made good wages. She has been at the bureau twice. Last night she left, completely discouraged. After she had reached the door Mrs. Richard Gray called her back and asked her if she had any money.

"The woman opened her purse and showed Mrs. Gray 15 cents. 'That's all I've got,' she said. 'I am pretty near through. A woman of my age out of work is just about down and out. Mrs. Gray stretched the rules and gave her 50 cents. She was back at the center this morning to return the 15 cents."

The list of names will be posted today in the rooms of the club in the Fine Arts building.

Crane to Be Guest of Cliff Dwellers.

WILLIAM H. CRANE, who is in Chicago view at the head of the unusual cast of "The New Henrietta," is to be the guest today at luncheon of the Cliff Dwellers. It seems only fair to Mr. Crane to add that, of all the stars of the day, none has less ambition to be considered highbrow. He found his way to respect at his banker's by pursuing his calling along the very same lines he follows in his Cort theater performances.

Negotiations whereby A. H. Woods, the producer and manager, was to have taken over the La Salle Opera house within a fortnight have been called off.

Sardou's "Diplomacy," revised somewhat by William Gillette, will be played at the Blackstone Feb. 8 by Mr. Gillette, Miss Blanche Bates, Miss Marie Doro, and others.

Miss Kate Condon of Chicago will resume her specialty as a Gilbert-Sullivan contralto when, a week from this evening, De Wolf Hopper gives "The Mikado" in the Auditorium. She will later be heard in "Pinafore," "Iolanthe," "The Pirates of Penzance," and "The Yeomen of the Guard." There is no contralto character in "Trial by Jury," while the part of Lady Sangazure in "The Sorcerer" will be sung by Miss Jayne Herbert, of the Century Opera company. Miss Condon was in Mr. Hopper's performances in 1912 in the Garrick, and sang Katisha when, in 1910, Miss Fritzi Scheff gave "The Mikado" in the Lyric.

Louis Mann is to appear on the 24th in the American Music hall in Edward Locke's new play, "The Bubble." His part therein is a German dealer in delicatessen who is roped in by a gang of sharpers. Mme. Mathilde Cottrelly will be with him.

Granville Barker is to have backing by the Stage Society of New York when he appears there in a repertoire of Shaw, Shakspeare, and his own plays. Also there is talk of another "New theater" there, with Mr. Barker as director. He refused to take the direction of the first New theater, opened in 1909, because he felt that it was too large. When he suggested architectural changes, one of the millionaire founders said: "But to do that would cost us another million dollars!" "Not to do it will cost you three million!" retorted Mr. Barker.

Three Varsity Teams to Debate.

Debaters from the three universities of Michigan, Northwestern, and Chicago will meet in their annual triangular arguments tomorrow night. The subject for the debate will be, "Resolved, That the Monroe Doctrine Should Be Abolished." The Chicago affirmative team will meet the Northwestern negative debaters in Mandel hall, Fifty-seventh street and University avenue.

The Chicago negative team will clash with the Michigan affirmative supporters at Ann Arbor, and the Northwestern affirmative team will argue against the Michigan negatives at Evanston. Each team will be composed of three men.

Miss Jane Addams will be one of the judges at the University of Chicago contest, and Ray M. Arnold of Galesburg, Ill., formerly professor of law in Knox college, and former Judge Charles D. Clark of Chicago will be the others.

The men on the Chicago affirmative team will be John McDonald, Maurice Van Hecke, and Harry Rosenberg, and the negative trio will include Homer Hoyt, Ray Weaver, and Clifford Browder.

After the debate the team members, the judges, and presiding chairmen and members of the honorary Delta Sigma Rho debating society will be guests at a banquet at the Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity house.

City to Send 'Business Crusade' to Coast.

CHICAGO will send a "business crusade" to the Pacific coast in July, when the First infantry, I. N. G., with band and field music, will tour from Spokane to San Francisco and San Diego, accompanied by representatives of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Plans for the longest pleasure excursion ever undertaken by so large a body of national guardsmen will be announced this evening when the annual banquet of the First infantry takes place at the armory, Michigan avenue and East Sixteenth street.

Former officers of the regiment have come from various parts of the United States to attend the banquet, the details of which are under the direction of Maj. John V. Clinnin. Wrestling bouts and a vaudeville program, including "stunts" by actors of the Essanay Film company, will follow the speeches.

The regiment will leave Chicago Friday, July 16, Col. J. B. Sanborn announces, traveling in tourist sleepers. The trip will extend seventeen days and the principal cities of the coast will be "invaded." Generous accommodations for comfort and sightseeing have been guaranteed by officials of the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco and at the San Diego fair.

Under the Sea
With the Universal
at the Fine Arts Theater
TRAVELS NINETY MILES UNDER THE SEA
and views, as clearly as on land, the fish and vegetable life in their natural state. Ancient wrecks are visited, millions of queer looking fish are passed, schools of sharks and porpoises are shown in action and great beds of coral and sponges are brought out in detailed relief.
While you are at the bottom of the sea, you are visited by divers in their queer-looking suits. You see them at work and you see a battle with a man-eating shark which is fought quickly at a depth of 75 feet. The pictures are vivid, thrilling beyond description, and a powerful medium of education. This is the first time the bottom of the sea has been shown.

Printed More "Help Wanted" Advertising Than Any Other Chicago Paper Either Morning or Evening

Action inspires action. Aggressiveness breeds aggressiveness. A man or woman who reads the newspaper that leads in aggressive thought and aggressive action—who reads the newspaper whose every issue is a dynamic force for improvement and progress—is a BETTER WORKER because of reading that newspaper, no matter whether the work be washing dishes and sweeping floors or directing the destinies of a gigantic corporation.

It makes no difference whether a man is a janitor or a 20,000 dollar-a-year general manager—if his mind is so constructed that he prefers to read a GREAT newspaper instead of a mediocre one, a paper of action and accomplishment instead of a paper of inaction, that is the best indication in the world that he is a PREFERRED WORKER, and that, other things being equal, he will make a BETTER EMPLOYE than one who reads some other kind of paper.

And that is why the employers of Chicago placed more "Help Wanted" advertising in THE TRIBUNE during 1914 than in any other Chicago newspaper, either morning or evening. If YOU want preferred workers for any kind of work

HOYNE IN SUIT SEEKS TO SMASH BIG CAR MERGER

Gives Notice He Will Attack Validity of Unification Ordinance.

FISHER SEES A COURT PLOT.

State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne yesterday served formal notice upon the surface lines and the city administration that next Saturday he will attack the validity of the unification ordinance by quo warranto proceedings before Judge Goodwin in the Superior court.

In voluminous petitions made public the state prosecutor, alleges the street car companies have been operating illegally for more than a year, and that if the city should institute proceedings to compel better service no redress could be obtained. The announced purpose of the suit—which is civil in character—is to compel the surface lines to merge and incorporate. According to Mr. Hoyne the surface lines board of operation is simply a group of individuals without legal authority to operate street car lines—a function which can be performed legally only by a corporation with a franchise.

No Loop Transfers?

In hastily delivered comments upon Mr. Hoyne's new knot in the traction snarl President Leonard A. Busby of the surface lines and Walter L. Fisher, attorney for the chairman of the board of supervising engineers, expressed the opinion that transfers in the downtown district would be wiped out and 10 cent fare restored in the Calumet district if Mr. Hoyne's contentions should be sustained.

"Should Mr. Hoyne's contentions be upheld the situation would simply be restored to the conditions existing prior to the passage of the unification ordinance," was President Busby's comment. "In such an event you could look forward to the elimination of transfers downtown and to the restoration of 10 cent fares in the Calumet district."

Fisher Sees Political Move.

"It looks to me like another move on the political chessboard," was the comment of Attorney Fisher. "I haven't seen the petitions, but from what you tell me, my curbstone opinion is that there is nothing to them from a legal standpoint. The officers of the surface lines are merely the agents of the street railway companies, acting as general managers in charge of operation, and requiring no more special incorporation than does the operating staff of a railroad.

"The real fact behind the proceeding appears to be that the city administration is up against it in the accounting matter, and Mr. Hoyne is seeking to provide a graceful way out. I can hardly see, however how great enthusiasm will attend his efforts when it is considered that his success would mean 10 cent fares in the Calumet district and the elimination of transfers downtown."

Arnold Gives Plan.

In furtherance of a promise to the council committee on local transportation Chairman Bion J. Arnold of the board of supervising engineers submitted his personal views on a service standard.

Chairman Arnold's plan in effect provided for an average of seats for everybody in the nonrush hours, and a rush hour standard based on a given number of square feet allotted to standing passengers in the rush periods.

Chairman Arnold stated as his belief that the American public never would submit to a rule to bar straphangers from cars. He stated further that a seat for every passenger could be given on all except some of the most crowded lines, but that it could not be done on a nickel fare.

Ald. Toman bitterly denounced the engineers on grounds of inaction during the meeting and Ald. Held expressed the opinion that rails might be torn up on the west side unless conditions of service are improved. He said he might be defeated for reëlection under existing conditions and spoke of a petition of 5,000 names for better service that is being prepared.

Hoyne Makes Statement.

Mr. Hoyne issued a statement explaining his plans.

"On account of the publicity given to the claims of the city of Chicago against the street railways companies involved in the recent audit of the books of such companies, and on account of the universal complaint as to the bad service now rendered by these companies, I have caused an investigation to be made into the legality of the present methods of operation," Mr. Hoyne said.

"As the result of this investigation I found that since February, 1914, the four companies owning all of the street railways in Chicago, disclaim any responsibility as to the operation of their premises; that all of these properties since the first of last February have been operated by a group of seven individuals, claiming to have the authority under the so-called 'merger ordinance,' passed by the city in December, 1913. This ordinance purports to authorize the companies to turn over to the seven individuals, constituting the Chicago Surface lines board of operation, complete authority to operate all of these street railways until 1927.

Sees State Law Violated.

"These seven individuals are not incorporated. Under the laws of this state only corporations can be authorized to operate street railways. Individuals attempting so to operate are exercising powers which can only be conferred upon corporations, and their operation is therefore altogether unlawful.

"As the city cannot authorize such individuals to operate street railways under our laws, it follows that the city can have no legal authority to control such operation by these individuals. The operation is without authority of law, is not subject to legal control, and is wholly irresponsible.

"By the supposed 'merger ordinance' the companies are thus absolved from the responsibility of operation.

"I therefore feel it my duty to present this situation to the courts and let them determine whether this irresponsible and illegal condition of operation shall further be continued.

Measure Skillfully Drawn.

"There are other conditions imposed by the 'merger ordinance' that would warrant this proceeding on my part. The ordinance was skillfully and adroitly drawn for the purpose of confirming in the corporations' rights and privileges which they have usurped in violation of the 1907 ordinance, which if held legal would have conferred upon these companies great financial returns which by the 1907 ordinance would be preserved by the people.

"The city was misled and deceived as to the extent of the privileges which the companies sought to obtain and has been successfully deceived by the companies in permitting the passage of this ordinance.

"The only excuse which the city can offer is that under this ordinance a great improvement in service was promised, but as this improvement was to come through the action of this board of individuals, which the city of Chicago had no power to create, and has no means of controlling, the public is now left without the promised improvement, and now has no means of obtaining it under the so-called 'merger ordinance.'"

REALTY MAN ELOPES; WEDDING FACTS SECRET.

The marriage of Miss Bessie Cameron of 6401 Champlain avenue and George C. Bour, junior member of the real estate firm of George C. Bour & Co., of 7050 Jeffery avenue, had been heralded for several weeks, but took the form of a "premature elopement" yesterday.

The bride left her home at the usual hour in the morning for her employment in the loop. The half dozen roomers who left at the same time with her had not suspected a secret wedding had been scheduled for 3 o'clock.

"I don't know where they were married," said Mrs. George C. Bour Sr. at 6840 Euclid avenue. "My son has known Miss Cameron for some time. He talked of his proposed wedding. There was not the slightest objection to the match. We did not attend the wedding becaue we were not invited to. They are going to housekeeping instead of honeymooning."

FORFEITS HOME IF SHE WEDS

Widow of W. D. Cantillon, Late Rail Official, Barred from Remarriage by Will.

If Mrs. Beatrice Marie Cantillon of 4234 Hazel avenue remarries, she will have to turn the family residence over to her two children. If she remains unmarried, she may have the use of the homestead for the rest of her life.

These are the conditions set forth in the will of her late husband, William D. Cantillon, general manager of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad company, who died on Dec. 13.

According to the terms of the will filed for probate yesterday, Mrs. Cantillon is given one-third of the $76,000 estate outright, and the rest of the property is to be held in trust for her daughter, Beatrice, and son, Richard J. Cantillon.

SUICIDE BLAMES KNOCKER FOR ACT

Charles L. Michels Leaves Note; Says Bennie Mitchell Is Cause.

The following letter was opened yesterday at the inquest into the death of Charles L. Michels, who shot himself Tuesday at his residence, 4835 West Congress street:

"To the coroner: No one to blame but myself. The reason: Am not getting an even break. The cause: Bennie Mitchell, the knocker of the McLaughlin Building Material company. That's all. Charles L. Michels."

Benjamin Mitchell, state representative, is a brother of Joseph Mitchell, secretary of the building material concern with which Michels was employed until Dec. 1.

Representative B. M. Mitchell, when seen last night at Springfield, said:

"I don't know Charles L. Michels. No such person ever was connected with the McLaughlin company to my knowledge. I have been out of connection with that company for more than one year and know of no reason why my name should be connected with Michels in any way. Possibly it is an error in the name and the company."

Found Dead by Wife.

Michels was found dead by his wife on Tuesday. There was a bullet in the right temple and a revolver in the right hand.

Mrs. Michels told the jury she often had heard her husband say that he would take his life if he could not get work. He had been out of employment since Dec. 1. There are three children, Charles, 8 years old; Joseph, 6 years old; and Frank, 2 years.

"Suicide while despondent because of lack of employment" was the coroner's verdict.

Leaves Note to Wife.

Michels left a note to his wife, which follows:

"My Dear Wife, Maud: I want you to forgive me for this act. It is all for the best. You have been a good wife to me and a good mother to my children. I was a failure. Drink was the cause, and I could not make good as long as I used that stuff. Good-by. CHARLEY."

FIGHTIN' IN WILMETTE? POLICE FORCE SUSPICIOUS.

He Stands on His Toes to See "First Class Musical Numbers" in Jones' Hall.

The Wilmette police department strained several tendons in his neck last night trying to see what was going on at the stag in Jones' hall. But the goings on of the evening remain a mystery. All the department saw was:

The same young men coming out, two of them looking even more worn.

The department will not admit officially there was fightin' going on in violation of the laws and statutes of Wilmette, but to those in his confidence he said he had suspicions. The hardy young men took a late train for Chicago, together with a score of other city folks. The rest of their exclusive audience of 100 went home grinning. Their lips were closed too tight for the grins to grow into laughs.

Loan Cashier Captured.

Frank S. Phelps, cashier of the South Side Loan company, at 800 East Sixty-third street, who disappeared on Jan. 1, leaving a shortage of about $1,600 in his accounts, was arrested yesterday in New York.

GIRL ACCUSES LOWELL A. YOUNG

The Tribune will assist today in the prosecution of a man who is accused of using classified advertising columns for illegitimate purposes. The prosecution will be directed against Lowell A. Young, 28 years old, who lives at 5901 South boulevard, Austin, and who occupies office No. 1010 in the Advertising building at West Madison and La Salle streets.

Two days ago the following advertisement was presented to a clerk in the want ad department of The Tribune and accepted. Yesterday morning it was published as follows:

Start an Inquiry.

During the morning a woman private detective, Mrs. B. I. Bierman of 10 South La Salle street, started an investigation of the want ad. As soon as a complaint was telephoned to The Tribune the matter was referred to the attorneys for the paper and plans made to gather evidence with a view to prosecution. A male investigator from The Tribune office went to Young's office to investigate.

In the meantime Miss Rose Goldstein, 19 years old, who lives at 4637 Langley avenue, went to the detective bureau and complained against Young's actions toward her. She explained that she had answered the advertisement in good faith, but had resisted Young when he made an improper proposal to her. She says that Young then struck her.

While Miss Goldstein waited at the detective bureau, Lieut. James V. Larkin and Detective James Kane hurried to Young's office. They found fifteen girls and young women waiting in the outer office. Young was in his private office, the door of which was held shut by a chair braced under the knob on the inside.

Catch Him at Desk.

The detectives waited at the door. Within a few minutes it opened and a young woman stepped out. She was detained while the officers entered the office and grabbed Young, who was sitting at a desk.

"Is your name Lowell Young?" asked the policemen.

Young replied yes.

"Then we want you, Mr. Tape-Measure-Man." He was placed under arrest. The detectives found on Young's desk a sheet of paper measurement notations. The "tape-measure-man" was charged with assault and battery and released on bonds to appear in court today.

The young women who answered the advertisement said that Young took measurements of them for the purpose, he said, of selecting the one best fitted to be photographed for an advertisement of his patent telephone device.

The Tribune has arranged for attorneys to act as counsel for Miss Goldstein in the prosecution of Young.

EJECTED NOBLEMAN SUES.

Kaelas Chowdhury, Put Out of the Palmer House, Demands Damages in Sum of $20,000.

Putting Kaelas Chowdhury, scion of the noble Dutt family of Sylhet, India, out of the Palmer house lobby was a $20,000 mistake—according to the calculations of the young Dutt. He filed suit for that amount yesterday. The putting out, according to Kaelas Chowdhury's allegations, occurred Monday and was participated in actively by the house detective and passively by William C. Vierbuchen, the manager. Kaelas Chowdhury could get no explanation of his ejection, but Mark D. Goodman, his lawyer, hazarded a guess last night. "My client," he said, "is rather—er—dark."

Movie Actress' Death Traced to Dr. Blunt

FIGURED IN OLD CASE

Dr. Arthur L. Blunt, an old practitioner and a previous offender, yesterday was held to the grand jury on a charge of murder. He is accused of having caused the death of Mrs. Beulah G. Rehm, a motion picture actress, by an illegal operation.

The woman, wife of Arthur Rehm, son of an old Blue Island brewer, became ill at the Plymouth hotel, at 4700 Broadway on Christmas eve. Her physician, Dr. Andre Stapler, sent her to the Wesley hospital. She had managed to keep the nature of her illness secret from her husband.

Dr. Stapler and the hospital staff physicians related suspicions to Coroner's Physician Springer. Dr. Springer induced the patient to talk, and on the strength of her story he communicated with the police and had detectives bring Dr. Blunt to confront the dying woman. She repeated in Dr. Blunt's presence her statement that she visited his office at 9 West Harrison street three times during the week of Dec. 13, and that he operated upon her. Dr. Blunt protested he had never even seen the woman previously.

Husband Gives Testimony.

Mr. Rehm testified at the inquest that his wife was a motion picture actress when he married her a year and a half ago, that she seemed happy, and that they occupied a residence at Glen Ellyn until his business called him to Chicago and he took quarters at the Plymouth hotel.

Dr. Blunt is under $20,000 bonds for the same form of murder committed more than a year ago. Stanislaus Odochowski of 1750 Brigham street said his wife's death was caused by one of Dr. Blunt's operations.

Mixed in Drug Cases.

On Dec. 20, 1911, Dr. Blunt was arrested on a charge of selling cocaine to the keepers of illicit drug dens in the old South Side levee. Laurance Richey, then investigating for the civil service commission, said Dr. Blunt confessed to being one of the biggest distributors of cocaine, opium, and morphine in the country.

On March 14, 1912, Dr. Blunt was again arrested for "peddling" dope. His office then was at 602 South State street, and the arresting officers stated that he was caught in the act of selling cocaine to George Waterman, a negro distributor and user.

Dr. Blunt is 61 years old and resides at 4043 Prairie avenue.

BEGIN NEW UNION STATION IN 30 DAYS, MAYOR'S HOPE.

Letter from Head of Company Hints at Early Start on the Big Project.

Mayor Harrison yesterday expressed a hope that within thirty days the way can be cleared for the beginning of work on the new Union station and Pennsylvania freight terminal.

He received from J. J. Turner, president of the Union Station company, a letter in conformity with the announcement made following a meeting of the directors of the company on Tuesday.

"I now have the honor to state," read the letter after reciting the mayor's appeal for the beginning of work, "that at a meeting of the directors held today suggestions were made which render it probable that a considerable sum of money can be procured at an early date and that a substantial beginning can probably be made toward carrying out the plan of construction, if, and as soon as the financial arrangements can be completed and the contracts let; provided the pending ordinance granting rights to the Baltimore and Ohio Terminal company shall be passed."

"If President Willard comes to Chicago and reaches an agreement with the local industries company," said the mayor, "it will require only a short time for council action on the Baltimore and Ohio ordinance."

Chester Goodrich Says He Turned to Drink After Father, Mother, and Wife Died.

Chester Goodrich told Judge Sabath in the night court last night that he had spent in three years $11,000 which he received at the death of his parents. He was given $1 by Judge Sabath and told to look for a job.

"What made you spend this money?" the judge asked.

"I buried my father, mother, and my wife inside of a year," he said, "and although I had a good job with a steel company I quit and spent the money drinking. I was so discouraged at the death of my three best friends that I didn't care what happened. I was just released from the bridewell yesterday."

Goodrich took the pledge for one year and was discharged.

POLICE BRIBE TAKERS FIRED.

Patrolmen Caught with Marked Money of Street Women Discharged from the Force.

Two patrolmen were discharged from the police force yesterday by order of the civil service commission for "shaking down" women of the street. They were Patrick T. O'Toole and John D. Frawley of the Cottage Grove avenue station, who, investigators for the morals inspection division testified, fell into a trap laid for them by the placing of marked money in the hands of two women habitués of the Thirty-first street cafés. Marked money was found on the two men when they were taken to First Deputy Schuettler's office.

U. S. PREPARES MANN ACT SUIT AGAINST DARNELL

CALLS FIRST WIFE RIGHT.

Prosecution of the Rev. James Morrison Darnell under the Mann act may follow the investigation started yesterday by the federal government.

In search of evidence of the minister's alleged interstate trips with Doris Helen Vaughn, Ruth Soper, and Ethel Spurgeon, special agents from the bureau of investigation of the United States department of justice were put on the trail.

Complaints of alleged violations of the white slave traffic act by Darnell were received by Hinton C. Clabaugh, head of the investigating bureau, according to the report in the federal building. Officials of the bureau refused to discuss the complaints which are said to have come by mail and telephone.

Calls Miss Spurgeon "Wife."

In the meantime Darnell, who is being referred to in church circles as "the devil in the pulpit," issued a new and revised edition of his matrimonial adventures.

Seventeen year old Doris and her mother and an attorney appeared before the clerk of the Circuit court and filed suit for divorce from the brilliant young pulpit orator. Doris asked for the return of her maiden name. She named Ruth Soper, who was introduced as the minister's wife in Kenosha, as co-respondent.

Here's Darnell's latest "Darnellogram":

"I recognize but one wife. She is Ethel Spurgeon Darnell of Avon, Ill. I never married Ruth Soper, although I introduced her as my wife to my congregation at Kenosha. We lived there as man and wife, but her baby is not mine.

"Doris Vaughn is not my wife, either. I went through a ceremony with her, but the marriage license return was never made and is not now on file, and it never will be."

Legality of Weddings Dubious.

Developments of the day indicated either by accident or design on the part of Darnell all three "marriages" contained tecnical, if not legal, flaws that might impair their validity.

If Darnell's "marriages" are bigamous or polygamous, he will be prosecuted under the state laws. Assistant State's Attorney Charles Center Case Jr. has detectives investigating the three marriages. If Darnell's "marriages" were bogus and as a consequence he traveled with the young women through Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, he will be prosecuted under the Mann act.

Miss Spurgeon's Story.

Darnell's latest specification as his wife, Ethel Spurgeon Darnell of Avon, Ill., does not cherish the implied compliment, according to a statement issued by her during the day.

"I am afraid it is true that I was not legally married to Mr. Darnell, although I did not know it at the time, nor for several months after," said the young woman. "We went to Chicago on Dec. 11, 1911, to get married.

"We went to the county clerk's office and obtained a marriage license. From there we went to a private home where Mr. Darnell said some of his friends lived. The ceremony was performed by a man who represented himself to be a minister. I do not now remember the minister's name nor the place where the ceremony was performed.

Darnell Kept Certificate.

"We were given a marriage certificate which I supposed was all right. Mr. Darnell has this in his possession, which leaves me no proof of our marriage. All the time I lived in the city of Owatonna I believed I was his legal wife and endeavored in every way to perform my duties as such.

"I did not stay with him long until I began to suspect that he was paying attention to another young woman. Shortly after that I came home to visit my parents in Avon. While here I received a letter purporting to come from a lawyer in Minneapolis stating that I was not Darnell's legal wife. I still have the letter."

FEDERAL O. K. ON PIER PLAN.

Government Approves of Scheme for Municipal Improvement at the Foot of Grand Avenue.

Federal approval yesterday was given the plans for the superstructure of the new municipal pier under construction at the foot of Grand avenue. In passing on the sketches presented at Washington, Gen. Dan C. Kingman, chief of engineers of the United States army, said the double deck arrangement—the lower for freight, the upper for passengers—and the recreation features proposed for the pier presented one of the most interesting, and, from an engineering standpoint, one of the best plans that ever has come to his attention.

SCHUMANN-HEINK GOES WEST

"California Climate Fix Me Up Quick," Says Diva, Who Has Bronchial Pneumonia.

Mme. Schumann-Heink started for her Pacific coast bungalow yesterday in obedience to her physician's orders and her own desires. She recently suffered an attack of bronchial pneumonia.

Madame was willing to talk, but the best she could do was a whisper.

"O, I get well, my friend," she said to a solicitous reporter, who had got by the trained nurse at the door of her section on the train. "The fine climate, the beautiful surroundings, the wonderful atmosphere of California, they all fix me up quick."

Mrs. Christopher Sues Two Priests Under New Name

Woman, Sent to Jail in Brick Scandal, Asks $62,000 in South.

HUSBAND A MYSTERY

Eileen Christopher, down in New Orleans, made a bold stab at showing her hand yesterday and explaining away her attempt to pose as the widow of a Chicago manufacturer and prosecute a suit for alleged embezzlement against two priests. She was so sure of this latest coup, it appears, that she never even took the trouble to advise her Chicago attorneys of the move.

The way the case stood at night it appeared that this had been a serious mistake on her part.

Eileen, whose activities in Chicago with the famous "brick trust" prosecutions netted her a thirty day sentence in jail, brought suit against Fathers Rouge and Scotti, the latter a former secretary to Archbishop Blenk, for the recovery of $62,000. This action was started under the name of Juanita M. Roth.

Exposed by "The Tribune."

The Tribune exposed this subterfuge. It unmasked the fictitious Mrs. Roth as Eileen Christopher. The parish grand jury acted on information gathered by The Tribune and refused to pass upon Mrs. Christopher's case.

The civil suit against the priests comes up in the parish courts today. A few hours before the courts closed Mrs. Christopher, through her lawyers in the Crescent city, filed an amended petition setting forth the startling intelligence that, after all, she is not Mrs. Juanita M. Roth, but Mrs. Charles Lee Frank.

How She Explains It.

This is how she explains it:

"That at the time of filing said original petition she was Juanita M. Lincoln Rother, her mother's name being Lincoln.

"That she was married to Charles Lee Frank of Washington, D. C., on May 24, 1913, to whom she is at present married. That in ignorance, inadvertence, and through advice not of counsel she brought this suit without especially alleging that she was so married, or the authorization of her said husband, which authorization she had at that time.

"That she now appears with the aid, authorization, and assistance of her said husband, herein joining her as plaintiff herein for that purpose.

"That petitioner desires to have leave to amend her said original petition so as to appear as Juanita M. Lincoln Roth, wife of Charles Lee Frank, joined and authorized by him."

Two Rush to New Orleans.

Edgar A. Jonas represents Mrs. Christopher's legal interests in Chicago. After The Tribune's exposure in November he made a flying trip to New Orleans to see his client. Likewise Mrs. Johanna M. Roth—the actual widow of Alfred G. Roth, one of the founders of Roth Bros., dynamo makers, and whose personage Mrs. Christopher assumed—hastily quitted her apartments at the Virginia hotel and went south. Mrs. Roth is a friend of Mrs. Christopher. In fact, she transferred to Eileen some $22,500 in Roth Bros. stock.

At night Mr. Jonas was called on the phone.

"I am sure Mrs. Christopher is not married to any man of the name of Charles Lee Frank," he said. "I am pretty familiar with her affairs."

Lawyer Is Surprised.

This statement was made in answer to an indirect question, and when the reporter apprised Mr. Jones of his client's latest claims he said:

"I am surprised. I can't understand it. I never knew she was divorced from Dan J. Christopher. I can't discuss the case further at this time."

Miles J. Devine, who has appeared as attorney for Christopher in various actions, said his client was unaware of it if Mrs. Christopher had divorced him.

"I represented him in a divorce action once," said Mr. Devine, "but the case was compromised before Judge Petit, and the Christophers made up.

"But I am informed that Mrs. Christopher has married again, and under the name of Lincoln. I had occasion to look it up today, and the date is fresh in my mind. It is May 24, 1913. The alleged marriage was performed in Chicago. The man's name was spelled Frans, but Mrs. Christopher called him Frank."

Dan Looks Over Her Layout.

"I can't explain that alleged Washington marriage," said he. "Maybe Dan can. He is in Chicago now. But he is keeping low. Even I don't know where he is. He went down to New Orleans on the Q. T. the other week, and looked over Eileen's layout. He didn't know what to make of it."

"Eileen's layout" in the quaint old southern city stirred up quite a bit of gossip in Dixie. She had $500 a week apartments at the best hotel in town, kept a flock of servants, and squandered money in a manner that reminded one of the late Charles G. Gates. Mrs. Roth—the real Mrs. Roth of Chicago—foots the bills, it is said.

Mysterious Husband.

Just what is the nature of the "aid and assistance" this newly produced alleged husband of Eileen's is to give in the legal drama is not apparent to those who have followed the case closely in New Orleans. His identity, likewise, is a mystery.

With the exception of lawyers, detectives, and servants, the only man seen with the Christopher party is a blind man, who confided to The Tribune's correspondent that he was Frank Ryan. That blind Frank is a survival of Mrs. Christopher's Chicago connections is obvious from what he told the reporter.

He said he formerly was a bookmaker here. Now the guess is hazarded that "Frank Ryan" may be Charles Lee Frank, the alleged husband No. 3.

WHEAT EXPORTS QUADRUPLED BY DEMANDS OF WAR

Why Should Not the Price Be Expected to Jump? the Question.

ITALY PAYS $2.07 A BUSHEL.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

"C. I. F."

If the ordinary business man was asked to quote prices on 500,000 bushels of durum wheat "c. i. f." Genoa, Italy, he might be excused for appearing somewhat puzzled. For the matter of that, when an order something like that was filed on the Chicago board of trade the other day it made even the experts scratch their heads.

"C. i. f." when translated into English means commission, insurance, and freight, and, to quote a price "c. i. f." Genoa is to name a figure which will cover the cost, the 1 cent a bushel commission on cash wheat sales, the insurance, and the freight charges for transporting the wheat from a Chicago warehouse to the seaport and thence across the ocean to Italy. In the export trade it is used as is "f. o. b."—free on board cars—by manufacturers and jobbers in domestic trade.

High Price Is Paid.

The fact that $2.07 a bushel was paid for this durum wheat—durum wheat being an especially hard variety, fit to be used in the manufacture of Italian spaghetti—did not make the contract any easier to fill, since the price had to cover all the risk of moving the stuff across the Atlantic, which is more or less filled with the battle cruisers of the warring powers ready to fire a shot across the bows of anything that looks suspicious.

If bread costs 6 cents a loaf in Chicago, with wheat at $1.40 a bushel, what would be the price in Italy, with wheat delivered at the docks in Genoa at $2.07 a bushel?

Feeding Europe Big Problem.

Taken on the whole, this matter of feeding all Europe, which is the principal business of the Chicago board of trade at the present, is complicated and more or less unpleasant.

With the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy, and other European powers bidding against each other, as they are at the present, board of trade people feel that they should not be blamed for the high price of wheat and other cereals. They point to the enormously increased exports of wheat since the war began as compared with the same period last year, and ask if that is not sufficient explanation of the increased price.

6,000,000 Bu Weekly Export Gain.

Last week, for instance, there were exported from the seaports on both coasts of the United States a total of 8,000,000 bushels of wheat. During the same week one year ago the total exports were only 2,000,000 bushels. The demand from abroad has multiplied by four. Why should not the price be expected to jump?

Day after day the amount of wheat sold for export is more than double that of the same day last year. On Tuesday of this week the total export sales were 917,000 bushels. The same day in 1914 they were only 407,000.

So far as speculation is concerned authorities say the tremendous rise in prices and the great fluctuations have made the gamblers rather timid. Soon after the war broke out commission houses began to insist that their customers who dealt in "futures" should put up margins of from 10 to 20 cents a bushel. That was in itself enough to discourage speculation. People who have been accustomed to "scalp" a trade for a sixteenth or, at best, an eighth of a cent change over night have been afraid to take a chance. They were asked to put up 15 cents a bushel margin instead of 3 or 5 cents.

Hard on Weak Traders.

Last week Thursday, for instance, wheat sold at $1.41¾ a bushel. On Saturday it was down to $1.33½—drop enough to wipe out any but strongly entrenched financiers.

Tuesday wheat closed at $1.38¼. Yesterday it touched $1.41, and yet an even 1,000,000 bushels of cash wheat was sold for export.

Board of trade people insist that such sales on a rising market are proof that nothing but the law of supply and demand is responsible for the rising prices.

And yet the board of trade is proud of the fact that in the world-wide convulsion of commerce caused by the war it is almost the only great trading exchange which has remained open for business.

Has World Distinction.

Stock exchanges all over the world shut up tight with the firing of the first gun. Except to an extremely limited extent they are still closed. The English and continental cereal and produce exchanges are still closed so far as dealing in futures is concerned.

The Chicago board of trade has been open daily as usual. And it has been remarked that a considerable number of men formerly dealers on the New York stock exchange have since the war began removed to Chicago and are now regularly dealing on the board.

If they confine their attention only to cash sales of actual wheat they will find plenty to encourage them. In 1913, for instance, the actual wheat received in Chicago totaled 50,000,000 bushels.

ARMOUR BUYS BABCOCK HOME

Purchases Stock Broker's Country Residence in Lake Forest.

LAKE SHORE DRIVE SALE

Two transactions in extra high grade residence property, one on the Lake Shore drive north of Oakdale avenue and the other in Lake Forest, featured yesterday's real estate market developments.

The Lake Forest deal comprised the purchase by Laurence Armour of Armour & Co. from Orville Babcock of Babcock, Rushton & Co., stock brokers, of the latter's handsome country home on Green Bay road opposite the Onwentsia club.

The grounds comprise about seven acres and the dwelling, which was erected about two years ago, is an unusually attractive brick and stone structure, containing about sixteen rooms. The consideration is withheld, but it is understood the property was valued at about $80,000. John Griffith of Lake Forest was the broker in the transaction, representing both parties.

Plans $70,000 Residence.

In the other transaction Frank A. Hecht of the Kestner-Hecht company, manufacturers of elevators and elevator supplies, purchased from Robert S. Morison the vacant property, east front, on the Lake Shore drive, 50 feet north of Oakdale avenue, for an expressed consideration of $59,219.

The lot fronts 94 feet, with a depth of 180 feet, and Mr. Hecht gave a trust deed to the Chicago Title and Trust company to securue a part purchase money mortgage for $44,218, running one year at 5 per cent. It is announced that Mr. Hecht will improve the lot with a residence to cost in the neighborhood of $70,000.

Flat Building Sold.

Outside of this there was little doing of an important character, the day's business covering relatively unimportant properties. One transaction was the sale by William H. Banford to Louis Eppstein of the three story and basement six apartment building on East Fifty-sixth street, 367 feet west of South Park avenue, lot 45x134 feet, south front.

A consideration of $10 is given in the transfer, but the $8 of revenue stamps on the deed, together with an incumbrance of $8,000, indicates a consideration of $16,000. H. H. Banford & Co. were the brokers in the transaction.

The property on Monticello avenue, at the northwest corner of Waveland avenue, with lot 60x125 feet, east front, has been sold by Carl A. Tyden to Alfred A. Hallgren, the consideration being nominal, but the revenue stamps on the deed indicate a consideration of $12,000.

Will Speak on Tax Reform.

Another transaction on the same street made a matter of record was the sale by Biscoe Hindman to Walter P. Scully of the 68x125 feet, east front, 141 feet north of Lawrence avenue, for an expressed consideration of $9,000.

Harrison B. Riley, president of the Chicago Title and Trust company, will be the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Chicago real estate board today, his subject being "Tax Reform."

J. H. FAHEY SEES GOOD TIMES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—Business conditions in the United States are steadily improving, President Wilson was told today by John H. Fahey, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States. Mr. Fahey said that some business was still depressed, but that general confidence had been restored and undoubtedly was having a good effect.

OKLAHOMA OFFERS $1,000 FOR EACH BANK ROBBER.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 13.—Five men are under arrest and the lower house of the state legislature has voted to appropriate $15,000 to be used for the suppression of bank robbery in the state as the result of the robbing of four banks in this section of the state in the last four days.

The latest robbery was that of the Vera State bank at Vera today, in which two bandits secured $1,500. This was preceded by the blowing of the safe of the State Bank of Garber early today, when the robbers made off with $7,500.

The house bill provides for the payment of $1,000 for each bank robber, dead or alive.

Good to choice beef steers made firm to 10c higher prices at Chicago yesterday, while less desirable lots held steady at Monday's decline. Receipts were 15,000 head, falling short of expectations and placing the market on a sounder basis than earlier in the week. Best steers offered made $9.25, while the bulk cleared at $7.25@8.60, low prices being due to the inferior quality of a large part of the supply. Cows and heifers showed little change and calves held steady at $10.25 for prime vealers.

Hog market opened at an advance of 5c, but lost most of the gain before the finish. The average price for the day was advanced 2c. Receipts of 40,000 head were moderate, and a fair clearance was effected at the prices, with tops at $7.00 and the bulk at $6.75@6.95.

Lambs sold at a decline of 15@25c and sheep suffered a setback of 10@15c on receipts of 20,000 head. The trade was dull, lacking the support of an aggressive outside demand. Lambs topped at $8.65 and yearlings sold up to $7.75, with a few at $8.00. Wethers sold at $6.25 and lower.

EASY TENDENCY IN EGG PRICES; TRADE IS SLOW

Values at Top Mark for Two Years, but Demand Falls Off.

Having touched the highest level in nearly two years, the egg market at Chicago yesterday developed an easier undertone, but values remained without change. Buyers showed less inclination to take hold and receipts of 7,516 cases cleared slowly. The arrivals were the largest reported in several weeks. Butter market was steady at former prices. Receipts were 6,957 tubs and the trade was fairly active.

White potatoes sold at a further loss of 1@2c a bushel, although receipts were reduced to 25 cars. Buyers took the more desirable offerings at 39@43c a bushel and neglected poor stock, of which there were many cars on track. Sweet potatoes were steady and little change was made in prices of green vegetables.

Live spring chickens sold at a decline of ½c a pound, while other kinds of live poultry held at former prices. Receipts were 8 cars and 1,105 coops, showing a material increase. Dressed poultry offerings were larger and the market had a weak undertone, although values were sustained without change.

Marshall on Sheridan road and other north side streets. Attorney A. S. [illegible] contends that an injunction cannot be issued since it is shown that no criminal offense has been committed.

Western Maryland and Missouri, Kansas and Texas.

A. B. Z., Dayton, O.—The $46,633,000 of Western Maryland first gold 4s are a first lien on 329 miles of road, a second lien on seventy-seven miles, and a collateral lien on 115 miles of leased line through a deposit of stocks. The inability of the road to meet the interest coupons on $16,000,000 of notes on Jan. 1, and the fact that these notes fall due next July, is depressing the price of the bonds.

The $30,551,000 St. Louis and Iron Mountain unified gold 4s are a first lien on 609 miles of road, a second lien on other lines, and are further secured by pledge of securities of face value of $33,185,800, but of much less market value.

D. O. E.—Probably Missouri, Kansas and Texas stock sells lower than Western Maryland because of uncertainty. Plans are on foot to separate the properties of the Western Maryland into three units: railroad lines, terminal properties, and coal properties. Holders of the defaulted notes are participating in these plans and presumably some way has been found of rearranging the capitalization and leaving a good equity to the stock. Whether the holders of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas notes due in May will consent to an extension is not known. These notes are not quoted presumably because there is no market for them.

Emerson-Brantingham.

M. D.—The preferred stocck of the Emerson-Brantingham company is speculative at present. A lean year in the agricultural implement business has made it impossible for the company to pay dividends on its $12,170,500 preferred stock and meet the sinking fund charge. The present company has been in operation only since Aug. 1, 1912. Its report for the first fifteen months showed total income of $1,785,560; interest on loans, $393,364; dividend, $1,064,919; surplus, $327,277. This surplus barely exceeded the preferred stock sinking fund requirement.

Unit Ownership.

A. A. J.—The "unit ownership" plan is usually unfavorable to the investor and favorable to the promoter. The investors finance the project. If it makes money they get part of the profits and the promoters get part. If it does not make money they lose their investment and the promoters lose nothing. The so-called "bond" is really a share of stocuk without voting power. If the company were already established and making money the proposition might have some standing as an investment. But as the whole thing is merely a project to turn a bog into a cranberry marsh, a purchase of "bonds" would be purely speculative.

Kresge & Company.

P. L. G.—S. S. Kresge & Co. paid the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on its preferred stock and 3 per cent on common on Jan. 2. In 1914 it paid 3 per cent on common. The sales of the company have shown a steady increase. In 1913 they were $13,258,228 and net profit was $869,686. The preferred stock is subject to retirement at 110, and $172,000 has been retired, leaving $1,828,000 outstanding July 1 last. There is $5,000,000 of common stock outstanding and no bonds. The stock is considered speculative.

Brief Answers to Correspondents.

J. B. B.—The mining stocks you ask about are highly speculative. We do not know when they will declare the next dividend nor how large it will be.

O. K.—The share you ask about is a trade coupon rather than an investment. Possibly the agent promised you a little more than the company authorized him to offer. This has been reviewed heretofore.

H. E. M.—Your purchase of United States Steel common is speculative. A safer investment would have been a bond.

C. A. B., Park Ridge—The copper stock you ask about is a speculation. The mine has yet to prove whether it can earn dividends.

J. & B.—The Lynchburg Foundry company of Lynchburg, Va., has withheld information about its affairs. Banks would not accept stock as collateral without full information.

E. B. B.—If you are buying land in California for growing olives and almonds you should go and see the property first and should also get an abstract of title.

CHICAGO BANK DIRECTOR FACES ATTACK IN HOUSE.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Henry B. Joy of Detroit, director of the Chicago Reserve bank, probably will be denounced on the floor of the house tomorrow by Representative Glass of Virginia, who has taken umbrage at the contents of a letter which the bank director recently mailed to every member of congress, including members of the senate.

Representative Lindbergh of Minnesota, who also was upbraided in the Joy letter for his activity in behalf of an investigation of the Chicago bank and the entire federal reserve system, may join in the denunciation tomorrow.

If not, then he will rise to a question of personal privilege at some later date, at which time he will criticise not only the directors of the Chicago bank but members of the federal reserve board as well.

INSURANCE MAN IN COURT ON CHARGES OF GIRL.

James M. Kralovec, 60 years old, an insurance agent, formerly a member of the board of education, appeared in the Court of Domestic Relations yesterday to answer to a serious charge brought by Miss Ludviga Novak, 25 years old, the mother of a boy born on July 30. Miss Novak says she was a domestic in the Kralovec home until April 10, 1914.

Mr. Kralovec is married and the father of four children. He says that the suit is an attempt at blackmail.

Miss Novak testified that when Mrs. Kralovec went to card parties in the afternoon, Mr. Kralovec would annoy her. When the family went to Union Pier, Mich., last summer, Miss Novak testified, and while the members of the family were working in the garden or were sailing on the lake, Mr. Kralovec made love to her.

HELD TO JURY AS COAT THIEF

Michael Moore of 328 West Madison street was held to the grand jury in $800 bonds yesterday on a charge of having stolen two overcoats from the new Casino club at Lake Shore drive and Delaware place.

One of the coats was identified by Dr. A. D. Friedman, a dentist with offices at 1600 West Twelfth street, and the other is said to belong to Roy Atherton of 3[illegible] Sheridan road, an architect. Both were guests of Miss Ethel McCormick at a dance at the club on Jan. 8, when the coats were stolen.

Moore asked for a jury trial.

OLD FORESTERS WIN CASE.

Watertown, N. Y., Jan. 13.—Supreme Court Justice E. C. Emerson handed down a decision today in a test case which affects all Foresters in the United States who joined the order prior to 1899. WIRE PRODUCTS ARE MARKED UP

Advance by U. S. Steel Subsidiary to Be Followed by Independents.

SHOWS BROAD MARKET.

The American Steel and Wire company, one of the subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation, has sent out a circular to its customers announcing an advance of $1 a ton in the price of wire products. Immediately following this action the independent wire manufacturers in western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio withdrew quotations below the levels announced by the American Steel and Wire.

The advance in prices is accepted as one of the forerunners of a further broadening in the market for steel products. It has been observed in the past that advances in prices have been coincident with increase in demand just as announcements of reductions have been coincident with lessened demand and a narrowing market.

That the steel and wire company is able to secure $1 more per ton and that its competitors within a few hours have followed its lead is regarded as concrete testimony of better business conditions. While it is probable the foreign demand has hastened the advance, still the rise in prices applies to domestic as well as foreign business.

Pacific Gas Notes.

The Pacific Gas and Electric company has sold $4,000,000 notes. This financing takes the form of 5 per cent one year notes dated Dec. 15, 1914, and secured by deposit of $5,000,000 general and first mortgage bonds and $5,000,000 general lien 6 per cent bonds, making the par value of the collateral 250 per cent of the loan.

It is announced that the proceeds of the notes will be used to retire a portion of the $7,000,000 one year 5 per cent notes due March 25, 1915. Of this issue about $2,000,000 was recently retired from the proceeds of the sale of preferred stock.

The stock market friends of the company are asserting after these notes are paid off the company will begin paying dividends at the rate of 4 per cent on the common stock. Last year the directors promised the shareholders of the company that if the latter would subscribe for 70 per cent of a new issue of preferred stock the directors would see to it that activity would be created in the stock market. The directors have not yet got around to this part of the arrangement, though they may begin speculative operations later in the year.

Automatic Electric Annual.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of the Automatic Electric company the following directors were elected: Joseph Harris, John B. Russell, Alexander E. Keith, Albert G. Wheeler, Harmon A. Harris, Grant Pelton.

The directors elected the following officers: President, Joseph Harris; vice presidents, John B. Russell, Harmon A. Harris, Grant Pelton; secretary, Walter I. Patton; treasurer, Joseph P. Hauck.

Copper Producers Dissolve.

At a meeting of the Copper Producers' association in New York yesterday it was voted to dissolve the association.

Following the breaking out of hostilities in Europe the usual monthly statistics issued by the association showing production, consumption, and stock on hand were discontinued. Since that time it has been reported the association itself was on the verge of dissolution and yesterday's action was confirmatory of this.

Standard for Fruits and Vegetables 7,056 Cubic Inches—Fine and Prison for Violation.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—For the first time in history the federal government will exercise its constitutional control of the weights and measures of the country under a bill agreed to today by the house and which already has passed the senate establishing a standard barrel for fruits, vegetables, and other dry commodities.

The standard barrel bill provides for a barrel with 28½ inch staves and 17⅛ inch heads made of material not thicker than four-tenths of an inch. However, any barrel having a capacity of 7,056 cubic inches will be considered standard. A separate standard is fixed for cranberry barrels.

A fine of $500 or imprisonment for six months is the penalty for violation.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Money and discount rates were easy. Prices on the stock exchange today maintained a steady undertone, most of the business being done in consols, war loans, and home rails. There was less buying in other issues which caused irregularity. Argentine railroads and oil shares were fractionally easier. The American department was quieter with Canadian Pacific hardening while other quotations were slightly lower than yesterday's closing.

Bar silver, 22 15-16d per ounce. Money 1 per cent. Discount rates: Short bills, 2⅛@2¼ per cent; three months, 2¼ per cent.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—Trading was quiet on the bourse today. Rentes, 73 francs for cash. Exchange on London, 25 francs 29 centimes.

BIGGER DEMAND BY INVESTORS

STOCKS SHOW LOSSES.

New York, Jan. 13.—Continued improvement in the investment situation was shown today in the increased demand for listed and unlisted bonds and notes at higher quotations. Other developments were the confirmation of a "credit loan" to the Russian government, receipt of a moderate amount of gold from China which was diverted from London because of the war, and the exportation of a nominal amount of French gold from London to this country.

Gold Imports Significant.

The Chinese gold imports are of significance for the reason that they inject a new phase into the foreign exchange situation, incidentally offering additional proof of New York's growing power as a financial center. Cuba is believed to be the ultimate destination of the French gold, but there are no signs that the movement is likely to assume formidable proportions.

Official figures dealing with our foreign trade show a handsome gain of exports over imports for the last calendar week, the excess amounting to over $35,000,000.

Stocks Show Losses.

Stocks inclined from an irregular tone to gradual heaviness, most important issues showing net losses. Trading was relatively light, with indications of liquidation for foreign account. Pressed Steel Car and a few other specialties declined abruptly on adverse dividend rumors.

Bonds held their recent gains on a fair amount of business. Total sales, par value, $2,002,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

Mercantile paper, 3¾@4. Sterling exchange barely steady; sixty day bills, 4.8115; for cables, 4.8425; for demand, 4.8375. Bar silver, 49¼c. Mexican dollars, 37½c. Time loans easier; sixty and ninety days, 3¼@3½; six months, 3½@3¾. Call money weak; high, 2; low, 1½; ruling rate, 2; last loan, 2; closing bid, 1½; offered at 2.

(Signed) FRANK S. DIETRICH,

BUSINESS, COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL SECTION

WHEAT FUTURES SCORE ADVANCE

Higher Spot Cables and Strong Cash Markets Are Bull Factors.

COARSE GRAINS LOWER.

Enormous profit taking in wheat was in evidence after a sharp bulge early yesterday, commission houses being heavy sellers at $1.40 and over. This resulted in some selling by local professionals, who bought early, and there was a break to $1.39. Later the absorptive power of the market was shown by the rapid recovery in prices, May finishing the session at $1.40⅝. Net gains for the day were 1⅞ to 2½@2⅝c.

The bull features were the continued strong cables; light country offerings, higher cash prices in all domestic markets, and the continued export demand. The market was able to take care of all the offerings and the closing figures were at only small recessions from the top prices for the day.

Export Sales, 1,500,000 Bu.

Total sales reported at the seaboard for export were 1,500,000 bu. Local sales were 165,000 bu. Mills are after No. 2 red wheat here and there is a big milling demand at others markets, mills outbidding the exporters in the west and southwest. Export sales yesterday included three cargoes of spring wheat and there were fair sales of durum. Some No. 2 hard wheat was sold via the gulf at 6c over Chicago May f. o. b. gulf for Feburary shipment and 7c over for March shipment.

Cash dealers reported light country offerings in all directions. Receipts at Kansas City were only 39 cars and stocks there decreased 381,000 bu so far this week. Minneapolis stocks decreased 200,000 bu for four days and Duluth decreased 42,000 bu for three days.

Russian Port Stocks Light.

There is less fear displayed in regard to the possible opening of the Dardanelles, as reports indicate there will be little wheat shipped from Russia for some time even if the straits are opened. Italy is reported a big buyer of wheat in this country and also in Argentina. Three foreign governments were reported negotiating for wheat in this country yesterday. Liverpool spot cables were 1@1½d higher and there was a good demand. Liverpool cables were to the effect the foreign requirements would not diminish for some time.

Receipts here were 104 cars, and the inspection yesterday showed 112 cars in. Primary arrivals were 883,000 bu, against 610,000 bu a year ago. Northwest receipts were 319 cars, or 10 more than a year ago, and Winnipeg had 91 cars, or 11 more than a year ago. Ware-Leland, Cudahy brokers, and commission houses in general sold on the first advance to $1.40 for May. Logan-Bryan, Chapin, Armour, and Perry-Price were leading buyers.

Corn Traders Are Bearish.

Corn was heavy during the forepart of the session, but recovered part of the early losses when wheat turned strong in the last hour. Resting prices were ⅛@¼c to ⅛c off. Cash prices were not much changed. There was a fair demand for shipment and sales were 445,000 bu, including 200,000 bu taken for export. Country offerings were fair and receipts were large, 585 cars being inspected in yesterday. Primary receipts were 2,261,000 bu, or about three times as much as a year ago.

Liverpool cables were ⅜@1d up for futures and 1d up for spot wheat. Clearances were 112,000 bu. Argentine offerings were reported light. Local traders were sellers of corn and there was indifferent support. On the decline there was fair commission house buying. Weather conditions are fine and country offerings are expected to continue large.

Oats Follow Corn Lead.

Oats followed corn early, prices easing off sharply from an early rally. Later there was moderate buying and prices rallied, closing ⅛@¼c lower for the day. The cash demand was fair here and there were sales of 245,000 bu.

Offerings from the country are moderate. Receipts were 201 cars, with 264 cars inspected yesterday. Primary receipts were 1,090,000 bu, against 765,000 bu a year ago. Clearances for the day were only 17,000 bu. There have been charters for two steamers to load with oats at the seaboard.

Packers Sell Provisions.

Stockyards houses and packers were credited with selling products early and there was an easy tone to the provisions market throughout most of the session. On the break Armour was credited with buying a little stuff. Hog receipts are expected to continue large, and the cash trade is not especially active, while the output is heavy.

Receipts here were 43,000 and the market at the yards closed 5c off, after being a little higher early. The estimate for today was 39,000. Western receipts were 113,800, against 97,400 a year ago. Liverpool prices were unchanged for meats, with January lard up 10½d and cash lard 6d higher. Receipts here of products were 39 cars, and shipments were 116 cars.

Rye at New Record.

An advance of 1@2c brought rye prices to a new high level for the crop year, with sales at $1.14½@1.15½ for No. 2. No. 3 sold at $1.15 and sample grade at $1.14@1.15. Sales of 30,000 bu were reported made for export. Receipts, 13 cars.

Barley was firm at 70@75c for malting, 69½@70c for feed, and 62@68c for screenings. Receipts, 49 cars.

Timothy seed held firm at $6.00@7.50 for cash. March timothy was $7.90 bid and $8.00 asked. Clover seed was unchanged at $10.00@15.00 for cash.

Duluth flax closed 3¼c higher, with cash on track $1.79⅝ and May $1.81¼. Receipts, 9 cars. Minneapolis was 2⅝c higher at $1.78¾@1.81¼ for cash on track. Receipts, 12 cars. Winnipeg closed 2½c higher at $1.53⅝ for January and $1.50⅝ for May. Receipts, 17 cars.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

It is becoming more difficult to buy wheat owing to lack of offerings. Cash prices were boosted here 1½c over the prices of Tuesday relative to the May. There were good sales of red winter wheat to mills and No. 2 hard and No. 2 red were May price to ½c over. The country offerings continue light. At Minneapolis 4c over May was bid to the country for No. 1 northern to arrive in February. Kansas City wired that mills were outbidding exporters for wheat and that not much was being sold to arrive or being consigned from the country. Omaha reported the same state of affairs. Local sales were 165,000 bu wheat and the seaboard reported 1,500,000 bu taken in all positions, there being a particularly good demand for spring wheat. According to present indications, exporters will make big inroads into stocks at Buffalo. Already considerable wheat that was shipped to Buffalo to hold in boats until spring has been sold for prompt shipment.

English cables to McKenna-Rodgers said that the opening of the Dardanelles would have no immediate effect in increasing the export grain movement from Russia. The majority of vessel owners were aware of the probability of the Dardanelles being closed for some time before they were, and consequently had their boats out of the Black sea. With the big demand for vessels in others directions it will be a considerable time before there would be any big tonnage available for the Black sea ports. Broomhall cabled that there was a great lack of wagons and horses, owing to the war, and that there had been only a moderate amount of grain marketed. Port stocks are said to be light in Russia. However, Broomhall states there would be a considerable amount of grain immediately available from Roumania and Bulgaria.

Peyton Carr, president of the Kehlor Milling company of St. Louis, one of the largest mills in the southwest, was a visitor here yesterday. He reported a good domestic trade for flour. The export demand has been limited by the difficulties of securing ocean transportation. Otherwise, there would be big sales made abroad.

Cash corn prices were not much changed. Receipts continue heavy and this is checking the demand to some extent. Shippers reported sales of 445,000 bu, including 200,000 bu for export. Country acceptances were fair. In the southwest receipts are not heavy, but total primary arrivals are nearly three times as large as a year ago. Oats were ½c higher early, but closed about steady. Sales of oats were 185,000 bu. There was a good export inquiry, but no sales were reported.

Indications are there will be a substantial decrease in the visible supply the coming week. Minneapolis and Duluth will probably both show a loss and the big clearances should soon result in decreases at the shipping ports. Chicago continues to ship freely while receipts are moderate. Yesterday Kansas City received only 39 cars, and receipts at Omaha, Kansas City, and St. Louis were only 162,000 bu, while shipments were 491,000 bu.

Twenty loads of hard winter wheat were sold yesterday for shipment via the gulf at 6c over Chicago May for February shipment and 7c over May for March shipment f. o. b. gulf.

A Liverpool cable said there were no indications of any diminishing requirements for wheat in importing countries in the near future.

Winnipeg wired that Ontario millers were good buyers. Montreal reports acceptances at a shilling more than the day previous.

Charters were made yesterday for five cargoes, two boats to load oats and three to load wheat.

William H. Cuunington made aplication for membership on the board of trade.

No. 2 red wheat at St. Louis sold at $1.38 yesterday, or 2c over the May.

STEEL MILLS ARE BUSIER; SPECIFICATIONS BETTER.

New York, Jan. 13.—[Special.]—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

"Steel works are increasing slightly their rate of operations and for this week a number of large companies are running at 40 and 50 per cent of capacity. The Steel corporation's percentage is 49, and it may be able to increase this shortly to 50, as specifications are rather better. The trade through the first half of January has brought no new turn.

"Wage readjustments, affecting principally the highest paid men, are being made by a number of steel companies and are an inevitable result of the long depression and the low priced business on which mills will be working for three months and probably longer.

"Rail buying thus far and that in prospect give no assurance of more than partial employment for rail mills through the winter. One large system, in fact, aims to avoid any January and February rollings because of suspected effects of extremely low temperatures."

COMPILES DATA ON RISKS.

The committee on statistics and workmen's compensation cost of the National Association of Industrial Accident Boards and Commissions compiled statistics of the classes of insurance risks and determined the cost of the various classes of insurance at a meeting in the Hotel La Salle yesterday. The committee was appointed by the association on Tuesday and an effort will be made to have all the states approve the statistics compiled by the committee. The next meeting will be held in Seattle, Wash., in September.

REINBERG DEFENDS CHOICE OF HOSPITAL STAFF OF 23.

President Peter Reinberg of the county board yesterday denied the charges made at the Chicago Medical society meeting on Tuesday night that he had been influenced by politics in selecting the consulting staff of the County hospital.

"My selections were made upon recommendations of the best authorities I could find," said Mr. Reinberg. "I asked each of the five larger medical schools in the city to name three men. I named five men from the Chicago Medical society. Three men were selected by the officials of the American College of Surgeons.

"Cook county is spending more than $800,000 a year to operate its hospital. The plant itself represents an investment of about $5,000,000. There is only one way in which the county can expect to secure a return for these large sums of money beyond the good done in relieving pain and suffering. This is in advancing scientific research in medicine and surgery.

"I believe the consulting staff I appointed fairly represents the best men in the medical and surgical professions in Chicago."

N. Y. RAIL HEADS' CASE TO GO TO GRAND JURY.

New York, Jan. 13.—After all but one of the fifteen officers and directors of the Interborough Rapid Transit company had furnished bond of $1,000 each today for their appearance on charges of culpable negligence returned by a coroner's jury yesterday, District Attorney Perkins said he would bring the case to the grand jury's attention as soon as a transcript of the minutes of the coroner's inquest reaches him.

The verdict of the jury was the outcome of its investigation of a recent elevated railroad wreck in which two persons were killed and others injured.

Theodore P. Shonts, president, tonight issued a statement giving figures to show that during the five years, six months, and twelve days ended yesterday the elevated and subway lines operated by the Interborough had carried a total of 3,370,478,129 persons, of whom only four had been killed as the result of train operation.
